"Ma" Stribling Kept Son From Football

By AL DEMAREE

(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Young Stribling is probably the modern world's busiest athlete.

'Ma' Stribling is the modern counterpart of the Spartan mothers of ancient day who sent their sons into battle with a smile. She has seconded her boy in over four hundred fights her famous son has engaged in during the short space of eight years.

"Ma" and "Pa" Stribling, who are really "Grandpa" and "Grandma" Stribling, are now busily engaged in making Young Stribling, Jr aged two years, into a future champion.

"Pa" Stribling" daily trains the youngster in acrobatic stunts that are the envy of many an adult athlete.

This Stribling family is in many respects the strangest combination in the history of boxing.

I asked "Ma" Stribling one day whether her athletic son had ever engaged in any other sports

"He always liked football when he was in high school," she answered, "but I would not let him play It was too dangerous."

And this from the mother of the lad who has traded punches with some of the toughest fighters in the world on an average of every ten days.

HIGH SCHOOLS TO CLASH IN SHIELD MATCH TOMORROW

The second grass hockey match for the May Tully Shield, between the Victoria and Oak Bay High Schools will be played tomorrow afternoon at the Victoria High School grounds at 3 30 o'clock.

Victoria High captured the first game of the series, and if they come through in the second contest will take possession of the shield for the ensuing year If Oak Bay wins tomorrow a third game will be necessary to decide the holders of the shield.

Both teams have been practising hard and a great game is expected to take place.

Referees Appointed For Allan Cup Finals

TORONTO, March 16—President W A Fry, of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, announced last night that Harry Watson, Toronto, and Stan Burgoyne, Fort William, will referee the Allan Cup finals at Winnipeg, March 26 and 28.

Ripley Explains His Perplexing 'Apple Problem'

THE following is Cartoonist Ripley's explanation of the "apple problem," which appeared in The Colonist a few days ago:

The Problem—Three boys each had apples to sell. One had 85 apples; one had 50 apples; one had 15 apples. They sold their apples at the same rate and each received the same amount of money. At what price were the apples sold?

Solution—The apples were sold at the rate of one cent a dozen, in even dozens, and three cents for each apple over the even dozen. Thus each boy received ten cents for his apples

MAINLANDERS CAPTURE GRASS HOCKEY TITLE

Defeat Islanders by Score of Three to One in Final Match for O. B. Allan Cup

TAKE SERIES BY EIGHT TO THREE

The Mainland grass hockey team proved too strong for the Vancouver Islanders and won the final game for the O. B. Allan Cup by three goals to one on the Cranmore Road grounds yesterday afternoon, despite the fact that Rhodes, captain of the visiting players, twisted his kneecap before half-time and had to retire from the field for the rest of the game The win gave the Mainlanders the series, 8-3, they having won the first game at Vancouver by 5 to 2.

The visitors got to work early despite the fact that the sun was in their faces for the first half. Three minutes after the ball started to move Jones drew first blood for the Mainland with a well-directed shot from the edge of the "D" Finnie added to the score shortly afterwards when he smacked home the ball from close range

By this time the Islanders had settled down to business and Parr scored nicely after some pretty passing by the Island forwards On several occasions Hodgson took the ball up the right wing and sent in some splendid centres, which should have been scored off

During the second half Finnie further increased the visitors' lead by one goal Williams played an excellent game for the Islanders, and the team finished the game with far more co-operation than they showed at the outset. The Mainland men, however, played better hockey and showed a greater turn of speed.

N Staples and J H. Morrison refereed and the teams were Mainland — Sands, Rhodes, Hudson, Farmer, Browne, Millener, Des-Brisay, Jones, Plumbly, Finnie and Abercrombie.

Vancouver Island—Bird, Williams, Springett Dunbar, Cassells, Courage Dunlop, Parr, Grant, Denny, Hodgson

Gordon Regains Title

MANILA March 16—Billy Gordon, of Portland, Ore., won the featherweight boxing championship of the Orient here tonight by defeating Lee Pazion, Filipino of Manila, in fifteen rounds

Gordon, in obtaining the decision, recovered his title lost to Pazion on a foul, February 16

Capture Pair of Rugby Championships

ABOVE is pictured the crack Boys' Central Rugby team, which captured The Daily Colonist Cup, emblematic of the city school championship, and the Cowichan Rugby Trophy for a team averaging 120 pounds in weight. Centrals piled up an enviable record in the two series, and one that should be hard for any team to beat Under the coaching of Principal Ernest Sutterworth they amassed 179 points, while only three points were chalked up against them. Those who had the opportunity of seeing them in action last Wednesday, when they defeated University 15-0 in the final of the Cowichan series, were greatly impressed with the brand of Rugby they produced, and if the keenness shown can be taken as any criterion for future games, then Victoria should be able to field a team, which will make any of the Mainland squads take notice. Reading from left to right, back row, George Hughes, Kenneth Custance, John O'Connell, John Phillion, George McBratney, Tom Doswell, Howard Anderson, front row, left to right, Sid Gaunt, Len Parkin, Billie Holland, Alex Gaunt (captain), Doug Laird, Nick Alexis, Earl Barnswell and Len Parsons.

Final Test Match Won by Australia by Five Wickets

Don Bradman and Ryder Finish Out Fifth Cricket Fixture Against England—30,000 Fans Surge on Field at End of Game

MELBOURNE, March 16 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's) — Australia today, by winning the fifth cricket test match from England, crowned a week's effort which for grit and determination surpassed anything in the history of the pastime Their victory amply vindicated their cricket honor after four reverses Strengthening their citadel with palisades of youth and playing patiently day after day, the Antipodeans defied the mighty team from England which has swept through the country with triumph after triumph The game here was a lengthy siege which sometimes exasperated Australian fans with its slowness, but it baulked the Englishmen of the chances of winning five test matches in one series.

Remarkable scenes followed the getting of the runs by J. S Ryder, the Australian captain, today, which brought the Australian total to 776 as against England's aggregate of 778 Many of the crowd of thirty thousand surged over the ground and surrounded Ryder and his youthful partner, Don Bradman, chairing them on their shoulders in triumph toward the pavilion.

In an interview, Captain Ryder said that Australia had gleaned much useful experience from the test matches this season and he expected the team to have a successful tour in England in 1930

UNGRUDGING PRAISE

J. C White, who captained the English team in the absence of A. P Chapman, who was ill when the match opened, gave ungrudging praise to his conquerors and said that while it would have been nice to go through the test series without a defeat he believed the victory was most deserved

Ryder and Kippax reopened the Australian innings today and began to steadily wipe out the deficit of 113 runs Kippax brought his effort to a close by being ingloriously run out. He tried to stretch a three into a four. Leyland, who fielded the ball, got it back with a most accurate throw to Tate, who broke the wicket. Don Bradman joined Ryder, and they hit out the thirty-seven runs required for a win by five wickets.

The wicket was perfect today, and on it the English bowlers were at a disadvantage They stuck to their task manfully and the attack was vigorous and unrelaxed until it was seen the Australians must win.

Scores today were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Kippax | 28 |
| Ryder, not out | 57 |
| Bradman, not out | 37 |

Innings scores were:

England, 519 and 257; Australia 491 and 287 for five wickets.

GOLF

AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

What general tip can you give to improve a golfer's game?

DAVID BROWN

One thing which causes a lot of extra strokes for a good many pretty fair players is a set of clubs which have slightly bent shafts. Very often these shafts are bent because the golfer stuffs his golf shoes in his bag after the game is over Time and again I have seen this happen My advice to golfers is Keep nothing but your clubs in your golf bag and your score is likely to drop two to five strokes, just because your clubs are in better condition.

International Rugby Is Won by Scotland

Highlanders Defeat English Representatives, 12-6, to Capture Championship—75,000 Fans See Match at Edinburgh

EDINBURGH, Scotland, March 16—Scotland defeated England in an international Rugby match here today by 13 to 6

The victory gave Scotland the championship of the Great Britain-Ireland-France series Scotland also pulled up level with England in the number of wins in international games between the two countries which began in 1871. Both have won twenty-one games

The match was played at Murray Field in dull weather in the presence of 75,000 people The field was fast

Scotland attacked at the outset and forced their way into English territory A fine kick by Aslett relieved the situation England finally improved and scored a try in the seventh minute after a good movement by the backs, which resulted in Novis getting possession and going over just inside the corner flag Harris could not convert Scotland pressed heavily for a time and the English line had many escapes.

At the beginning of the second half Scotland went on the offensive, but were denied a score until the fourteenth minute Nelson then slipped over for a try which Allan could not convert Four minutes later Aslett punted and the ball hit Athison and was then kicked over the Scottish line Meikle rushed up and fell on it. Novis could not convert Three minutes later Brown scored for Scotland Again no conversion followed From a line-out Smith dashed down the field and went over for Scotland near the corner Bannerman failed to convert In the closing minutes Smith scored an unconvertable try for Scotland

HUGHEY CRITZ NAMED CAPT. OF THE REDS

Pepperpot, of Cincinnati, Is Selected by Hendricks to Take Hargrave's Position for 1929 Season

OLDEST PLAYER ON THE CLUB'S ROSTER

(Special to The Colonist)

NEW YORK, March 16—Hughey Critz is going to be in the middle of things this Summer with the Cincinnati Reds. Manager Jack Hendricks has announced that the little Cincinnati pepperpot is to be his field captain as well as play second base

It looks like a wise move on the part of the mentor Short or second is the logical spot from which a field captain should function. He doesn't have to come running in from the outfield to talk to the pitcher. The whole strategy of play revolves around him.

Critz has other recommendations He is smart, aggressive and loyal to his employers. As captain he will keep the team keyed up and be able to outguess the other fellow. Perhaps most important of all, he has winning for the club at heart. He ought to communicate his spirit to others.

Little Hughey deserves the job on seniority of service He is the oldest player with the Reds in a baseball sense—about to enter upon his sixth season under the Rhineland banner He had a great campaign last season, not missing a single game, batting nearly 300 and fielding brilliantly

"Bubbles" Hargrave was his captain for the past two years. Before that Eddie Roush held the berth until traded to the Giants.

SCHOOL TEAMS TO CLASH IN SOCCER FINAL ON MONDAY

Esks' Three Goals in First Prove Too Much For Cubs to Overcome

Leacock Saves Victoria From Whitewash With Marker in Second Period—"Taps" Sounded in Memory of Late Pete Muldoon

SEATTLE, March 16—Seattle stepped a point ahead of the Portland Buckaroos here tonight when it defeated the Victoria Cubs by a 3-1 score before 4,000 fans. The game was the first the Eskimos had played without Pete Muldoon, their internationally-known leader, who passed away in Tacoma on Wednesday. The game was held up for a moment, the crowd standing at attention while a bugler played "taps" for the popular pilot. Bill Borland, captain of the team, was in charge of the Eskimos for the night.

ERNIE LEACOCK

The Eskimos played like men possessed in the first period, when in rapid succession they rolled in all their three goals. Then they settled back to play a tight defensive game, keeping a man back in the old rover position much of the evening

They had to be lucky as well as careful, however, for the Cubs never quit trying They staged two great five-minute rallies, one in each of the last periods in which they tested Porky Levine with everything in the book. Porky did a great job of it, but luck was with him, too, as shots that looked to be goals went harmlessly to one side.

Ernie Leacock scored the only Victoria goal in the second period when he picked up a rebound from a shot by Paul Runge and rang the bell.

Cec Browne accepted a pass from Dan Daly to score the first Eskimo goal Robertson was fooled by the speedy shot that the league's leading scorer sent home.

Ancient Bill Borland scored the second one when from close in he pushed one between Robby's skates, while a sizzling backhand shot from Jack Walker scored the third counter.

The Line-Ups

Lays Claim to World's Flyweight Title

EMILE SPIDER PLADNER

the French flyweight, who dropped Frank Genaro, of New York, flyweight champion of the world according to the N B A., for a knockout in the first forty-seven seconds of their flyweight championship bout. As Pladner has already knocked out Johnny Hill, the flyweight champion of England and Europe, in a bout at the class weight, defeated Izzy Schwartz, of New York, in a bout at catchweights, his claim to the much disputed title must take precedence to all other claims.

AMATEUR SOCCER WON BY ENGLAND

Defeats Scotland Three to One in International Match—Kail Scores Twice

LEEDS, Eng., March 16—Amateur soccer teams representing England and Scotland met here today in an international match, the English team winning, 3-1.

Scotland got going first, Gates clearing up a dangerous situation. After several fruitless attacks in which Walker distinguished himself by stopping the English thrusts, Aston got past him and scored. The English forwards played strongly and again the Scottish backs had a bad time.

A good run by Doggero and Hegan went for nothing, when Walker stole the ball. The rest of the half saw some poor fofotball. Scotland pressed hard at the beginning of the second half, McDonald and Chalmers working through the English defence Gates put the ball through his own goal in a scramble for the equaliser. Knight made a clever run through the entire Scottish defence, but finished with a badly placed shot. England's next score came through Kail, following a splendid running pass to him by Morris Kail netted again five minutes from the finish England dominated the play to the end and only fine work by Small, in the Scottish goal, held the score down.

BETTING BILL IS INTRODUCED IN EASTERN HOUSE

FINE OF $5,000 WOULD BE IMPOSED

(Special to The Colonist)

NEW YORK, March 16—A bill prohibiting betting of any kind on the race tracks in Maryland has been introduced in the Legislature now sitting at Annapolis. This measure which is backed by powerful influences, would hold officers of corporations owning the courses at Pimlico, Laurel, Bowie and Harve de Grace jointly responsible for enforcement of the proposed law.

Persons or corporations violating the law, on conviction, would be subject to a fine of $5,000 and a year in jail The licence of the offending track also would be suspended for a period of twelve months. Should the bill be passed by the Legislature and become a law, it would be effective June 1.

The present Maryland racing law which permits pari-mutuel betting, calls for a daily licence fee of $6,000 for each track and a tax of fifteen per cent on the total revenue for the year. Last season there were ninety-two days of racing in Maryland, and the State treasury received in licence fees and taxes a total of $716,661, a new high water mark It was estimated that more than $50,000,000 passed through the mutuel machines, which gave the four big tracks $3,000,000 in commissions on a six per cent basis

Friends of racing in Maryland are prepared to defend the present law by pointing out the benefits accruing from this revenue which, in the event of hostile legislation, would be wiped out.

COFFROTH HANDICAP TO BE RUN AT TIJUANA TODAY

Twenty-Five Horses May Face Starter in Richest Stake Event

Genie Still Favorite to Cop Classic at Southern Track—Winner Will Take Down Pot of $100,000—Formidable Field Entered

(Special to The Colonist)

TIJUANA RACE TRACK, March 16.—The list of equine thoroughbreds that will face Starter Marshall Cassidy tomorrow in the Coffroth Handicap, the world's richest prize, may be one of the largest that ever went postwards, from the appearance of the last-minute overnight cards. The race is wide open, the experts declare, with perhaps ten of the twenty-five candidates named having a royal chance to take down the pot of over $100,000. It is a magnificent chance. That is why this year's field is not only dazzling in splendor but so populous in numbers. Fourteen races are on tomorrow's programme. Racing will start at 10.45 a.m.

Genie, the great son of Man-of-War, from the stable of Gifford A. Cochrane, continues to rule as favorite, his performances having been such in the past year that, despite his top weight, he still holds favor with the fans.

GENIE PRESSED FOR FAVOR

Genie is being pressed, however, by such noted thoroughbreds as Camden's Hydromel, W. R. Coe's Algernon; the Wilshire stable's Naishapur, winner of the $30,000 Tijuana Derby a fortnight ago, Alexander Pantages, California-bred horse, and Vermajo, winner of the rich New Orleans Derby, who will carry the red, white and blue silks of the Three D. stables. These horses are getting the major consideration in the race.

Together with a dozen or so other stars they will make up the backbone of the field that will go to the post in quest of fame and riches.

The Coffroth Handicap carries with it a glamour that few other stakes possess. Run annually in Old Mexico, it has rapidly become the leading stake of the world in point of money hung up for the determination of the true quality of the thoroughbred.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 16 (By Canadian Press).—There's going to be a real horse race tomorrow afternoon when Starter Marshall Cassidy gives the signal for the big field in the $100,000 Coffroth Handicap, which with added money will net the winner $125,000 to $130,000. The distance is a mile and a quarter.

The opinion had got about that the great Man-of-War's fine son Genie, sent out from New York by Gifford A. Cochran, of Mount Kisco, N.Y., under the guidance of "Uncle Henry" McDaniel, trainer, might now be able to make a good showing. He had not shown much in his races here. But today the buzz of every conversation at the track centred on the brilliant workout which the big colt turned in yesterday with his Coffroth jockey, Willie Kelsay, and the full Coffroth impost of 126 pounds on his back. His mile in 1:37—unofficial, of course, but caught by several watches—was a fraction better than the track record for that distance, held jointly by Little Chief of other days and the brilliant Ervast of this Spring, now out of the Coffroth because of an infection which took him out of training. So they all figure now that Genie is going to do a lot of running tomorrow.

A FORMIDABLE LOT

So also, it is believed, will a bunch of other fine horses, somewhat less famous than Genie, who have done a lot in the East but track heroes just the same. These include Senator J. N. Camden's big Hydromel, a stretch-running giant; Vermajo, hero of a big battle in the New Orleans Handicap this Winter; Doctor Wilson, Western colt who won last year's Tijuana Derby; Voltear, hope of the Wingfield, Nev., stock farm; Juggler, an Eastern crack of the Rosedale stable; Harry Unna's brilliant Golden Prince, who started out as a selling plater and now has risen to heights never predicted for him a year ago; Valkyr, young mare from the same stable as Genie; W. R. Coe's Algernon, who recently has shown a lot of speed; Rudolph Spreckels' Soother, on whom some of the best experts pin much hope. Alexander Pantages, owned by the theatre man for whom he is named, and several others.

TIJUANA, Mexico, March 16 (By United Press).—The greatest stake a horse race ever carried—$100,000 added—will call twenty or more of the world's fast thoroughbreds to the post in the tenth annual running of the Coffroth Handicap here tomorrow.

The winner of the event will take away between $98,000 and $102,000, depending on the number elected to start when the roll is called in the morning, and 25,000 racing fans, most of them with their hearts and pocketbooks on a favorite, will watch the horses run the mile and a quarter.

Genie, owned by G. A. Cochrane, will carry most of the money. Due to his seasonal record and his test runs here, he was quoted at 3 to 1 by the bookmakers tonight.

Genie will be ridden by Willie Kelsay, whose twelve years' experience will stand him well in the crowded field tomorrow. Genie will carry the greatest weight, 126 pounds.

Golden Prince, of the Sunshot stable, said to be good at any distance and who had taken seven purses so far this season, will be backed heavily.

Golden Prince never has tried the mile and a quarter but, carrying only 112 pounds, he promises to give Genie and the others plenty of trouble.

Hydromel, owned by Senator J. N. Camden, Alexander Pantages, named after the theatre magnate to whose stable he belongs, and Doctor Wilson, who carries the colors of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, are other favorites.

Tonight hotels in San Diego and Agua Caliente were jammed with the thousands who will pour out of the fourteen-race programme tomorrow. Clear weather and a fast track were promised by the forecaster.

Bambino Adopts New Stance as Home Run Help

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16.—Babe Ruth is experimenting with a new batting stance which he hopes will increase his home run output as well as his batting average. The home run king of the Yankees is now standing about a foot further away from the plate so that he can "lean on" balls in the groove and on the inside, and tap wide ones into left for singles. The Babe tried out the new stance against the Braves yesterday and hit two singles.

Toronto Marlboros Win Title Again

TORONTO, March 16.—Toronto Marlboros are junior champions of the Ontario Hockey Association for the second year in succession. Going into their second game with Kitchener last night with a two-goal lead obtained in Kitchener, Toronto was defeated 3-2, but won the round 4-3. The victors now will meet the Soo Greyhounds, the Northern Ontario Association champions, here on March 18 and 20. The winners of this series meet the winners of the Ottawa Shamrock-Montreal Victoria in the Eastern Canadian final home and home games, March 23 and 25.

BAYS DEFEAT COLLEGE IN FINE MATCH

Intermediate Rugby Champions Put Up Hard Fight Against Senior Titleholders but Lose 6-0

OARSMEN CHALK UP TRY IN EACH HALF

A try in each half gave the J.B.A.A., senior Rugby champions, a 6-0 victory over the Victoria College, intermediate titleholders, in the exhibition match played yesterday at the Willows oval. With ideal weather and ground conditions, the teams put up an interesting game, which attracted a fair crowd of fans.

Despite the fact that the Bays are a grade higher than their opponents they knew they were in a game and had to display all their knowledge to come through with a victory. The intermediates put everything they had into the fray, but the more experienced oarsmen held them at bay, although forced to the utmost at times.

Bays fielded a team minus three of their regulars, Campbell Forbes, Art Webster and Tiny Watson, but they filled in with three veterans, Dan Parfitt, Hunnings and Buller.

College appeared to be somewhat nervous of the Bays in the early play and their work, accordingly, suffered. After a short time, however, the stage fright wore off and they made things extremely interesting for the blueshirts.

BAYS' PACK GOOD

It was the Bays' pack that gave them the edge. With more weight and more knowledge, the oarsmen's forwards heeled from almost every scrum and gave their threes plenty of chances to get in runs. Both their trys came from well-engineered three-quarter runs. College backs seldom had the ball.

Bays started off on the attack and some good three-quarter work brought play into the College territory. After fifteen minutes of play, during which J.B.A.A. broke over twice, only to have twenty-five kicks awarded, Henry Cockin made a splendid opening, carried the ball about ten yards and passed to Roy Gaunt, who scored behind the goal. Frank Skillings' kick hit the upright and bounced back. For a time College pressed and several times looked dangerous, but the Bays' defence held. Just on the whistle Bays had a glaring chance to score with two men in the clear, with only about five yards to make, but Skillings fumbled a somewhat faulty pass from Caviness.

Play shifted from one line to the other for the first twenty minutes of the second half, with each team getting about an even break. College were awarded a free and Ruttan tried a place kick, but the ball swerved wide of the mark. After a session on the defence Bays attacked, and Frampton made a splendid attempt to drop a goal, but his kick was blocked. College had tough luck on this play when one of their forwards scooped up the ball with no one to beat, but he stumbled and lost the chance.

SKILLINGS GETS TRY

Bays' second score came soon after McMillan tried a drop goal from a free kick. Following a scrum, the Bays' backs got into action and Frank Skillings scored after Cockin had again made a splendid opening. Frampton's kick for the extra points was short. College tried hard in the remaining minutes to get over and were pressing the Bays hard at the whistle.

Captain Coventry refereed and the teams were:

Victoria College—Patterson, Hume, McIlmoyl, Hayward, Ruttan, Ellis, Godwin, Landrum, Rogers, Monteski, Walton, Hall, Raynor, Maconachie and Young.

J.B.A.A.—Frampton, Gaunt, Caviness, Cockin, Skillings, Hunnings, McLean, McMillan, Mawhood, D. Parfitt, Johnson, Goad, Buller, Warnock and Locke.

MRS. HEW PATERSON CONTINUES TO SHOW GREAT GOLF DISPLAY

Mrs. Hew Paterson continued her sensational golf display of recent weeks Friday at the Victoria Golf Club, when she won the "A" class monthly par competition finishing all square. It was Mrs. Paterson's fifth straight victory. There were tied in class "B" Mrs. Unsworth, Mrs. Barber-Starkey and Miss Joan Hutchinson, each being five down.

OAK BAY TO MEET UPLANDS TEAMS IN MATCH NEXT SUNDAY

The annual team match between Uplands and the Victoria Golf Club will be played next Sunday, with the "A" team at Oak Bay, and the "B" squad at Uplands. Victoria Golf Club members wishing to play in this match are asked to advise the secretary or professional.

Roller Hockey

The Empress Avenue roller hockey team won a close game from the James Bay Rovers yesterday afternoon by a score of 3-0. Bloomfield netted both goals for the winners, one being on an assist from Holness. The teams were:

James Bay — Crump, Duncan, Warren, Burrowes, Alexander, U. Lee and White.

Empress Avenue—Proby, Anderson, Trivy, Haggart, Bloomfield, Holness and McConnell.

Jackson Cup Soccer Games Won by City And Victoria West

Greenshirts Humble Five C's 3-2 at Beacon Hill—Esquimalt Field Nine Men and Go Under 1-0 at Hands of Victoria City

Victoria City and Victoria West advanced to the second round of the Jackson Cup soccer series yesterday by wins over Esquimalt and the Five C's, respectively. At the Royal Athletic Park, Cameron's lone goal, just before half-time, gave the City a 1-0 victory over the Dockers, who were playing with nine men, whereas the Greenshirts humbled the C's, 3-2, at Beacon Hill. Both games were played in ideal weather conditions and before good crowds.

When Surtees, new centre forward for the Victoria West football eleven, took Pat Mulcahy's perfect centre and banged it past Coxworth, the Five C's goalie, ten minutes before time, to give the Greenshirts a 3-2 win yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill, it meant the passing of the Churchmen from further competition in the Jackson Cup series. Twice the C's took the lead and a like number of times the winners retaliated and tied the count.

The C's went down fighting for they played their best game of the season, and during the first half had Dr. Poynts's band of footballers played off their feet, although the score at the interval was one-all. Play reversed late in the second half and the Greenshirts had the upper hand, knowing that defeat meant no further Jackson Cup games.

SURTEES IS HERO

To Surtees, who recently came out from the Old Country, the Wests owe their victory, for not only did he turn in a stellar performance, but drove home the equalizer early in the last stanza and then set about to crash in the winning goal. Time and again he sent across accurate passes to his teammates on the forward line, but they didn't take advantage of them and shot wide most of the time.

To him, also, goes the honor of having the opening shot of the tussle shortly after the whistle, but it was wide of the posts. The C's started with ten men, Harwood coming on five minutes after the start. Hamer, centre for the Churchmen, missed a good opportunity with no one but Hetherington to beat, but missed the goal with a fast shot.

The Wests drew first blood. "Red" Hawkes centred, "Scotty" Robinson whipped it over to Mulcahy, who sent in a terrific daisy cutter that caught the right-hand corner of the net. Not long after the kick-off the C's checked home the equalizer when Bob Shanks carried the leather down his wing, passed over to Barnswell, who scored the prettiest goal of the game. His shot crashed into the right-hand corner after Hetherington made a valiant attempt to save.

PENALTY SHOT HITS POST

The half line of the C's was breaking up many dangerous forward plays and was feeding the front line with perfect passes. Sid Sherratt, fullback, presented the C's with a glorious chance to take the lead when he hooked Quainton's foot as he was about to shoot, and a penalty shot was awarded. Reg. Shanks shot and the ball clicked against the posts. As he followed it up, Referee McKay tooted for a free kick for playing the ball twice. Claude Hamer came close, twice in succession, with fast drives which the Wests' goalie was forced to act fast to save. No further scoring took place before the interval and the count stood one-all.

Five minutes after the rest period, Bob Shanks, left winger, put the C's in the lead when his corner kick hit the net without a player on either team touching it. The ball went clean through Hetherington's outstretched arms. A few minutes later Surtees tied the count when he took Mulcahy's corner kick and headed it past Coxworth. Play sallied back and forth with the Wests having the edge.

Ten minutes before time the winning goal was chalked up through the Mulcahy-Surtees combination. The former centred perfectly and the latter made no mistake when the leather landed at his feet.

Harm McConnell, centrehalf for the losers, was one of the best players on the field, breaking up many rushes.

For the winners, Surtees, Thompson, Peden, Mulcahy and Robinson turned in fine games; while Hamer, Barnswell, Harwood, Lloyd and the Shanks brothers starred for the C's. Scotty McKay refereed and the teams were:

Five C's—Coxworth, Lloyd, Harwood, Symons, McConnell, Shanks, Sands, Quainton, Hamer, Barnswell, B. Shanks.

Victoria West — Hetherington, Whyte, Sherratt, Hawkes, Peden, Passmore, Thompson, Stewart, Surtees, Robinson and Mulcahy.

DOCKERS GO UNDER

The hand of fate played a role against Esquimalt who, through sickness, were forced to play with nine men against Victoria City at the Royal Athletic Park, and they went down before a 1-0 defeat. Cameron, clever right winger, and the man who gave the Victoria all-stars a like victory over Seattle only last Sunday, was the man that netted the lone counter in yesterday's game. A stinging shot from the right wing, about ten minutes from the rest period, kept the City in the running for the famous Jackson Cup and pushed Esquimalt out of further competition in the series.

The showing of the City was not by any means commendable, while their shooting was certainly erratic. Time and time again they were within close proximity of the opposing goal, but their shots were about as accurate as a gunner firing his first rounds in gunnery practice.

That Victoria City had the better of the play is a foregone conclusion, and why not? With eleven men to their opponents' nine, they held the upper hand practically the whole distance. However, Esquimalt made a few dangerous attacks, but the shortage of forwards was sadly felt at the critical moments.

To Darrel Mesher, who substituted in goal, a great deal of credit is due for the low score chalked up against the Dockers. In the first half he saved a stinging shot from C. Bissell that would have beaten many goalies, while in the second period he robbed Glancy on two different occasions when he was right in the goal mouth. These were only a few of the splendid saves made by Mesher.

Tommy Bridges, guarding the City net, had a comparatively easy time, but at that John Watt, Burnett and Stewart sent in one or two sizzlers that worried him.

McMillan refereed and the teams were:

Victoria City—Bridges, Margison, A. Campbell, Stoter, Preston, McBay, Cameron, Martin, C. Bissell, Smith and Glancy.

Esquimalt — Mesher, Joe Watt, Hosmer, Stewart, Wagland, Burnett, Banks, John Watt and Collier.

Island Cage Honors Captured by Harmony And Crescent Teams

Ladies Score One-Sided Victory Over Nanaimo and City Intermediate Champs Win From Ladysmith in Fast Game—C.P.S. Win

Two more Vancouver Island basketball titles came to Victoria last night at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium when the Harmony Girls, Sunday School champions of the city, humbled the Nanaimo quintette to annex the Intermediate "B" Ladies' championship by a 32-6 score, while the Crescents, city intermediate champions, turned the tide on the fast-traveling Ladysmith crew to carry off the Intermediate "A" honors, 28-23.

Following the Harmony-Nanaimo contest Mrs. James Adam presented the James Fletcher Cup, emblematic of the championship, to Elsie Matthews, captain of the winning team, while Johnny Johnson presented the Johnson Brothers Trophy to Norm McConnell, captain of the Crescents, as an award of their victory. By their wins both squads will journey to the Mainland in quest of the provincial championships.

Clipping away at a terrific pace from the first blast of the whistle, the Crescent and Ladysmith teams displayed some of the best basketball witnessed at the local gym this season. It wasn't long before the local machine started to function and Lloyd Jones, who proved to be the most valuable player on the court, broke through consistently for telling baskets. He was ably assisted by his two front-line associates, Bruce Low and Norm McConnell. Equally as good on the visitors' line-up were George Kulai, Strang and Tassini, this trio keeping the score on equal terms up to the interval. At the halfway mark the teams were deadlocked with twelve points each.

The pace got warmer as the second half started, and less than a minute after the whistle Low and McConnell dropped home pretty field goals. However, G. Kulai wiped out some of the deficit by ringing the hoop from almost an impossible angle, but L. Jones came right back with one from under the hoop. Dan Kulai and G. Kulai made things interesting by registering in quick succession. Shortly after this tough luck crept into the visitors' line-up, when Dan Kulai and J. Tassini, both regulars, were forced to leave the floor on four personal fouls. This left the visiting quintette with but four men to continue the game.

With the odds against them, and knowing that defeat was practically certain, Ladysmith showed great fighting stamina and hung on with great determination, hoping that maybe the breaks would fall their way. Their hopes faded, however, as the Crescents' forward line stepped in and took the advantage and tossed the leather home to obtain their substantial lead.

Lloyd Jones, with fifteen points, Bruce Low and Norm McConnell played splendid basketball for the winners, while G. Kulai, with thirteen points, Tassini, A. Spruston and R. Strang were the pick of the losers. Tommy Forbes and Alan Le Marquand refereed and the teams were as follows:

Crescents—McConnell (5), L. Jones (15), V. Jones, B. Low (7), Thorpe, Spence and Temple (1).

Ladysmith—J. Tassini (2), R. Strang (3), G. Kulai (13), D. Kulai (3), A. Spruston (2) and D. Inkster.

HARMONY WINS EASILY

Nanaimo ladies were no match for the Harmony crew and they weakened early in the initial period under the steady onslaught on their basket. Verna Foubister continually penetrated their defence in the opening period and dropped through some neat baskets. She was followed closely by Mary Peden, Elsie Matthews and Ina Alexander to bring Harmony's total at halftime up to fourteen points. D. Haddon and D. Tisini registered the visitors' points in the first half.

Tiring rapidly in the second half, the Nanaimo crew failed to hold the local forwards in check, and they romped through for baskets almost at will.

Verna Foubister, with eleven points, Ina Alexander with seven, and Mary Peden with eight, starred for the Harmony five, while D. Haddon and D. Tisini were the pick of the visiting squad. Tommy Forbes and Alan Le Marquand handled the game and the teams follow:

Nanaimo—D. Haddon (3), D. Dagg (1), D. Tisini (2), D. Bendon, A. Thompson, M. Gibson and R. Stillwell.

Harmony—G. Prizell (2), V. Foubister (11), A. Wood, I. Alexander (7), E. Matthews (4), M. Hall, M. Peden (6), B. Armstrong and A. Hall.

Capitals, Senior "A" Island champions, bowed to their ancient rivals, the C.P.S., after a mediocre contest, 23-22. With nothing at stake, the champions didn't seem to play up to their standard and fooled around until the lumbermen took advantage of their antics and piled up a good lead in the second half. With time drawing near, the Caps tried hard to chalk a win, but with the sound of the final whistle their hopes faded. Davis, B. Skillings and Fagerburg tallied six points each for the winners, while Boyd, W. Skillings and A. Cudlip starred for the Caps. Forbes and Le Marquand handled the game and the teams were:

C.P.S.—Davis (6), Fagerburg (6), S. Skillings (6), Dowds (4), Wooldridge, Butler (1).

Trail Icemen Take Big Lead Over Riverites

CALGARY, March 10.—By blanking the High River Flyers here tonight, by a count of 4 to 0, the Trail Smoke Eaters opened up a lead which should carry them through the second and final game of the series on Monday and give them the right to represent the two Western provinces in the Dominion play-downs for the Allan Cup.

Wilfred Shouldice Wins Vancouver Island Title

Defeats Frankie Neel, B.C. Flyweight and Bantamweight Champion, in Slashing Bout—Action Is Keynote at Amateur Bouts

Action was the keynote of last night's amateur boxing show staged at the Tillicum gymnasium. The bouts, carded as the preliminaries of the Vancouver Island championships, would have done justice to the finals. In the eight scraps there was not a dull moment, and the 300 fans who attended were kept on their toes all the way.

The big surprise packet of the evening was the defeat of Frankie Neel, British Columbia flyweight and bantamweight champion, by Wilfred Shouldice, of the Tillicum Athletic Club, in a mix that was carded as the Vancouver Island championship.

In the first round the lads mixed cautiously, and when the gong sounded there was little to choose between them. The second round was not many seconds old before Shouldice sent Neel to the canvas for the count of six with a right hook to the head. Arising groggily, it was not many seconds before Neel kissed the canvas again, this time for the count of nine. Just as soon as he rose to his feet he went down for the third time and Referee Baker tolled six over him before he came up. Going into a clinch he managed to weather the storm until the round ended. He went to his corner still groggy from the punishment Shouldice gave him.

The third round saw each of the lads landing telling blows, Shouldice holding the upper hand but failing to stow Neel away for keeps. They fought at 120 pounds.

TIM GURNEY WINS

A flurry of gloves from start to finish, with Bill Donaldson bleeding profusely at the mouth, and his prostrate form laid out on the canvas in the second round, tells in a few words just how Tim Gurney, of Fulford Harbor, won the main event.

Punishing A. Sinclair, R.C.N., almost at will, A. Cathey, Chemainus, won the decision after three slugging rounds. They fought at 153 pounds.

Flooring his opponent three times, twice in the first round and once in the second, Tommy Drysdale won in a walk from Charlie Smedley, R.C.N. The lads are lightweights.

Herbert Sutton registered a technical K.O. over Gordon Jones in the last round of their scheduled three-round mix. Sutton floored Jones twice before his seconds tossed in the sponge. Each weighed 107 pounds.

Fighting in the 90-pound class, Walter Scott was given the call over Harry Tivey.

Dave Barr had to step an extra round before winning the referee's decision over Arthur Coates. They mixed in the 95-pound class.

In the curtain-raiser, which was in the 65-pound class, Billy Buxton slugged his way to victory over Jimmy Baker.

THE SUMMARY

The complete summary of winners follows:

65 pounds—Billy Buxton, Tillicum Athletic Club

95 pounds—Dave Barr, Tillicum Athletic Club

90 pounds—Walter Scott, Victoria

107 pounds — Herbert Sutton, Tillicum Athletic Club.

153 pounds — A. Cathey, Chemainus.

120 pounds, Vancouver Island championship — Wilfred Shouldice, Tillicum Athletic Club.

TAIBU MARU HELPLESS IN BERING SEA

Nearest Ship to Disabled Japanese Vessel Is the Salvage King, Seventeen Days Off With Ss. Havilah

TAILSHAFT BREAK CRIPPLES CARRIER

SEATTLE, March 16.—Japanese vessels are in communication with the disabled freighter Taibu Maru, helpless in the Bering Sea, and aid of American or Canadian vessels probably will not be required, Captain John G. Berry, commander of the coastguard unit here, was advised late today.

The Taibu broke a tailshaft on Thursday, and is drifting about 125 miles north of the Rat Islands, in the Aleutian chain. The ship was en route to the Orient and probably went into Bering Sea as a short cut, Captain Berry said. The Great Circle runs through the Aleutians, but only Japanese vessels go north of the archipelago this time of the year, he said.

Captain Berry was instructed by coastguard headquarters in Washington, D.C., not to send the Chelan, new million-dollar cutter, to the assistance of the Japanese ship.

The nearest vessel, the Salvage King, en route to Japan with the disabled freighter Havilah in tow, was reported to have turned out of her course to aid the Japanese ship, but will not reach the scene for seventeen days, wireless reports said.

Mr. A. C. Burdick, managing director of the Pacific Salvage Company, received word last evening that the Salvage King was 530 miles off Dutch Harbor. He denied the report that the vessel was proceeding to the aid of the Taibu Maru.

Getting Ready For New Wharf At Point Hope

Scooping out the harbor to a uniform depth of fifteen feet, the Northwestern Dredging Company's dredge is working off the Point Hope Marine Railway's plant preparing for a wharf extension of 263 feet.

When the dredge is completed work will start on the wharf, which altogether will be about 400 feet long. At the present time there is about two feet of water at low tide around the end of the existing pier.

Work is progressing well on one of two new scows for the Victoria Tug Company. Each craft is being built of 100-foot timbers and exceptionally heavy planking.

Captain J. W. Troup's steam vessel Marfish is on the marine railway at the Point Hope plant for hull cleaning, painting and a new skag.

Built in 1912 as the Thomas Crosby the Marfish was used for some time as a mission boat on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. She is 93 feet overall, 19.5 feet wide and 9 feet deep. Of seventy-nine registered tons, she is powered by an oil-burning steam engine.

During the war the Thomas Crosby was bought by the Dominion Government as a patrol boat and later handed over to the Marine Department, who named her Marfish, after the first three letters of marine and the first four letters of fisheries. She was acquired last Summer by the Island Tug & Barge Company, who sold her to Captain Troup in September.

With accommodation for twelve men, the Marfish has plenty of headroom and a sound hull. In active use she would have to carry two engineers, a cook, two deckhands and a navigator.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as given above.

SALVAGE SHIP RUSHES HELP

Ss. A. L. Kent Runs Ashore 225 Miles North of Victoria, Near Ripple Rock and Rock Bay

QUEEN DUE THERE EARLY ON SUNDAY

VANCOUVER, March 16.—The big American steel freighter, Ss. A. L. Kent, Captain F. W. Keene, is reported to have gone ashore on an island near Ripple Point and Rock Bay, 225 miles north of Victoria, at an early hour this morning, and the Pacific Salvage Company steamer, Salvage Queen, left Victoria at 10 a.m. today to go to the scene. She will arrive about 7 a.m. Sunday.

Captain Charles Clarkson, surveyor for the San Francisco Board of Marine Underwriters, and B. W. Greer, agent for the ship, have left here on board a chartered tug to join Ss. Salvage Queen off Nanaimo.

The A. L. Kent had loaded lumber at Englewood, V.I., for Boston and New York, and was proceeding south for Portland to complete.

No details of the accident have been received as yet, Captain Keene having merely notified the agent of his plight and asked for assistance.

The Kent is a comparatively large ship, being of 8,656 registered tons. She is 460 feet in length, has a breadth of sixty-two feet and a depth of thirty-four feet. She was built in Newcastle in 1918, and is owned by the Federal Steam Navigation Company. She is registered in London.

THE WONDERS OF WORK

Oh, it is fine to loaf sometimes when everything goes right, it's joy to sail to other climes, to lands serene and bright! It is a pleasant thing to leave the old accustomed ways for storied lands whose fables weave the charm of vanished days. It's splendid just to let them go, the little frets and cares, which every being, high or low, upon his shoulder bears. The little things that do not count, yet vex the weary mind, the trifling ills that mount and mount. Ah! leave them all behind! But when real troubles come your way, real woes the spirit irk, then it is wise to spend each day in all-absorbing work; in work that woos the thought away from cares no one can cure; in work, whose wonders can allay the griefs men must endure.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Pains or Bladder Is Irritated

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acid which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Codfish Ships Getting Ready For the Season

SEATTLE, March 16.—Seattle's codfishing fleet of sailing schooners soon will be ready to leave for Alaska waters to begin another season on the Bering Sea banks.

While steam has replaced sail in the salmon fleet, the codfishing industry has withstood the encroachment of time and still operates with vessels that wing their way to and from the fishing grounds.

Bound for the Bering Sea, the three-masted codfisher Louise sailed from San Francisco on Thursday. The William H. Smith sailed for Pirate Cove late in January.

Up to a few years ago a fleet of twelve codfishers left San Francisco every year for the northern grounds, but wage disputes and other matters diminished the fleets until now but two vessels are left. The codfishing station of the Alaska Codfish Company, formerly maintained in Alaska and recently abandoned, is shortly to be reopened.

BIG CAR BARGE LEAVES RUPERT

Will Be Used to Transport Grain Between Port Mann and Victoria Elevator

PRINCE RUPERT, March 16.—The tug Canadian National No. 2, formerly the Vancouver Harbor Board's St. Catherines, left here on Thursday for Vancouver with the new car barge built to carry grain between the Mainland and Victoria.

GAMBLING CRAFT NOW FISH BARGE

Johanna Smith Ends Hectic Career Off Coast of California—Now Under Repair

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—The Johanna Smith, former gambling ship, is being repainted and recaulked at the shipyards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding & Drydock Corporation, following her flooding in West Basin. She probably will be anchored off Santa Monica as a fishing barge next month, according to Iver Bell, one of the new owners.

WEST COAST SERVICE

Now effective, the steamer leaves for Port Alice and way ports on the 1st, 11th and 21st of each month.

PURSE SEINE CASE QUASHED

Mr. Justice Murphy Reverses Judgment of Justice of the Peace Robert Tipton, of Surge Narrows

APPELLANTS GET COSTS OF APPEAL

VANCOUVER, March 16.—Convictions have been quashed in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice Murphy, of four seine fishermen, Vince Dulcich, Billy Assu, James McPherson and Johnnie Ferry, who had been found guilty by Justice of the Peace Robert S. Tipton, of Surge Narrows, and had been ordered to pay fines ranging from $25 to $200.

"In my opinion the offence created by Section 21 of the Fisheries Regulations is not properly described in the conviction," said His Lordship. "The regulation makes it an offence for a purse seine to be kept open for any time after being cast in the manner known as the open set. The alleged offence set out in the convictions is that the accused did fish for salmon with a purse seine in the manner known as an open set."

Mr. Justice Murphy pointed out that an essential ingredient of the offence, under Section 21, is the keeping open of a purse seine for any time after it had been cast.

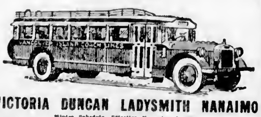

He refused to amend the convictions because he did not think that the evidence proved that the regulations had been contravened. The evidence showed that more than fifteen minutes elapsed after the casting of the purse seines before they were closed. No such time limit had been fixed by the regulations.

The four convictions have been quashed with costs payable to the appellants.

Dulcich was fined by Justice of the Peace Tipton $100; Assu was fined $200; McPherson was fined $25, and Ferry was fined $200.

Statistics of Tourist Traffic of Last Year Issued by Department

Visiting Automobiles During 1928 Numbered 3,645,455, Thus Showing an Increase of Fifteen Times That of Nine Years Ago—Visitors' Periods of Stay Greatly Prolonged

All Classes of Passengers Said to Have Spent $242,754,000 in Canada

THE official figures on the number of tourists' automobiles which entered Canada in 1928 have been awaited with considerable interest. In the release by the Department of National Revenue of figures for the number of foreign automobiles entered at customs' ports is found full confirmation of the increase in tourist traffic forecast by the earlier statements of various provincial authorities. There was an increase of nearly 500,000 in the number of cars which entered Canada last year compared with 1927, the 1928 total of 3,645,455 motor cars comparing with 3,153,809 in the previous year.

The mere statement that 1928 was a record-breaking year for tourist travel in Canada does not do full justice to the figures, committed to the Department of the Interior, through its Natural Resources Intelligence Service. This service, which has been closely in touch with the tourist traffic through 5 great volume of personal correspondence and the issue of hundreds of thousands of maps and tons of tourist literature, is naturally keenly interested in the official figures on motor car entries.

Actually the number of automobiles which entered Canada last year was just more than fifteen times as great as ten years ago, the number in 1919 being 237,963. The rapid development of the tourist traffic in the last three years is shown by a gain of over 1,500,000 in the number of cars visiting Canada annually.

288,000 MORE CARS

The Natural Resources Service is not so much interested, however, in the total volume of the tourist traffic as in the character of the traffic. The total figures naturally include a great many automobiles which crossed at border points in the thickly populated areas of the East for a stay in Canada of twenty-four hours' duration or less. In this particular there was a gain of more than 288,000 cars last year as compared with 1927.

What is of much greater interest is that the official statistics show a gain of 203,000 in the number of automobiles carrying parties into Canada for a stay of from twenty-four hours to six months. This is the greatest increase on record, and whereas in two years of the last ten the total number of foreign motor cars entering Canada showed a decrease, it is significant that in the Canada for a vacation period the total has been constantly up, the annual increases ranging from 18 to 37 per cent.

Last year the number of tourist automobiles entering Canada on permits for more than twenty-four hours was 946,718, a total 27 per cent above the figure for 1927. The increased stream of tourists to spend vacations in Canada and the consequent distributed over all the principal highways entering the Dominion. While the tourist traffic enjoyed by provinces do not, of course, indicate how many tourists spent their vacations in the province where the international boundary was crossed, it is interesting to note that Quebec had the largest proportional increase, the number of visiting cars for more than twenty-four hours entering at Customs ports in that province showing from 180,916 in 1927 to 271,962 in 1928, a gain of 42 per cent. Numerically the greatest gain was in Ontario, from 415,454 to 509,251, or an increase of 22 per cent.

VISITORS TO B.C.

The heavy stream of vacationists entering Canada on the Pacific Coast is shown by a total of 109,673 cars entering at British Columbia points in 1928 for stays of over one day and up to six months, this figure representing a gain of 12 per cent, while in the Prairie Provinces an increase of 16 per cent was also recorded with a total of 23,803.

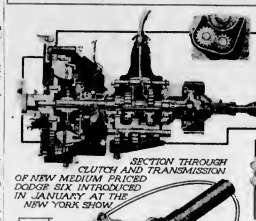

United States visitors to the Maritime Provinces enter, of course, mostly through the Customs ports in New Brunswick, and the increasing popularity of the recreational attractions in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick is measured by an increase of 23 per cent in the number of cars which entered at New Brunswick border points in 1928 for stays of over twenty-four hours. In addition to 30,717 vacation cars which entered the Maritimes in that way, it is very interesting to note the large increase in the number of automobiles entering Nova Scotia by steamer. That the ocean-going motorist is a big factor in Nova Scotia tourist travel is to be seen by entries of 1,507 automobiles at Yarmouth in 1928, compared with 963 in 1927. Yarmouth is the terminus of the popular overnight steamer journey from Boston, and during the height of the tourist season the steamers on the daily run regularly carried their full capacity of motor cars. At Halifax eighty-five motor cars also entered in 1928, some of them after the much longer ocean voyage from New York.

$242,754,000 IN TRADE

In advance of the official computations for the value of tourist traffic to Canada in 1928, the figures would seem to indicate an increase of probably $20,000,000 in motor tourist travel alone over the $161,000,000 reported in the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' estimate for 1927, which placed the total estimated expenditure in that year by tourists entering Canada via ocean ports and from the United States by automobile, rail and steamer at $242,754,000.

Mere figures do not, however, by means of this development fully measure in full the increasing popularity of Canada's recreational attractions. Only in the correspondence with the tourists themselves does one learn just how well pleased the visitors are with Canada. The Natural Resources Service views with satisfaction the ever-increasing number of tourists who come for a second or third time, the volume of inquiries for locations where the annual vacation may be regularly spent, and the large number of persons who have become keenly interested in fishing, hunting, canoeing, and other sports in Canada. Nor do the figures issued by the Department of National Revenue indicate how well the increasing volume of tourist traffic is taken care of at border points, but throughout the correspondence with tourists who visited Canada last year is to be found tributes to the uniform courtesy and dispatch at Canadian border points. The delays experienced seem to have been as little as were consistent with the regulations. The visitors were exceptionally well pleased with Canada in 1928, and already many inquiries respecting contemplated trips in 1929 are being received, some of them for as far off as August, while the Fall hunting season is already coming in for attention.

Gearing Imprvoevments Mark New Car Models

SECTION THROUGH CLUTCH AND TRANSMISSION OF NEW MEDIUM PRICED DODGE SIX INTRODUCED IN JANUARY AT THE NEW YORK SHOW.

THIS IS THE NEW STEERING GEAR EMPLOYED ON THE HUPP IN WHICH THE RATIO HAS BEEN INCREASED FOR GREATER DRIVING EASE

NEW NASH STEERING GEAR OF THE WORM AND SECTOR TYPE. GEAR REDUCTIONS IN STEERING GEARS ARE NOW 15 TO 1. FIFTY FOR 3 TO 1.

By J. E. SCHIPPER, M.S.A.E.

WHAT does an automobile engineer do at an automobile show? Lots of them never go. They have seen it all before the cars ever reach the show. Others take advantage of the opportunity to look over the cars while they are together, and draw conclusions. Herewith is part of a report as written by one. It deals with the trends in "transmissions."

"Not much change is to be found in clutches this year. The dry-plate is, of course, the predominating type, with Borg and Beck and the Long types being used by the assemblers. Ford, of course, makes his own clutch for both the Ford and the Lincoln, and General Motors makes its own for all its cars except Oldsmobile. Hudson has made its own clutch for years and continues to do so both for the Hudson and the Essex lines.

"From a transmission standpoint there is a new development to report and that is the synchro-phase used on Cadillac and La Salle cars. Heavier propeller shafts have in all of course a material gain in safety. The Stutz chassis is noted this year for its improvements in that respect.

"Steering gears are tending towards the cam and lever type. The Ross type of gear has been on the increase ever since the introduction of the Saoinion tire and this year is no exception as several new installations are noted. There have been some further increases in the gear ratios tending to make steering easier, and many makers have adopted devices to prevent "shimmy." Steering gear ratios are up around 15 to 1 now on the large cars. Not so many years ago 9 to 1 was considered about right. On the La Salle the ratio is 16 to 1. On the Cadillac it is 15 to 1, but the steering wheel on the La Salle is sixteen inches in diameter, while on the Cadillac it is nineteen inches.

"Packard introduced on its latest model a new type of spring cushion bracket which is said to eliminate shimmy. It is substituted for the regular shackle at the rear end of the left front spring. All 'shimmy' trump and back kick is said to have been eliminated from the steering wheel. In addition to this the left steering knuckle lever has been lengthened one inch to give greater steering leverage. A ball thrust bearing also has been fitted to each side of the sector to eliminate binding."

If the car header is the type that draws air from behind the radiator, shut it off when following a smoking car.

"Heavier propeller shafts have been necessitated by the increase in the amount of horsepower transmitted as well as because of the greater speed of the cars. Whipping troubles that did not appear at sixty miles an hour are very apparent at seventy miles per hour if the propeller shaft is not heavy enough. Self-lubricating universals with the oil magazine contained are more prevalent.

"From the standpoint of final drive there have been some additions to the hypoid gear family and there also one new ratio added models. There have been some changes in final gear ratio because of the desire to show speed in the standard models. Besides, the increased torque of the engines at low speeds have permitted a more nearly direct drive with a consequent increase in the maximum speed as well as in greater smoothness and quietness of operation. Optional gear ratios are offered in some cases. On the Chrysler 80 there are two ratios, 4.08 and 4.46 to 1.

"Double drop frames have increased materially in numbers this year because of the desire to bring the car height down. The Studebaker and Commander employ this type of frame. It is claimed that the use of this new frame has brought the centre of gravity of the Studebaker car six and a half inches closer to the ground, which

LOOK FOR HIGHEST LEVEL THIS YEAR

Oakland and Pontiac Production Points to New Sales Record During 1929

Production and sale of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes will touch the highest level in history during 1929, it is predicted by McRae-Meldrum Motors, local distributors of Oakland and Pontiac motor cars.

With the supple grace of the athletes in whose honor it was named, the new Oakland Six of the Olympic series brings a new conception of value into its price class. In the few months since it was introduced the car has demonstrated that its performance lives fully up to its appearance, say the principals of the local distributing house.

The new car boasts more than fifty refinements, and Oakland officials are confident that this latest Olympic series will prove the most successful Oakland in the car's twenty-two-year existence.

Power, performance and luxury, previously obtainable only in the big car field, distinguish the new Peerless Big Six, and provide snap and acceleration, flexibility and response, judged solely by big car standards.

Summing up the principals of McRae-Meldrum Motors, Limited, aver that these two cars form a combination that from the standpoints of appearance, quality, speed and ease of handling are difficult to surpass. Remaining as they do in the same price range as before they present as great, if not greater, value as is obtainable on the automobile market.

If the engine refuses to run with the spark control set for the fully retarded position, the indications are that the spark timing is set too late.

Painting Tires of Automobiles Continues Fashionable Practice

"After the bath, a manicure," appears as the slogan of automobile owners who this year have been painting their tires after the car has been washed, to an unprecedented extent in comparison with the past. Demand of car owners for tire painting has induced many auto laundry stations to install tire painting departments where tires are regularly painted when the car is washed. Just as the well-groomed man requires manicuring to put the finishing touches to his appearance, so does the driver of fine cars demand the final touch to tires, generally the most neglected part of an automobile.

MARKET FEATURES LOW-PRICED TIRES

Present Low Schedule Not Likely to Continue Long, Say Dealers

"There are three outstanding features that influence the tire industry today," according to Tyregeza Bros., local Goodrich tire dealers. "And these same three factors are going to play an important part to everybody interested in automobile tires in the future. There are authentic reports to the effect that the tire consumption and tire industries were increased 14 per cent in volume in January of last year, and that tire and automobile production increased 7 per cent during that month.

"Price of crude rubber has advanced, following an adjustment in tire prices that resulted in a net reduction to the motorist. This creates a situation in which the man who buys tires is receiving more for his money than he has ever received since tires have been run on motor cars. They cost less than ever and are of the highest quality they ever have been.

"Right now we are selling Silvertown tires at figures below prices obtained for standard tires a few years ago. How long these exceptionally low prices will last is a question. With rubber advancing and a demand for tires increasing as the Summer season approaches, it looks like prices cannot stay this low very long.

BUILT-IN RADIATOR

The mechanical parts of the shutters of the built-in radiator covering should be lubricated occasionally. Vaseline is excellent for lubricating the shutters, because it stays put and does not run down the struts where it is not needed. A penetrating oil may be necessary, however, if the car has gone a year or so without attention to this matter.

RESURRECT OLD GRECIAN ART

Oldsmobile Applies Theory of Dynamic Symmetry in Body Design

For many years Greek architecture and design was the despair of modern artists. Measurements taken to ascertain how the Greeks obtained their harmony in proportion brought the discovery that the buildings or objects were literally unmeasurable. The mystery was solved by Jay Hambidge, who had discovered dynamic symmetry in the natural form of shells and leaves. This harmony of proportion he found had been applied by the Greeks and was based on a mathematically correct form of area measurement instead of linear.

The methods used in designing the Fisher built Oldsmobile bodies in keeping with the Greek period are worthy of the painstaking care of the ancients. First the designers studied the chassis, which is really the foundation of the structure. Then all details, such as head room, roominess in front and rear seating compartments, height of seats and the manifold items which must be embodied in fine car design.

With these details embodied in the general idea, the Oldsmobile made its first appearance in a full-sized drawing in chalk on a huge blackboard. Then a wooden model of the model was built, following the precise measurements of the pictured car. Then came the work of the sculptors. This framework was built in with modelers' clay in smooth and exact replica of a finished body. This clay model was then painted and the necessary hardware and upholstery fitted. This creation of artists then passed critical inspection before work was started building the finished bodies of composite steel and wood.

FRONT TIRE BLOWOUT

One reason why a blowout of a dishes the car is because the driver front wheel blowout tire usually fails to pull hard enough in the direction opposite to the side with the blowout.

Radium Hot Springs of Kootenay Available To District Visitors

Famous Therapeutic Waters of British Columbia's Hinterland Declared to Have Highest Element Content of Any Similar Mineral Liquid So Far Discovered in the World

Dominion Government Constructs Facilities for Use of All Visitors

WIDELY known to the laity for their therapeutic properties, and even better known to scientists for the comparatively large radium content, Radium Hot Springs in Kootenay National Park are said to constitute an asset of great value to Canada. The three radium springs, formerly known as the Sinclair Hot Springs and even more recently the Kootenay Mineral Springs, are situated near the Banff-Windermere motor highway close to the west end of Sinclair Pass in British Columbia. They eject the highest percentage of radium emanations and contain the highest amount of radium itself of any radioactive waters so far known.

They are the only springs in Canada with a higher radium content than the famous hot springs at Bath, England. While the medical properties have been known locally for many years—seventy-five, at least, and centuries to the Indian—yet it was not until the construction of the Banff-Windermere highway by the Dominion Government that the waters were made easily accessible to the ordinary traveler.

The Indians knew of these springs and their remarkable value in the treatment of certain diseases long before the advent of the white man, and in Indian legend there is the story of the old and rheumatic grizzly bears first instructing the red man in the uses of the waters. But the first written account available is that of Sir George Simpson, who claimed to have been wonderfully benefited by bathing there.

AN EARLY WRITER

In his "Journey Round the World," published in London in 1847, he says

"The waters tasted slightly of alum, and appeared to contain a little magnesia; and, though we had neglected to take out a thermometer with us, yet, on returning to the camp, we estimated the three temperatures at about ninety, a hundred and a hundred and twenty degrees. Two Winters back, Berland, while suffering from a severe illness, made a bathing place of these springs; and he either actually was, or believed that he was, benefited by them."

Simpson did not take any too much stock in the therapeutic value of bathing in the waters, but other records have testified to the great benefits derived from the practice; and these records show that the Indians and settlers about the district, even though few in number, knew about it. One of the humorous and no doubt exaggerated accounts refers to an enthusiastic hunter who had the misfortune to be laid low with rheumatic pains and general malaise induced by long exposure to the elements. So sick was he that it was necessary to rig up a blanket stretched for the invalid and carry him to the springs. After one dip in the water he got up and kicked the ridge-pole of his tent.

RICH RADIUM CONTENT

A more credible story is given by B. W. Mitchell in his "Trail Life in the Canadian Rockies," in which he attests to the benefits received by a member of his party on one of his trail trips. This person was cured of a number of aches and pains after three immersions in two days, and the trouble disappeared for a period of two years.

While the above may be of interest to the sufferer from rheumatic pains and the like, the scientist is more deeply interested in the radium content and the radium emanation—in other words, its radioactivity. A report of an analysis from McGill University shows that the waters of these springs have an emanation in equilibrium with 4 by 10.9 grams radium per litre. This is a high content for water. Water such as this is supposed to be beneficial in the treatment of arterio-sclerosis, certain forms of malignant and benign growths and rheumatic aches and pains.

With the end in view of making available to all the benefits to be derived from these waters, the Dominion Government has taken possession of these springs. There is erected there a large pool, where the water is piped from the springs and then allowed to flow out to Sinclair Creek. A bathhouse is also erected and attendants provided. For a nominal fee the visitor is supplied with a bathing suit and towel and provided with dressing quarters. As the demand requires, additional facilities will be found, and the time is not far distant when this natural phenomenon will be as widely known as other parts of Canada's National Parks.

E. P. Clarkson Honored by Employers on Occasion of His Resigning Office

E. P. CLARKSON

For fifteen years E. P. Clarkson has been "the man behind the guns" of the Dodge Brothers organization in Canada. Fifteen years is a long period in the modern automotive industry, which means that Mr Clarkson has practically guided the growth of Dodge Brothers in this country from its very beginning

Ever since Mr. Clarkson became connected with Dodge Brothers he has held the utmost esteem of every Canadian dealer in the organization and with his resignation, it is not surprising that they gathered together recently in Toronto to pay unique tribute to a man who had so thoroughly gained the confidence of representatives of the company throughout the Dominion.

At a banquet in the King Edward Hotel representatives of the company from coast to coast did honor to their former chief. From as far west as Sudbury and as far east as Montreal, representatives came to pay homage in person, while greetings were received from dealers of Vancouver and Halifax.

After the high tribute had been paid, Mr. Clarkson was the recipient of a handsomely engraved silver presentation from the dealers of the organization which owed a great deal of its success to his energy and thought.

PEERLESS CLOSES BIGGEST FEBRUARY

Shipments During Last Month Exceeded Best Previous Similar Period by 80 Per Cent

The Peerless Motor Car Corporation has just closed the biggest February in the history of the company, according to word received by Mr C. W Lovell, of the Atkinson Motor Company, Limited. Shipments of 1,319 cars exceeded the best previous February by over 80 per cent. Shipments during the first two months totaled 2,590 cars, beating those of any similar period by a tremendous margin.

Orders on hand were greater than at any time within the past four years, despite the fact that production is at capacity and cars are leaving the factory in record-breaking numbers.

March, according to officials of the company, looks like another tremendous month. During the month, shipments will be started on the new straight Eight-125 which was shown at both New York and Chicago shows and for which the company has already received large quantities of orders. Reports from dealers indicate that this car and the new low-priced Six-61 announced in January are the most popular models Peerless has ever produced.

That dealers, as well as the public, have taken to the car and the new programme of the Peerless management is indicated by the fact that 117 dealers have joined Peerless since the first of the year.

SUBDUES GLARE ON INSTRUMENT PANEL

Little Improvement to Oldsmobile Fittings Means Much to Comfort of Driver

Acorns grow into sturdy oaks and the perfection of small details make an automobile better and more desirable. The development of just one of these little details contained in the 1929 Oldsmobile was the results of weeks of testing and provides an additional factor of safety and driver comfort.

The improvement is simply the use of a subdued green light to illuminate the instrument panel. It eliminates glare and is restful to the eyes of the driver. At the same time it improves the readability of the engine temperature indicator, ammeter, gasoline gauge, oil pressure indicator and speedometer.

About two years ago Oldsmobile reduced the danger and annoyance of light being reflected from the instrument panel to the driver's eyes by taking the lamp from in front of the panel and placing it behind and above the instruments so that the rays gave indirect illumination. This was a distinct advance, but it failed to completely solve the problem.

During the past year various types and colors of lighting were tested out on the fleet of Oldsmobiles which constantly is in operation at the General Motors proving ground. These tests proved both the efficiency of indirect lighting and that green was the ideal color. The green light is obtained by inserting a colored screen in front of the two lamps used to illuminate the instruments.

Proper Lubrication And Adjustment Two Rear Axle Needs

The two most important items in the care of the rear axle unit are proper lubrication and correct adjustment. The unit includes the differential, axle shafts and their housing. The gears comprising the differential must turn continuously in oil, usually a very heavy kind, but too much oil should not be used, as the excess may work along the axle shafts to the brakes and cause slipping. Grease should not be used in modern axles, as it will not reach all bearings or friction surfaces in the unit, resulting in wear to the parts. After long usage the gears become noisy and require readjustment. If the gears are in line, the usual cause of noise lies in the relation of the pinion gear which is secured to the driving shaft, and the ring gear, which is mounted to the differential housing.

WILL DEVELOP MOTOR SERVICE

ANNUAL MEETING AT WASHINGTON OF A.A.A. TO SPONSOR TOURISTS' WELFARE

Advent of Motor Clubs as World Travel Agency Now Within Definite Range

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 16.—Intensified development of motoring services for the millions of car owners who will tour by motor this year will be undertaken at the fifth annual conference of executives of A.A.A. motor clubs and state associations to be held in Washington, March 20, 21 and 22.

Advance acceptances for this year's gathering of motordom indicates a record attendance, including outstanding motor club leaders from all parts of the United States, from Canada and from Uncle Sam's insular possessions.

While the major portion of the programme will be devoted to the further development of the reciprocal, standardized services of the 1,063 A.A.A. clubs in the United States and Canada, the needs of Americans touring abroad will come in for a great deal of attention, it is declared.

"The time has come when A.A.A. clubs are devoting serious attention to their position as agencies of world-wide travel," the statement from headquarters of the national motoring body said.

Although the three-day conference will centre around the interchange of ideas among club executives and with A.A.A. national officials, prominent figures will be heard in timely addresses, and the sessions will be far-reaching in their importance to the motorists of the nation.

Good roads, sign-posting, motoring facilities, fair taxation and numerous other matters of importance to every individual car owner will be completely covered, while at the same time, marked attention will be given to the problem of national safety.

Emergency road service is another important subject that will come before the conference. Continual improvement of this major service on the motor club programme, as well as its extension to every section, is also scheduled as one of the outstanding topics of the conference.

On the imposing list of speakers slated to address the conference, are Edward S. Jordan, president of the Jordan Motor Car Company; Horace M. Albright, director National Park service; Professor C. D. Hardy, School of Speech, Northwestern University; Professors R. C. Borden and A. C. Bussey, New York University; Thomas P. Henry, president of the A.A.A.; Ernest N Smith, general manager of the A.A.A.; Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

A round of luncheons, state and territorial dinners and other features have been arranged, while the social and entertainment side of the conference will not be overlooked. The principal feature of this end will come on the second night when a real Spanish evening will be spent by those present, amid all the color of a pleasure resort in spain.

Railroads have announced a reduced fare for those in attendance, with a fare and a half for the round trip. One-way tickets are to be purchased and a certificate secured, which, when validated at the conference, allows the return trip for one-half fare.

Gasoline Prices In Europe Prove No Bar to Travel

Gasoline prices in Europe are almost on a level with those in the United States, ranging 21 cents per gallon in London to 32 cents in Paris, according to the foreign travel division of the American Automobile Association.

However, says the national motoring body, higher prices will be found in some sections, but not in the principal areas of travel.

The A.A.A. foreign travel division cites some of the gasoline prices in the Old World as follows. Austria, 26 cents a gallon; Belgium, 27 to 32 cents; Czechoslovakia, 31 cents; Danzig, 27 cents; Denmark, 27; France, 32 cents; Germany, 25 to 28 cents; Hungary, 28 cents; Irish Free State, 25 to 27 cents; Netherlands, 23 cents; Rumania, 22 cents, England, 21 cents.

It is pointed out that these prices may vary slightly, just as they do in the United States, but the foregoing are usually standard.

Some of the higher prices for gas are found in Italy, where gasoline is quoted at 53 cents per gallon; in Spain, where the prices vary from 32 cents at Seville to 50 cents per gallon at Bilbao, and Switzerland, where the price is 35 cents per gallon.

SHOW CAR'S WORTH BY ECONOMY RUN

Power and Performance of Studebaker Indicated No Sacrifice of Fuel to Secure Results

That power and brilliant motor performance can be attained without the sacrifice of fuel economy was demonstrated by a recent economy run held in California under the sanction and supervision of the American Automobile Association.

Thirty-seven cars piloted by as many women completed a 170-mile run from Los Angeles to Wrightwood Mountain, climbing from almost sea level to an altitude of 6,000 feet. Each car observed the same rules, covered the same course, and ran under the same weather conditions. At the conclusion of the run, the official A.A.A. representatives awarded first place in its class to a Studebaker President Eight.

When all cars had been checked, however, it was found that the Studebaker President had not only led its class, but had also won second place in the grand sweepstakes competition, which included every car in the field, regardless of power or price. The President's performance and economy record was bettered by a Ford sedan, which turned in an average of 35.5 ton miles per gallon.

The economy record of the President Eight in this test is considered high tribute to the brilliance of Studebaker's engineering staff and emphasizes the success of Studebaker's policy of "balance design." The President is a car of great speed and power, these qualities having been demonstrated by its world record of 30,000 miles in 26,326 consecutive minutes. This great feat was performed by a strictly stock President under A.A.A. supervision.

If the gears have a tendency to slip out of second and you press on the lever to remesh them, be sure to press out the clutch while doing so.

HYDROGEN APPEARS IN AERONAUTICS

In spite of the fact that a witch was burned at the stake in the year 1783 because she had "made a contract with the devil," science in its eternal fight against clerical fanaticism, scored four important runs during the latter part of the eighteenth century. The Royal Society of London held its first exhibition in 1770, James Watt received his patent for the first steam engine in the same year, cast steel was successfully made at Sheffield and Dr. Black of Edinburgh, made the discovery that a bladder filled with hydrogen gas would rise and carry a small load with it. And a Spaniard, a certain Cavallo, came along in 1783 and discovered the virtue of this same gas as a lifting power in soap bubbles. And Lavoisier, in Paris, succeeded in splitting water into its component parts, hydrogen and oxygen.

Little enough came of the work of Cavallo and Black. And no wonder. To make hydrogen in the latter part of the eighteenth century was a tedious and mighty expensive process. They made it of iron filings and sulphuric acid and the stuff cost a lot of money. There was also the problem of making an airtight bag, a problem not yet solved with the crude materials at the disposal of aeronauts.

Inventors were on the right trail and though Dr. Black and his Spanish co-worker made little use of their idea, it was to bear fruit several years later.

Night Driving in Europe Almost Nil

There is almost no night driving done in Europe and the motorist venturing out after nightfall finds a deserted world, according to the foreign travel division of the American Automobile Association. The national motoring body says: "There is almost no night driving done in Europe. The driver who motors after dark finds himself in a deserted world. Everything is closed up. Houses and shops are darkened. The only sign of life comes from glimmers of light through window cracks or from under doors. Except in the larger towns it is impossible to purchase gas or oil or obtain service of any kind at night. When passing at night, cars always dim their lights so effectively that the road cannot be distinguished and they have to creep by each other very slowly. The dim lights on American cars are much brighter than those used in Europe so the driver of an American car generally uses his parking lights in place of dimmers."

The TRAFFIC COP

According to the latest figures, 27,000 men, women and children were killed by automobiles in the United States in 1928, which is an increase of over 5 per cent over the preceding year. Should you care to visualize this army of the dead, just think of their coffins placed end to end and stretching a distance of thirty-five miles, or approximately from the city of Baltimore to Washington. And there will be another row of such coffins at the end of 1929 if present records persist for the balance of the year.

Be careful about changing your mind when driving a car. Some drivers when approaching an intersection seem undecided as to whether to turn or not to turn. They may suddenly decide to do so and stop the car suddenly. This is dangerous for two reasons: a skid may result; and the man behind you may bump into you. Better miss the intersection and drive another block.

HEADLIGHTS FOR LIGHTHEADS

Every man has his day—the pedestrian has the right-of-way in an ambulance.

Marcus Aurelius—"What's on for Sunday, dear?"
Mrs. Aurelius—"Nothing that I know of."
Marcus—"Then let's go out for an automobile drive to the country and away from this noisy Rome."
Mrs. A.—"Auto ride? Why you silly thing, automobiles have not been invented as yet."

How to save money: First get the money, the rest is easy.

Truck Driver (from seat of ten-ton truck to flivverite stalled)—"Well, what's the matter, sonny, forget to wind it up this morning?"

Quotation from the dead languages "Kill the whole pint, boys S'plenty more where that came from."

My uncle thinks this sassiety snob business is the bunk. He sez one man's as good as another and a damsite better.

Thank goodness, pedestrians do not have to lose time changing gears when eluding a speeder.

"There's certainly going to be a terrible war in 1929 between Henry Ford and General Motors."
"Yes; it ought to be the rattle of the century."

Motorist (to garageman)—"Have you some of the No-Knock gas?"
Garageman—"Sure, how much?"
Motorist—"Give a drink to that back-seat-driver wife of mine."

Buying Airplanes on Instalment Plan Now Growing in Favor

Recently the selling of airplanes on time, the same as automobiles, came into vogue. Time buyers of airplanes make a minimum down payment of one-third plus standard finance charges and they promptly insure the plane. Out of fifty leading companies in the United States and Canada, forty-two do not have an anti-air travel clause, and eight have more or less modified clauses. The insurance coverage is inclusive, repaying for losses by fire, theft, winds, crashes, public liability, property damage and passenger hazards if passengers are carried for hire.

Suggestions as to Overhaul of Ignition

Overhauling the ignition is a simple job that consists of the following:

Inspect starter.

Clean and adjust distributor.

Check all ignition wires to see that they are not oil soaked.

See that battery connections are tight and not corroded.

Set up generator charging rate to take care of increased load in driving.

Inspect spark plugs, adjust gap. Replace plugs if old ones have gone 10,000 miles.

Check lights, see that connections are tight, insuring good service, as lights are used oftener in Winter. Replace bulbs if they are dim.

JAKE SAYS:

A secret service agents says that women make poor detectives. Us married men know better.

Used Cars Found In Large Demand At Eve Brothers

Every car on the road is a used car. Depreciation on a new car commences the day it begins to run, hence the great interest always shown by drivers in the used car market. Used car purchasers include two classes of driver—one the man who must have the very cheapest transportation and the other who prefers the more expensive make and is ready to invest in a good used car the amount which would buy him a new car in the lighter class.

All requirements will be met at the big sale of fifty used cars now proceeding at Messrs. Eve Bros., where the expenditure of a few dollars enables a man to drive away a car or where late models of good makes can be bought at moderate prices. The assortment of all kinds of car, of all makes and models which are offered during this sale, will be found of interest to all drivers and prospective buyers are invited to look them over.

Touring cars, roadsters, coupes, sedans and sports cars are all here.

HOW TO HANDLE BRAKES

Try using the holding brakes simultaneously if the car shows a tendency to skid when the four-wheel brakes are applied. Often this will counteract the unequal adjustment of the service brakes.

SAFETY NUTT SAYS:

Do you want a crutch? Be careless and you'll get one.

"FOR THIS RELIEF MUCH THANKS"

Keep Springs Fit By Rearching Them

Keeping springs is not a matter merely of keeping the friction qualities between the leaves constant and in keeping with the car. A point usually overlooked is that springs tend to flatten out so they are unable to do their best work. This also interferes with the action of the devices that control the spring recoil.

It is the first half-inch of spring deflection that makes for the easiest ride. This is when the springs are doing their best work as the car's natural shock absorbers and no amount of added equipment can compensate for this loss, which develops through wear. When springs flatten just a quarter of an inch it is obvious that this much of their first half-inch of best deflection has been sacrificed.

The remedy is to have them removed and re-arched.

SLIPPERY PAVEMENT

If the car will not steer when slowing down on slippery pavement, the front brakes are probably locked. Release the brakes immediately and apply them again, steering the car out of danger in the meantime.

CHRYSLER OILING IS EXPERTS' PRIDE

Company Engineers Employ Talents to Maintain Clean Lubricator

Nothing is guarded against more carefully by Chrysler engineers than the possibility of foreign matter such as core sand, metal particles and the like getting into the oiling system of Canadian-built Chrysler cars and interfering with the successful operation of their engines.

For this reason, engineers say, all oil passages in the cylinder block through which bearings are lubricated are drilled rather than cored. Drilling these passages eliminates the possibility of core sand entering the lubricating system and carving or cutting the bearings.

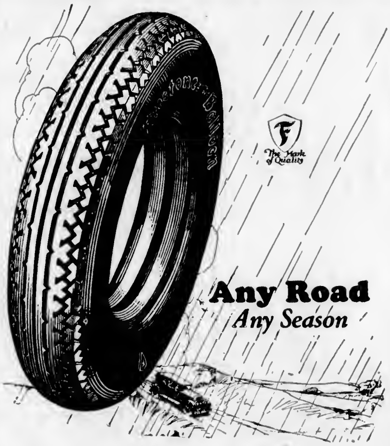

The drilling process is far more expensive than merely coring the passages with sand when the block is moulded, but Chrysler engineers prefer to know that the lubricating system is absolutely clear before the automobile leaves the factory.

PORES SEALED

Another precaution to insure a positively clean oiling system which will not fail in service is taken before any machining operations are begun. The inside of Chrysler cylinder blocks are treated with a special red lacquer. This seals up the pores of the metal and effectually prevents core sand or metal particles from becoming dislodged and fouling the cylinder oil.

Nothing is left to chance in the Chrysler oiling system. Positive full pressure feed is used to oil all camshaft, crankshaft and connecting rod bearings. The oil circulates by means of a gear pump conveniently located where it is accessible for cleaning. From the pump the oil passes through various passages to the bearings and is returned to the pump.

A Berlin scientist claims to have developed a process for making a motor fuel from wood at less expense than gasoline costs in Germany.

VISCOUNT HITS AT ROAD HOGS

DANGERS TO PEDESTRIANS THROUGH CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS OF MOTORISTS

Conference Held to Discuss Formation of Corps of Road Guards to Supplant Police

Viscount Cecil's strong attack on road hogs, made in the British House of Lords, is causing people to ask:

Have all the efforts of the authorities, costly and painstaking, to make the streets and roads safer, been in vain?

Legislation has been passed, local regulations have been altered to suit special circumstances. Pamphlets have been distributed, slogans invented, lectures given in prodigious quantities.

Yet Lord Cecil says: "The infirm, the aged, and the children, if they use the roads at all, have to use them with miserable precaution."

Colonel Pirkard, secretary of the Safety First Association, said:

"It is undoubtedly serious when, as Lord Cecil pointed out, more than 5,000 people are killed every year by accidents on the road and 190,000 are injured.

Granting this, we are entitled to take into account the relation of these figures to the number of motorists.

"If you put a quarter of a million new drivers on the road every year, the ratio of road hogs becomes comparatively small."

The association has made a suggestion which the sponsors of the new traffic bill have promised to consider. Already, with every motor licence is issued a pamphlet explaining the rules and courtesies of the road. The proposal is that every new driver should be required to make a declaration that he is acquainted with these.

"The man who gets himself involved in accidents," Colonel Pickard said, "is not, as a rule, the inexperienced driver. We are not, therefore, too keen on the idea of an examination into skill. It is the man who has emerged from the chrysalis stage and thinks he knows all about driving who gives most trouble because he takes most risks.

"We have great hopes from the films which we are issuing to the boys and girls. It is to their better care and rising sense we must look for safer times."

Meanwhile the Home Office has been in conference with County Councils and other representatives on the proposal to form a corps of road guards to supplant the police.

The general opinion of the police authorities is that the police might with advantage be supplanted, almost wholly in country districts, and partially in London and the larger provincial towns.

It is thought that 1,500 new men would be required for a modified scheme. Definite proposals will be considered at the conference, and there is little doubt that the new corps, so urgently needed to relieve the police, will be formed. A distinctive uniform is proposed.

Motors Registered In Foreign Countries Now Total 7,000,000

Berlin is noted as a growing focus of assembly plants maintained by American manufacturers. Seven big organizations — General Motors, Ford, Hudson-Essex, Willys-Overland, Chrysler, Graham-Paige and Durant—are operating in or near the city. Studebaker maintains an important plant at Hamburg. There are close to 7,000,000 motor vehicles registered in foreign countries, so the replacement market abroad should amount to at least a million annually. Moreover with one man finding employment for every six cars put into use, the nonemployment conditions abroad ought to be showing material betterment as time goes on.

Fountain Service Station Now Run as Independent Firm

One of Victoria's leading service stations recently changed hands when the lease of the Union Oil station at the corner of Douglas Street and Hillside Avenue was acquired by Messrs. R. H. Pitzer, L. S. Gosse and A. E. Nex, all of whom have had a considerable number of years' experience with the Union Oil Company. This station, which will be known as the Fountain Service Station, will be run independently of the Union Oil Company, but will continue Union gas, oils and greases exclusively, besides a line of accessories and tires. Through its convenient location and excellent service, this stand ranks high among the leading stations disbursing gas and oil in Victoria, and for some years held first position with the Union Oil Company in British Columbia. Last month it lead, in ratio to all other Union stations in British Columbia, in sale of oil.

Babson Hears of Car That Travels Sideways

"A few months ago," writes Roger W. Babson in the March Forum, "I thought I was making a forecast when I predicted an automobile that would run sideways, for convenience in parking. I understand that such a car is already offered. The chief difficulty in forecasting nowadays is to announce a dream of the future quickly enough so that you will not receive a catalogue of it in the next mail."

Cotterell, vice-president of the association, and superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway for British Columbia. This picture was taken several days ago in Vancouver.

Bus Lines Successful Competition With Rail

Auto bus traffic in South Africa is becoming so strong that the Railway Administration of the Government is deeply concerned, and laws to stop the competition are being discussed. In some suburban districts the people are deserting the railroads for the buses to such an extent that there is little business for the rail lines. The Port Elizabeth-Walmer branch has already been discontinued, and deaths of two other suburban lines in the Cape Province are expected. Not only are passengers preferring buses, but freight is being diverted to the highway lines. The Railway Administration continues to expand its motor transport service. It now has more than eight thousand miles of such service and will add more than thousand.

Winnipeg Votes $1,000,000 for School Purposes

WINNIPEG, March 16.—Winnipeg ratepayers yesterday approved of the expenditure of $850,000 by the city for an industrial and agricultural exhibition here, and showed by their votes that they preferred Kildonan, a suburb of the city, for the site of the show. Sweeping approval also was given the request of the school board for $1,000,000 to be used for the most part in building of schools.

Two-thirds majority of the vote cast was required for the passing of the two by-laws.

The heater of the car should be cleaned out occasionally to prevent an odor.

FORESTRY VIEWS TO BE EXHIBITED

Mr. E. V. Ablett, Association Lecturer, Off on 800-Mile Motor Launch Trip

Spreading the gospel of fire prevention, Mr. Ernest V. Ablett, official lecturer of the Canadian Forestry Association, has left Vancouver on an 800-mile voyage by motor launch up the coast of British Columbia. Mr. Ablett will exhibit motion pictures on forestry at several small coast settlements where movies have never before been seen.

The objects of Mr. Ablett's trip, which will last for six weeks, are to instill a greater forest consciousness in the minds of the people of British Columbia, particularly as regards the fire menace to the timber stands in the Province.

The Canadian Forestry Association is an organization of nearly 30,000 members throughout Canada. It is the oldest association of its kind on the continent, being established thirty years ago. According to Mr. Charles Wilkinson, B.C. manager, this year's activities will be the most pretentious yet attempted. They will embrace lecture campaigns, press publicity, distribution of literature and a large exhibit at Canada's Pacific exhibition.

Clerical Press Urges Support of Fascist Regime

ROME, March 16.—Rome's fifty-two candidates for the all-Fascist chamber of Deputies, which is to be elected March 24, held a big electoral rally last evening. Clerical newspapers such as The Corriere d'Italia publish from page exhortations to all Catholics to be sure to go to the voting booths and register their votes in favor of the Fascist regime which has settled the Roman question.

Other papers urge all voters to make sure they have the necessary papers for voting, in order that the result of the nation-wide plebiscite be overwhelmingly convincing.

While oils have held the attention of the investing public, mining issues have been neglected with the result that many sound issues are selling far below their true value.

PRICES RALLY AFTER HEAVY EARLY SELLING

Offerings Are Absorbed With Remarkable Ease—Large Volume of Trading—Business News Good

BOND ISSUES MAKE IRREGULAR GAINS

NEW YORK, March 16.—The stock market encountered heavy selling today in anticipation of tighter money next week, but offerings were absorbed with remarkable ease, and vigorous pool operations in the radio and other shares imported renewed strength to the general list before the close.

Trading was again carried on at breakneck speed, 2,718,260 shares changing hands in the two hours' session. The Associated Press index of fifty industrials was elevated 1 1-2 points to another new high at 223 1-2, making a gain of over 6 points for the week.

The day's business news included still another increase in copper metal prices, carrying the price for domestic shipment to 21 cents, and still higher prices were talked of in the trade. It was pointed out, however, that consumption of the red metal will soon reach its seasonal peak and much of the recent feverish buying has been regarded as an effort to "beat" price advances rather than for current requirements.

Another assortment of good earnings statements for 1928 were published.

Coppers and oils displayed outstanding group strength. Anaconda Chile, and Kennecott reached new high ground. Greene Cananea sold up over 8 points, and Calumet and Arizona mounted nearly 7 points. In the oils, which have been stimulated by production control developments, Standard of California mounted more than 3 points to a new top. The old Radio shares slipped back 8 points to 530, only to rebound to 549, another new peak, while the new shares climbed to a new top at 109 3-4. Among the more volatile issues, Otis Elevator jumped 20 points and Rossia Insurance sold up 15. Case Threshing mounted 15 points and Advance Rumley shares reached new tops as combination of these companies was rumored.

American Locomotive touched a new high for the year, while Baldwin and Lima improved.

Curtis Publishing, Lambert, Motion Picture Capital, Inland Steel, and First National Stores reached new high ground.

Foreign exchanges eased slightly, but sterling held fairly steady and it was rumored that it was being supported to prevent further gold imports from London. The Spanish peseta again turned weak, dropping about a quarter of a cent.

Prices in the bond market today wound up the week irregularly higher, but trading in bonds was practically restricted to the issues in which there were special news developments.

Sales of $4,003,000 were the smallest for the Saturday this year. Rails were under pressure.

The advance in copper prices carried Anaconda 7's up 4 points, to a new high for all time.

A Budget is the ## family balance sheet.

The Federal Government gives a hint to the average individual on how to get along.

* * *

The Federal Government now operates on a budget system. Private individuals can learn something from the example of the Government.

The surest and most certain way to get ahead, to save is to know where one stands financially. As surely as a business organization must know its limitations financially so must an individual. The best way to do is to make out a budget. Call it a schedule.

What is your income? What do you set aside for rent, living expenses, clothing, pleasure and other expenses? What do you set aside for the future? Put down on paper your income and estimated expenses. The figures will be surprising. That statement is your balance sheet. Corporations do not succeed on deficits. Are you operating and setting up a reserve for obsolescence—old age? A budget will tell you.

WHEAT MART AT WINNIPEG DULL

DAY'S TRADING IS MOSTLY PROFESSIONAL IN CHARACTER

Buying Power Thin and Upturns Hard to Hold—Coarse Grains Fairly Steady

(Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, March 16.—The wheat market was a dull, narrow affair today and largely professional in character. The local crowd appeared nervous and are not inclined to press the market until something more definite is known as to the condition of the Winter wheat crop, both in the United States and in Europe.

The Pool was selling a little May wheat today and there was some unwinding of spreads between here and Chicago selling Winnipeg May against purchases of Chicago May. There was also buying of Winnipeg October against sales of Chicago September.

The buying power was thin and the slight upturns were hard to hold, the May position in particular being mostly lower than last night's close. Exports were again reported as nil. The cash market was also quiet.

There was a little demand from shippers for the lower grades, but the amount changing hands was quite small, and spreads were about unchanged with No. 5 quoted at 1-4 better.

There were two reports from Kansas today sent in by private crop experts, and while they seemed to be of the opinion that Winter killing had not been excessive, they both agreed that the general condition of the plant was poor and that ideal weather was needed to assure an average crop yield. Country marketings in Western Canada continue on a fair scale and the total deliveries to date 432,038,100, compared with 347,229,834 bushels for the same period last year.

Coarse Grains: These markets held fairly steady, but a very light trade was passing. While there was pressure, the buying power was poor and light and there being no consumptive business whatever.

Flax: Dull, steady market. Closing prices unchanged.

Mining News

(N E Hennings & Co. Ltd.)

Production of crude oil, which is being obtained at United No 4, in the Dalhousie sands is being piped to the storage tanks of the Regal Refinery, work of laying the pipe line having being completed. A new 250 barrel storage tank will be fitted up at the beginning of next week to take care of the oil from this well. It is believed that the casing was not parted in the fire at the derrick, which caused it to be dropped down the hole. While fishing for the lost tools is being started immediately, tests which have been conducted so far have shown the casing to be all right.

Drilling is progressing at Spooner No. 2, which is sixty-two feet in the lime in a very hard formation. No fresh gas flows have been struck in this formation since drilling was resumed this week after new diamonds had been set in the bit. Everything is in readiness for drilling through the cement plug to be started Monday at Mcdougall Segur. This well reached the lime recently and it is intended to drill into the formation with special tools.

British Dominion No. 2 hopes to start drilling through the cement plug below the Mcdougall sands some time next week, but on Friday night arrangements were indefinite. Before any decision is made it would be necessary to ascertain that the cement is set. Good progress in drilling is expected. After passing through the cement, which was poured to prevent caving, no further difficulty was encountered. The formation in which the hole now is looks promising, it was stated by an official of the company.

Devenish No. 3 in the Skiff field is being drilled at a rate of about thirty feet per day, and it is expected that the oil sand would be found some time next week.

Home No. 2 well was carried another fifty-one feet towards the limestone, now being 115 feet below the horizon at which it was formerly taking production of crude oil.

Royalite Nos. 14 and 16, both of which are in the limestone progressed more than fifty feet during the week, while Bow River No 2 on the jumping pound, was drilled a further 140 feet. Foothill No. 2 has been cleaned to the bottom at the 3,707-foot level for drilling to be resumed, while good footage has been made at Home Nos. 3 and 4.

The Southwest Petroleum well is standing cemented at a depth of 220 feet. Rumors that McLeod No. 4 had come in with a crude oil or any other form of production were denied by the managing director of the company on his return from the well Friday evening.

FLUCTUATION INCREASES IN WHEAT MART

Spring Weather and Crop Scares Chief Influences During the Week at Chicago

ADVANTAGE WITH BULLS IN WHEAT

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, March 16.—Wheat is developing into a typical Spring weather and crop scare market with increasingly wide daily fluctuations. The crop situation is still pretty hazy, and evidence is still lacking that there has been any appreciable damage, but judging from reports from a number of sections the wheat has a dubious outlook, and with real growing weather the next few weeks, especially in the Southwest, a better line can be obtained on prospects.

The acreage of Winter wheat this year is considerably smaller than a year ago and this in itself is a moderately bullish factor. With any serious damage in any quarter, much would be made of it. In the Northwest moisture conditions appear to be quite satisfactory, but north of the line in Western Canada there has been a tremendous deficiency in seasonal Winter moisture, which may be a factor later if the Spring rains do not offset this situation. In other words the Canadian crop will need plenty of moisture during the season as there will be little reserve to draw on. Taking the reports available so far in this country and Europe it would seem that the prospective 1929 wheat crops of various countries are likely to fall short of the big yields of last year. Moreover, India has prospects of another crop short of domestic requirements, and there appears to be an undercurrent of anxiety abroad reflecting the possibility of damage from the abnormally low temperatures last Winter, which were general throughout Europe. It is still too early to bank any too confidently on what the crops will be, and caution is being observed in buying on the bulges, which appear to be a wide procedure, but the crop developments are being closely watched, and heavy buying will swing into the markets if it appears crops are seriously menaced.

Just what the farm relief legislation will do to the market is a question, but as its ultimate objective is the stabilizing, if not the uplifting, of prices, it is safe to assume that the market reaction to it will be bullish. Apparently the plans now being formulated contemplate the formation of a huge revolving fund which will permit the orderly marketing of the crops. With wheat prices far from a high basis now, it would seem, therefore, that any big decline in prices is unlikely, while the Government plans will probably give buyers encouragement and afford a basis for buying wheat, which would be greatly augmented if crop developments should be unfavorable.

Just at present the foreign spot markets are affected by extremely heavy Argentine offerings, although the Plate shipments were much smaller the past week at 5,604,000 bushels. Australia, however, shipped freely. The usual Winter distribution throughout Europe was hindered by abnormal weather conditions, and wheat backed up for a time. Canadian shipments continue fairly heavy for the season of the year and a big movement is likely after the opening of navigation.

With the market extremely susceptible to any bad crop news, and with the crop scare season just being ushered in, the advantage seems to rest with the bulls in wheat, if advantage is taken of reasonable setbacks.

CORN

The corn market has been drifting along without any leadership on either side. Bulls have been indifferent, but at the same time there has been little aggressive selling and the market has held fairly well. The domestic situation is about a standoff. Visible stocks are much smaller than a year ago, and primary arrivals have been much less than last year for several weeks past, and it is doubted if there is any burdensome run of corn. Total clearances this year have been less than expected on basis of forecasts made last Fall, but at the same time they have been enough to relieve the pressure of commercial stocks in this country. With the high prices for hogs, heavy feeding may make up for the smaller hog production to some extent, and with farm stocks only about the same as a year ago, the domestic situation is pretty well balanced. For the present a trading market is indicated within moderate price limits.

OATS

The movement of oats is way out of line with the farm reserve figure. It seems hardly logical that receipts could be as small, and country offerings so light, if the official and private estimates of farm reserves were correct. The Government estimated 501,000,000 bushels back on the farms on March 1. One day the past week receipts in Chicago were only eight cars.

After oats harvest last year there was a small carryover off old oats, and corn prices were remarkably high. As a result there was tremendous feeding of new oats right from the bundles. Thus, apparently, this feeding has kept up throughout the crop year and still continues. The farm reserves estimated will not be convincing until there is more evidence of country selling, especially as prices for oats are considered high enough to ordinarily induce free selling.

Rye—There was not much new in the rye situation. The market was irregular and in the main followed the leadership of wheat.

Daily Stock News
(Supplied by Miller, Court & Co., Ltd.)

Spooner—There is every indication that Spooner No. 2 should be one of the very first wells in Turner Valley to be completed. It is drilling sixty-one feet in the lime, one foot shallower than the point at which Royalite No. 18, a 250-barrel producer, got its big production. However, allowing for an average variation between the two wells it may be completed within a few days. No. 2 is a little less than two miles north of No. 18 and in a position that is equally as good from a geological viewpoint.

Merland Oil Company—One of the most important deals in connection with the oil industry for some time has just been completed at Vancouver by Merland Oil Company, Limited, which provides for the drilling of six new wells in Turner Valley this Summer. The company has now 4,500 acres of leases, of which a large proportion are in the Turner Valley structure. Some of Canada's leading business men have consented to go on the directorate of the company. The first well will be started just as soon as an agreement can be made with the contractor to carry out the work. The Merland is in a position to become one of Canada's very biggest independent oil companies. It was financed in record time through Stobie, Forlong & Company.

The Merland has an authorized capitalization of 1,500,000 shares without nominal par value.

Pike Lake Oil & Gas Development & Exploration Company—Pike Lake Oil & Gas Development & Exploration Company, Limited, of Saskatoon, will spud in next week on the Pike Lake structure, nineteen miles southwest of Saskatoon, according to S. R. Evans, who was a visitor in the city last week. The Pike Lake company owns 7,000 acres on the structure which has been approved by E. B. Emmerick and Dr. D. E. Olsen. The drilling outfit which was used in the old Victory is being employed at Pike Lake. The authorized capital of the company, which has a Dominion charter, is $300,000 in shares of $1 par value.

Mayland—The Mayland was drilling at a depth of 5,137 feet when the last report was received from the field. A. J. McWilliam, managing director of the company, told the oil examiner. The lime should be reached very shortly with ordinary luck.

Premier General Meeting, April 2—The annual general meeting of Premier Gold Mining Company will be held in Vancouver on April 2. Considerable attention attaches to the meeting in view of the marked activity of the company in connection with its new Portland Canal properties, Porter-Idaho, Prosperity, and Silverado. Premier has paid more than $12,000,000 in dividends.

Topley holds metal values. A progress report from O. Groves, engineer in charge of work, states that in No. 1 drift north on the 200-foot level at Topley, average values in gold were .62 ounce, while silver ran thirty-five ounces to the ton, or a total value of $32.37 a ton in gold and silver. Base metal values increase this total materially.

MARKET SHOWS IRREGULARITY

Fairly Good Resistance at New York to Pressure as a Whole

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Mar. 16.—The market was distinctly irregular today. Coppers and oils gained ground at the expense of the steel and motor section of the list. Some minus signs resulted from heavy week-end realizing, but the market as a whole showed fairly good resistance to pressure.

Radio was a feature rising to its high of all time under a confident class of buying. The weekly business organs were of an encouraging interpretation, copper metal prices were quoted ⅛ high at 21¼ cents export, the highest price reached in ten years. The oils responded to reports from Houston of efforts to arrive at some curtailment programme. They were also probably aided by Washington advices about the inquiry into all oil leases. There were influences carried over that also leaned toward the favorable side. There appears to be no abatement in the demand for some of the selective issues, and this doubt is having its effect on sentiment, which in turn is a propelling force in the present market.

Oregon Copper

The outlook for the copper industry is exceedingly bright, according to the opinion of authorities on the subject. The increased demand for the use of the metal is evident even to the layman. This will reflect itself upon the earnings of copper companies which are in a position to develop their properties at a low cost. The Oregon Copper Company lends itself to large-scale production, the gold content of the ore is sufficient almost to pay for entire mining, milling and smelting costs of the copper. The successful development going on at present will justify higher prices based on the merits of the property and the blocked-out ore, rather than stock speculation. The investor wins over the speculator in the long run, because he bases himself on economic facts and sound judgment.

Development of Canada to Be First Consideration

THE need for a plan of investment which will meet the necessities of the average investor has led "Canada's Oldest Bond House" to enlarge its activities by the incorporation of "Stimson's Canadian Development Co., Limited." The features of this company's offering to investors are its two series of debentures and the possibilities for large dividends on its common stock.

The 6% Redeemable Debentures issued in denominations of $100 and upwards afford the investor the privilege of cashing his security upon thirty days' notice to the company. We believe that this is the first time that such a privilege has been offered in Canada to debenture holders and it gives the investor a long-looked-for freedom in making his investments, knowing as he does, that at any time he can receive the full return of his money plus accrued interest upon thirty days' notice. The company will at all times retain a reserve of cash and negotiable securities for the purpose of redeeming such debentures of this issue as may be desired by the holders thereof.

The 7% First Charge Debentures offered at par in denominations of $100 and upwards will be repaid with interest on any date specified by the investor on his original application. This plan will enable the investor to invest his funds at a slightly higher than current rates and still obtain repayment upon any date that he may name, provided that such date is specified in the original application. These debentures are the first charge against the assets of the company and rank prior to the 6% debentures as well as to the common stock. Subscribers to the 7% First Charge Debentures are also given the privilege to purchase (at a price of $1.00 per share) 20 no par value shares of the common stock of the company for each $100 of the debentures allotted to him, thus giving the investor a participation in the profits of the company in addition to a fixed income.

The directors of "Canada's Oldest Bond House" have, for many years, sought a plan of investment sufficiently elastic to meet the public needs, and under this plan the investor will know just when his securities will be redeemed and can set his own time and date for the surrender of his certificates.

The first investment of the Stimson's Canadian Development Co., Limited, was the purchase of an important property in the heart of the business section of Vancouver, upon which the company will erect the largest and most handsome office building in Canada west of Toronto. Conditions at Vancouver today provide opportunity for the building of a much greater city than they have at the present time, and the demand for such a building is already seen in the number of applications and inquiries that have been received for office space in the building.

There is no doubt that under the provisions of this new company the investor stands to receive substantial dividends on the common stock. The men chosen for the board of directors have proven by their previous experience that they are qualified to invest the funds of the company without risk and to the benefit of the company's shareholders.

THE MARINE BUILDING, VANCOUVER

The first transaction of Stimson's Canadian Development Co., Limited, is the erection of the tallest office building in Western Canada, namely, the Marine Building, at the corner of Burrard and Hastings Streets, Vancouver, B.C. This building will be twenty stories high and located on the most prominent corner in Vancouver. The Company purchased the site upon which the building is to be erected for $300,000.

United States Lead in Radio Production Data

Great Britain and Germany Are Second in Line With About 2,000,500 Sets Each in Use —Billion People Within Reception Distance

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Radio broadcasting has had seven years of public development, and in that time has spread its services to something like one hundred thousand people throughout the world. An index to the phenomenal universal spread of radio services is furnished in the 1928-29 annual report on radio markets of the world just completed by Lawrence D. Batson, Department of Commerce expert.

Broadcasting services, Mr Batson finds, are now available in practically every civilized country. One billion of the world's one billion, seven hundred and forty-eight million the zones of constant reception, distance of broadcasting stations. About twenty million receiving sets are in use in the world, nearly half of them being found in the United States.

Using an average of five members to each family, Mr. Batson arrives at the estimate of one hundred million as the world's radio audience. He asserts that it would take two hundred million sets to provide radio for all the persons now living within the zones of constand reception. With broadcasting facilities available everwhere, nearly three hundred and fifty million sets would be required.

RADIO LICENCES

All these figures are intended to hearten the American exporter of radio products, for whom the Batson compilation is filled with invaluable economic data. The American receiving set owner would find the report interesting chiefly for the contrasts it presents.

For example, in all other countries broadcasting is a monopoly, either in the hands of the government or private concessionaires; the United States and Canada pursue a laissez faire policy, restricting the number of stations only after the air lanes have become overcrowded.

Censorship of varying degrees is exercised in most countries, in the United States there is no censorship. Licences for receiving sets are required in nearly all countries, many supporting their broadcast structure in that way rather than through audible advertising revenues.

A movement to impose licences on American receivers was immediately squelched several years ago by popular outcry. Licences vary from five cents per year in France to nine dollars in Japan. The British tax is two dollars and forty-five cents; the German, five dollars and seventy cents; and the Australian, five dollars and eighty-five cents.

Mr. Batson accepts the estimate of nine million, six hundred and forty thousand, three hundred and forty-eight in the Daniel Starch report, prepared for the National Broadcasting Company, as the most reliable and authentic of all estimates concerning the number in use in the United States.

FIGURES ISSUED

The other leaders are said to be Great Britain and Germany, with about two million and five hundred sets each, France, with one million two hundred and fifty thousand; Japan, with five hundred and fifty thousand; Argentina, with five hundred and thirty thousand, and Sweden, with three hundred and seventy-one thousand.

Government licence statistics were used largely in arriving at these statistics, and these revealed Canada with two hundred and thirty thousand sets.

The Government trade expert remarks that voice radio, emerging within the decade after some twelve years in the laboratory, has become "a part of civilization exceeded in importance by few other contributors to the advancement of the human race."

"In almost every respect," Mr. Batson says, "its field is broad and extensive. The influence on modern life exercised by the press, the pulpit, the school, the stage and the lecture platform hardly exceeds that of radio. Those institutions are limited to their respective fields, and radio operates successfully in all of them.

"This does not mean that radio replaces or even rivals those institutions," Mr Batson continued. Much of a newspaper cannot be broadcast, and the details of news items cannot be given through the microphone. The style and length of the book and magazine story are entirely unsuited to broadcasting. The stage and lecture platform can never lose, even through radiovision, the attraction of a personal appearance, any more than they have through sound broadcasting.

"In education, the recital is too fundamental to suppose the possibility of radio replacing the school. The pulpit in its capacity of presenting a message to the congregation can be broadcast successfully, but the church as a place of worship cannot be replaced by the radio. The entire purpose which radio can serve in these connections is only as a complement, but as a complement it has proved highly successful and valuable."

RADIO DICTION AWARDS TO BE MADE IN APRIL

Interest in the radio diction award of the American Academy of Arts and Letters is resulting in the radio departments of many newspapers throughout the country conducting straw votes so that the public may nominate its favorite announcer. Radio editors are then communicating with Hamlin Garland, chairman of the Radio Award Committee of the American Academy of Arts and Letters at 633 West One Hundred and Fifty-Fifth Street, New York.

Mr. Garland is now in California and has been communicating with authorities on the West Coast to see that the West has every opportunity to present the claims of its announcers.

All of the announcers heard on the Columbia Broadcasting System have been created h ?
have been entered in the lists of regular microphone speakers qualified to be considered by the members of the academy in making the award. The announcers of the Columbia Broadcasting System and its associated chain stations total almost 200.

Members of the Federated Women's Clubs of the Southern District of California are actively interested in the effort which the academy is making to bring good diction into the American home.

The contest will close during the last week in March and the good diction award will be made in April in connection with the ceremonies which will mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the academy.

ALMA GLUCK TO MAKE POSTPONED APPEARANCE IN DE FOREST HOUR

Andrew Mack is Star of St. Patrick's Day Sonatron Programme This Afternoon

Andrew Mack, Irish singer and actor, will be the star of the Irish hour in honor of St. Patrick's Day that the Sonatron programme will present this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in their broadcast which will be released over stations of the A.B.C. network.

Andrew Mack has been on the American stage for thirty years, and during that time has toured the world in plays with music. The music for which he has been famous is in most cases of his own composition. He was a member of the original company in New York of "Abie's Irish Rose," and played his role during the entire six-year run of that play.

This radio appearance will be Mack's first on an important coast-to-coast hookup. His programme will consist of his most beloved Irish songs and ballads in honor of the great Irish saint, and will include "Finnegan's Ball," "I Love You, Honey," "Molly Flanagan," and "The Wearing of the Green."

MAJESTIC HOUR

Walter Kelly, famous monologist, will be featured in the hour which the Majestic Theatre of the Air broadcasts tonight at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Kelly is known as "The Virginia Judge." Humorist, historian, his narratives are supposedly the actual happenings of the little Virginia courthouse, where the real "naggers" of the South make up the majority of those brought in. Ample material is found there, and Kelly's sense of humor, his method of delineation and his story-telling ability are as broad as his experience, and helped to make him the public's idol in London and one of the foremost monologists in America.

The remainder of the Majestic programme will consist of a number of musical offerings in honor of St. Patrick's Day. Redferne Hollinshead, "Majestic tenor," will sing "All Erin Is Calling Mavourneen" and Stanford's lovely lyric, "Molly Branagan," and Arnold Johnson and the Majestic orchestra will include among their pieces "Mother Machree," a group of Irish waltzes and an Irish medley.

TRANSCONTINENTAL

Alma Gluck, who was forced to postpone her scheduled radio concert because of illness, will make her long-looked-forward-to appearance in the De Forest Hour this afternoon at 4 o'clock, Pacific Standard Time.

Miss Gluck, one of the world's most famous sopranos, is known to all music-lovers. She has sung in concert recitals in many parts of the globe, and has been heard in more than twenty roles with the Metropolitan Opera Company. Since her marriage to Efrem Zimbalist, the violinist in 1914, she has made only infrequent public appearances, and this is her first bow to the radio audience.

Miss Gluck has elected to sing two folk songs of Bille Kenna, arranged by Zimbalist, and a group of American popular songs, consisting of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "Little Old Log Cabin in the West" and "My Old Kentucky Home."

In addition, the De Forest Band, with Arthur Pryor as guest conductor, will include on this programme such numbers as "Reminiscences of Ireland," arranged by Godfrey Seliencick's "Retreat of the Tartars," and Pryor's own march, "The Irish King."

To Celebrate Birthday

Frederick E. Bristol, one of the most noted vocal teachers in America, will celebrate his ninetieth birthday soon. For sixty-five years he has been developing some of the world's greatest singers, the names among his pupils, or associates, Nordica, Caruso, Scotti, Schuman-Heink and others. He is seen in the picture with one of his most famous people, Franklyn Baur, tenor, former Ziegfeld star and now exclusive artist for the "Voice of Firestone." Mr. Bristol has said that Baur is the ideal exponent of young American talent and the aged teacher gives him as the leading American singer of American sentiments. The Baur records are said to be the most popular of any Victor reproductions. Of particular interest, too, is the manufactured carved chair in which Mr. Bristol is seated. This was presented to him by Princess Beatrice, granddaughter of Queen Victoria, and a pupil of the famous teacher. The chair was formerly in the Cobura palace of Duke Alfred of Gotha and is a replica of one originally owned by King Edward VII, now in Buckingham Palace, London.

$10,000 'CELLO

Bruno Colletti, first Portland Symphony 'cellist and recognized as one of the finest 'cellists on the Pacific Coast, has joined the KGW family as staff 'cellist. Mr. Colletti is a finished musician in both solo and orchestral work and is the owner of a 'cello valued at $10,000.

MUSIC FROM LATIN COUNTRIES BILLED OVER KOMO "MIKE"

American, Spanish, French and Italian music share in creating the romantic atmosphere in the playette, "Memoirs of a Bachelor Maid," to be broadcast by KOMO, Seattle, Monday evening at 9:30 o'clock.

The setting for this playette is an old Colonial mansion in the hills of Virginia on a Thanksgiving Eve. Emma and Rufus, the negro servants, prepare the dinner for the morrow while they discuss their mistress, the bachelor maid, who dwells much in the retrospect. They remember then Miss Nancy was the belle of Virginia, fairly besieged by suitors from many lands. As each suitor is recalled to memory, music characteristic of his own personality and country furnishes the background.

This half hour radio playette is a sequel to "Memoirs of a Bachelor" presented by KOMO last week at this same time and day.

With the "Blue Danube Waltz" as their first number, the Popular Orchestra of KOMO will broadcast an hour of well-known favorite popular and symphonic numbers, "Toy Soldiers' Parade," "Rackety Coo," from Friml's musical play "Katinka" and the "Original Dixieland one-Step" a symphonic arrangement, are a fair "sampling" of what they will play. James Harvey will be heard as vocalist.

CFCT'S SUNSET HOUR

Well-Known Composers Will Be Presented During Monday Evening Broadcast

Twelve different composers will be represented on CFCT's Sunset programme Monday evening, from 8:30 to 7:30 o'clock. Herold's overture, "Zampa," will open the nightly hour with the Sunset Broadcasters. Among other musical works are Gabriel-Marie's "La Cinquantaine," "Suite Melodique," by Rudolf Friml, and a selection from Jerome Kern's "The Show Boat." Five modern songs, by as many different composers, will close the hour of classical music over CFCT, Victoria's radio station.

Half an hour of dance music from the Empress Hotel, from 7:30 to 8 p.m., will close CFCT's activities for Monday evening.

WANDERING POET

Charles Keeler, the wandering poet, is receiving hundreds of congratulatory letters resulting from his success as a radio playwright. Keeler is the author of the "Skipper Brown Yarns," which are being presented by the KGO Players every Friday night at 8 o'clock. His sea stories mark an important development in radio drama history, according to press comments by eminent California critics.

PIANIST AT KGO

Frank Castle, pianist for the Damonte Novelty Trio at KGO, conducts an orchestra of ten men for one of the largest theatre chains on the Pacific Coast. He is only twenty-two years old and has been active in the musical field in a professional way for ten years.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

NO MORE BOW LEGS

It has been believed in the past that bow legs are caused by the baby attempting to walk too early in life, but there is considerable evidence to indicate that this is true. Babies do not attempt to walk or crawl until their tissues are strong enough to withstand the strain.

Most cases of bow legs are caused by the baby's diet not being rich enough in bone building substances. Of course a few babies seem to be bow legged naturally, but I am quite sure that the majority would have correctly formed limbs if the mother's diet preceding the birth, and the baby's diet subsequent to birth, were properly balanced.

If the mother notices that the child's legs are distinctly bowed, she may be able to correct the deformity if she begins early enough in the child's life—before the age of fifteen to eighteen months, while the bones are still pliable.

A slight bow of the baby's legs is normal and should cause no alarm, but if the bending is excessive, it can be corrected to a large extent by gently attempting to bend the baby's legs in the proper direction of two or three times daily. This may sound like a severe treatment, but if it is done properly, it will not cause the least bit of discomfort to the baby, since the child's bones bend readily. Very severe cases, of course, should be treated by an orthopedist.

If the expectant mother's or the nursing mother's diet contains a sufficient quantity of the bone-building foods such as spinach, cabbage, Swiss chard, turnips, asparagus, cress, lettuce, celery, cucumbers, tomatoes, lemons, oranges, milk and egg yolk, the baby will also receive sufficient bone-forming elements. If the baby is bottle fed, it should be allowed plenty of raw sertified milk and orange juice, to which diet may be added small amounts or raw carrot juice, spinach juice or tomato juice.

A baby with improper bone formation should also be exposed for a few minutes daily to the action of the direct sunlight, or if this is not available, to the actinic light, which many physicians have installed. After eighteen months of age, it is still possible to correct bow legs to a slight degree through the use of leg bending and strengthening exercises, but the bones are harder and no great change can be expected.

It is almost useless for adults to expect to straighten the bones of their legs if they are badly bowed. However, by taking exercises such as the deep knee bend and alternately raising on the toes and heels, the muscles of the calf may be so developed that the bow is not noticeable. Exercises also have their legs broken and reset in a straighter position, but this treatment is not generally advisable because bones do not always heal exactly as they are supposed to, and sometimes the result is not satisfactory to the patient.

For Colds —

How many people you know who end their colds with Aspirin! And how often you've heard of its prompt relief of sore throat or tonsilitis. No wonder millions take it for colds, neuralgia, rheumatism; and the aches and pains that go with them. The wonder is that anyone still worries through a winter without these tablets! They relieve quickly, yet have no effect whatever on the heart. Friends have often told you Aspirin is marvelous; doctors have declared it harmless. Every druggist has it, with proven directions. Why not put it to the test?

Aspirin is a Trademark Registered in Canada

Robinson Crusoe Advertised!

ROBINSON Crusoe was stranded—and sick of it! Only his man Friday and a goat and a parrot for companionship! He wanted to get off the island, and to do this he knew he must communicate with people who were not as far off, in ships. So he did what any man does who wants to reach people—he advertised!

True, he had only a ragged shirt with which to do his advertising, but he stuck it on a pole, secured the pole in the ground and waited—for days! Didn't get discouraged at the first days of failure, you see. No good advertiser does!

And finally—he got results!

If Robinson Crusoe, with one old shirt, could accomplish his purpose, could reach the folks he sought, what do you think you could do with the infinite advertising possibilities offered you?

Artistic type at your disposal—skillful printers to set it into what ever message you choose—and the folks you want to reach all near at hand!

Doesn't it stand to reason you'd get results, too?

The MAYTAG Water Remover alone cost $275.00

From Quebec to Vancouver and in England, Australia and United States, the Maytag is supreme. It has been Canada's favorite washer for 25 years. It represents greater value per dollar.

The Maytag Company owns and controls the new Roller water Remover which was developed at a cost of over a quarter of a million dollars. It has overalls rolls. The deep, flexible top roll hugs the lumps, folds and seams in the clothes, gushing the soap and dirty water out, leaving them evenly dry without injury to buttons, snaps or ornaments.

Latest News From Wall Street

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

The call rate held unchanged at 7 per cent, although there was a turnover of funds estimated at $2,000,000, and the work passed among the money brokers was that a comparative ease may be expected for a few days at least.

Yesterday was a petroleum day in Wall Street, with five large companies reporting earnings for 1928, satisfactory advices from Houston on an expected curtailment programme to relieve present over-production, rising prices for oil stocks, and an announcement that the Sinclair Consolidated had acquired the Central Oil, one of the oldest and largest marketing concerns in the Ohio territory. All the earnings reports showed good gains for 1928.

Trade reviews find business fair to good. Steel production is reaching new records. Weather checks country buying.

The American Petroleum Institute committee believes oil production is on the way to being stabilized. A proposal to reduce the production of crude oil by 35,000 barrels a day, to be spread equally over the three leading oil-producing states, Oklahoma, Texas and California, was understood to have been placed before a meeting of the committee. Inasmuch as it was a closed meeting, no confirmation was available of the report that the committee would recommend such action to the institute, but this was the belief of men in close touch with members of the committee.

The Fisk Rubber Company is prepared to extend its already large foreign marketing organization, it was learned yesterday in Wall Street, and for this purpose has formed three subsidiaries with a nominal capitalization to operate in Cuba, Mexico and the Philippines.

St. Paul Railway handled 76,756 revenue freight cars in first fourteen days of March, against 80,213 for same 1928 period.

Southern Pacific ordered ten modern all-steel lounge cars, costing $300,000. Toledo industrial employment decreased 771 in week ended March 15, to 47,952 against 35,458, a year ago.

National Sugar Refining Company, year ended December 31, net income of $3,272,986, after depreciation, interest and taxes.

Trade advices note expanding demand, with pressure for quick deliveries in some lines, indicating low stocks and need for prompt replenishment, says Duns'.

International Nickel again led the market in volume, closing 1 1-4 lower. Much of the current buying is of a confident nature. The annual meeting is being held on Tuesday and some hope is expressed that it may be productive of further information regarding current operations on the Frood.

Dominion Bridge continued steady, closing one-half lower. Throughout the unsettled market conditions of the last month, and longer, this stock has given a remarkable firm performance. With the tremendous amount of work on hand or to come, this company is attracting a steady demand.

Houston Judge C. B. Ames, vice-president in charge of legal department of Texas Corporation, acting as spokesman for committee of oil operators in Houston, stated that while regional committees were in executive session many splendid suggestions for the ultimate benefit of the oil industry were being made.

New Cornelia Copper Mining Company, controlled by Calumet and Arizona, year ended December 31, net income of $5,008,195, after all charges except depletion, or $2.76 a share on 1,800,000 capital shares, against $3,136,772 or $1.47 a share in 1927.

Chicago & Northwestern Railway in first fourteen days of March handled 76,374 revenue freight cars against 77,210 for same 1928 period. No ore loadings are included in above figures.

Standard Oil, of Ohio, 1928 net profits after depreciation and Federal taxes were $3,896,546, equal, after preferred dividends, to $6.06 a share on 560,000 shares of common, against $2,335,042 or $3.30 a share in 1927.

J. S. Bache & Company—Speaking for the immediate, construction-ists appear to have any number of incentives to press their advantage further. Difficulties will probably be encountered next week, but for the present a high scale of prices seems in prospect.

Hornblower & Weeks—We believe the steels are the feature group and United States Steel is the normal leader. In view of the record-breaking production figures and satisfactory price levels, we would buy this stock. We would buy Kennecott as the immediate leader of the present move in copper stocks, and among the smaller companies would prefer Greene Cananea.

News and Comment on Business Supplied by R. P. Clark & Co. (Victoria), Limited

WALL STREET GOSSIP

There was a sharp division last night between the attitude of the professional traders and the important interests that had so much to do with the bullish demonstration in the past few days. The speculative element, both on the floor and street, were almost unanimous in predicting declining prices in today's two hours' trading. They insisted that the advances that brought so many stocks to new high records yesterday were too rapid to be maintained overnight and that the higher levels in themselves would bring in an increased supply today.

Those who hold the position of being able to direct price movements over a wide range were not disturbed by those expressions of bearish sentiment but were positive in the opinion that the important factor in the market is the changed conditions that have resulted from the fact that credit position has not been disturbed. The Street, however, was full of apprehensions over possibilities of increased bank rate, both in Boston and in this city during the week.

The calls attracted importance to the fact that there was no withdrawal of money to meet the Government requirements yesterday and that the coming week will start with the receipt of $10,000,000 gold from abroad. A direct bullish force must naturally be exerted on the copper stocks because of the advance in copper metals for domestic delivery yesterday to 21 cents a pound, the highest touched in recent years. This will justify higher prices for the leading producers, including Kennecott and Anaconda, and may put Anaconda to a new high record today. Yesterday's activity and strength in Seneca Copper attracted attention to the market outlook for that stock. It has a bond issue of $400,000 exchangeable at 15, and some of those concerned in the company tell associates that it is intended to put Seneca above that exchange level. The stock has been steadily accumulated over a period of several weeks and is in position to make full response to the advance in the metal yesterday.

Oil stocks are generally expected to respond to developments at the Houston meeting. Those who are in touch with the meeting tell friends that they are certain that an agreement in regard to production will be reached and they are confident that with this result attained, oil stocks generally will make good progress to higher levels during the coming week. Standard Oil of N.J. is looked on as the leader in this group and was in special demand yesterday.

Selected amusement stocks have good prospects for advance in prices in the near future. Paramount-Famous Players, which yesterday made a new high record, is expected to be most prominent in bullish activities in this group.

COMING EVENTS

The motors, after several months of relative inactivity, are again coming into popularity.

There exists a sound basis for a major move in this group. Over the next two months we expect to see much higher prices for such leading issues as Packard, Nash, Chrysler, General Motors, Hupmobile, Hudson and Studebaker; among the non-dividend-paying issues we particularly favor Graham-Paige.

American Radiator: After the split-up has become effective, Radiator New should sell at very much higher equivalent prices than the old stock. We consider ADT an attractive purchase on any recession.

Shubert Theatre: We think there is a strong probability of a merger being completed between Shubert and Warner Brothers. Such a development would be entirely logical inasmuch as it would promote a more profitable use of Shubert's very valuable theatre holdings.

United States Industrial Alcohol's earnings are continuing their upward trend and banking interests who are identified with former major moves in the stock have been accumulating. We think UD should be bought to hold for a major advance to around 200.

Montgomery-Ward appears to be headed for much higher levels. Its chain store business is developing faster than expected and earnings from that source are mounting steadily. We expect Montgomery-Ward to have a major advance to new high territory before the middle of this year.

Texas Corporation is one of the most attractive issues in the oil group. If the oils are to have a major advance Texas will undoubtedly be one of the leaders.

Spring Brings Many Fine Fashion Suggestions

Spring Ushered In With Pretty Style Features in Models for All Tastes

Leading Local Stores Prepare to Make Many Attractive Offerings in Seasonable Requirements of Women's Wear — Trend Again Towards Use of Tweed

Principal Couturiers Frown Upon The Radical Departures in Design

THE world of Nature turns its thoughts towards the great awakening of Spring, and Winter's dull garments, sombre browns and blacks, are put aside, while the searching eyes of earliest Springtime demands that new garments be donned. It is said that "Spring comes slowly up this year," but already the first snowdrops and primroses have braved the last vagabond breezes and defying all chilling obstacles are blooming in all their fresh loveliness.

Dame Fashion, too, has been weaving threads of mystery through these long Winter months, and from her wardrobe brings forth a new and gorgeous array of beautiful things. Not a detail is overlooked. Hats, frocks, shoes, hosiery, coats and wraps against the early winds which persist in blowing, as well as the hundred-and-one little etceteras, which add the final touch to the perfect costume—all are ready, and the shops are preparing for their Spring displays. The window dressers are impatient to deck their windows with some of the most tempting creations, while in the inner sanctums there are rows and rows of the most fascinating frocks that will eventually make their way to the great fashion parade of Spring.

NO RADICAL CHANGES

A review of fashions as presented by the leading couturiers recently would seem to indicate that creators of fashion have realized the undeniable fact that radical changes in dress are not wanted. As a result they have concentrated on fabrics and colorings, and each one of those important details of a woman's costume that make or mar it. Daytime clothes seem to have reached a static stage, so far as the general style goes—women have refused to countenance any change therein—and it is only in the domain of afternoon and evening gowns that the couturier has had a chance this season to display all his finer, subtler forms of workmanship.

For the past three or four seasons a lively campaign has ben led by manufacturers, assisted by the couturiers, to combat the modern woman's almost complete adoption of the abbreviated skirt. The long-skirted gown has been tentatively offered in preceding collections, but the Spring showings have frankly adopted the new line, so that longer skirts for anything but "sports wear" is the order of the day. Frills and ornaments have also reappeared after many seasons of complete abandonment, and the consequence is that the gown of today requires almost twice as much material as that of three years ago.

So far as fabrics are concerned, printed designs will undoubtedly be very largely used, especially in the silks. Never before have manufacturers produced material so delicate and subtle in design and coloring nor of such efficient workmanship and finish. Most of the new designs show extreme simplicity of line. Geometric patterns, so much in favor for a short time, have been completely replaced by softer, more delicately combined designs, as well as imaginative outbursts of colors, all of which call for the most careful artistry on the part of French designers. Solid colors are less freely used, and the patterns that seem to have found most favor this season are variations of the polka dot and both large and small floral designs. Dark backgrounds share equal favor with the light, and there is, of course, a predominance of black, yellows and greens.

HUDSON'S BAY CO. STORE

The Hudson's Bay Company will have its Spring opening shortly, and there are some treats in store for those who love beautiful clothes. There seems to be a decided trend towards tweed, whether in woolen or silk fabrics, for the softest silks are woven in tweed effects, which make charming frocks or suits for either sports or dress wear. The woolen jumpers, always so popular, are even more lovely this year, and the pastel shades are in great demand. Some of the most attractive jumpers shown by this firm are of softest cashmere with contrasting stripes of pure silk, the combination is particularly good and the range of colors gives a wide choice.

Angus Campbell & Company, Limited, also has a very fine selection of the better jumpers and tuxedo style for sports wear, their two-piece suits being of exceptionally good quality and style. Angora, too, is a favorite for sports wear, its silky softness appealing to those who would combine beauty with comfort.

The Hudson's Bay Company is featuring a new cross-over jumper of ice wool for the larger figure, its long lines being very becoming. This firm is specializing in Soflex coats, which come in coarse tweed mixtures as well as the softer weaves. The three-piece printed silk costume will be worn this year, and basket-weave is popular. An innovation is the full length velveteen coat, with gay silk lining. It is light and exceedingly smart. Afternoon dresses are chiefly of silks, plain and printed, and the new shades are a delight to behold.

It is amazing that each year a new range of colors is shown, and the names this year are often decidedly original. There is rose blush, vanilla brown, gateau, bamboo, sherry brown, engadine and larkspur, bird blue and blue de Lyon, peppermint and grasshopper green, and, of course, the very popular sun shades, sunni, sand, Miramar, with Gorza and firefly in the brilliant red and silver wing, a deliciously soft grey.

The hat department has more delights. If eyes, as has been said, are the most beautiful of women's features, the latest Spring hats will be welcomed, for the new shapes are all being made to reveal the forehead and eyes. The impression is that the hat is worn farther back on the head, but the effect is gained by a clever cut. There is little felt being shown by this firm, ballibuntl, Bakou, filet crochet and hemp for the lacelike effects, crocheted yedda, and Swiss hair braid, perle hemp, neora and Paris-meme are all popular. A new and original model is made of fine horse-hair with a tiny check pattern.

The great point is that the hat must fit the head. The style of the hat, its fit and its color are the three important features. All the sunburn shades are "good," the milliners tell us, Pantella brown, Castilian red, Pandora green, brioche and black are chief colors.

DAVID SPENCER, LTD.

Messrs. David Spencer, Limited, is showing some beautiful coats, tan-beige the predominating shade, with broadtail trimming. Tinted muskrat and mole are popular trimmings on the smarter coats, though even this touch of fur is not essential. Scarves, collars and the trimming of pleats, pin tucks and self material are in many cases ample decoration, and it is noticeable that cuffs have returned to do their part in adding a novelty touch. Capes, too, are seen on many of the wraps. A number of charming ensembles are seen. These are made of Kasha or tweed, and flannels in the new colors are also featured. This firm is the sole agent for the Deja dresses, six being sent from New York each month, and they are sold here for exactly the same price as in the great Eastern centre. They are of particularly good cut, and the printed silks exclusive. Outsize dresses are stocked, and the styles and colorings are more pleasing this year than ever before.

There are some charming little boutonniers to wear with Spring costumes, and the novelty jewelry, without which no outfit is complete, is presented in a scintillating array.

ANGUS CAMPBELL CO., LTD.

Angus Campbell & Company, Limited, who specialize in the beautiful Golflex goods have some tempting models in both coats and frocks. The Golflex wool georgette dresses, with their thoroughly "good-looking" lines, their simplicity and finish, are seen in shades of all the browns, blues and greens. Jersey is a popular material for Golflex goods. The Shagmoor coats, which are sold here exclusively by this firm, are trimmed with the softest and most luxuriant fur, Azuria cloth, trimmed with Gallyac (a fur very much like broadcloth) as well as tweeds, with no fur trimming, grandina with cuff features and serviceable cloth travel coats are among the most tempting.

From one distinguished designer comes a choice selection of evening frocks. Their colors and materials are really beautiful, and grouped together in the showroom they appear like gorgeous butterflies shimmering in the sun. Brass is one of the new colors, and an original evening gown has a girdle of brass velvet ribbon, while a brass satin afternoon dress is another charming model. Again the sun shades are in evidence, for the present craze of make-up and sun-tan materials is a very real fact. In the South, the ultra-fashionable are inserting a V-shaped piece of sunburn net from the neck of evening frocks at the back, while the complexion is helped along by means of the sunburn cosmetic to match the V. Woe unto the flapper of fashion who does not possess a sunburned skin. She must be a "nut-brown maid" to be in style. While this craze may be a good deal more healthy than pretty, it is problematic whether it will last, and the effort of bleaching again is already interesting the beauty specialists.

Steeplechase blue, chenoyne, beiges and raspberry are among the most popular of the shades of the afternoon and sports frocks. In the glove department are seen the newest eight-button length gauntlets, made of glace kid, the button fastening on the upper side of the arm. Violets and velvety pansies are among the most sought-after of artificial flowers. Among the hosiery are some diaphonous silks, the new shades being beachskin, bareskin fairskin, clearskin, roseskin, sunskin and Springtone. The days of black, brown, white or grey stockings are of the dim past, and today there are thirty-seven different shades shown.

ACCESSORIES GIVE CHARM

Spring Smartness Depends Largely Upon Careful Attention to Details of Costuming

NOVELTIES SEEN IN GLOVE FABRICS

By their accesories you will know the smart women of fashion; because upon these little whims of the mode Spring smartness depends, and fashionables have come to know their importance.

It is these little things that are so loved by the French woman. She selects her handbags with the most infinite care, her hose must be the correct shade and of enviable sheerness, her jewels must first of all be her type and, secondly, they must be appropriate to the time and place they are worn. It is this careful attention to costume detail that has made the French woman admired the world over.

This season, when milady sets about on her hunt for smart new accessories, she will be amazed at the feminizing influence on Spring fashions.

CONCERNING NECKWEAR

In neckwear especially is this return to things feminine noted. For collars have returned on Spring frocks and the neckwear departments all over town are showing crispy, fresh new collar and cuff sets with ingeniously placed frills and tucking and no end of lace. They tell us that never has lace been so good as this season. It doesn't seem to matter how elaborate the styles are in lace neckwear, just so they have good lines and are properly fashioned.

GLOVES ARE NOVEL

Gloves may come and gloves may go, but the simple washable pull-on goes about its smart fashion way as nonchalantly as ever. However, this season, more than ever before, fastenings are individual and interesting. Even though many gloves go in for intricateness in the general styling, fancy decoration is noticeable by its absence. They are tailored, to be sure, but never is it severe, rather it is a novelty, simplified and smartly tailored.

We can always depend on Worth to do the unusual. This Spring he introduces an extremely smart glove, reminiscent of cavalier days, with its gauntlet cuffs which reach above the elbows of some of the newest Spring frocks. These gloves are most practical, too, as they are tubbable and of the pull-on variety.

HANDBAGS OF LEATHER

The "big three" of the handbag family for Spring are box calf, morocco and embroidered silks. Some of the very smartest handbags we have ever seen are the tailored types the stores are showing for Spring in calf. Under-arm and pouch styles of calfskin are trimmed with twisted leather and large buttons.

For more formal use, fabric bags are presented. Beige moire with metallic and colored thread embroidery combined with leather applique; Beauvais on black moire pastel crepes de Chine with delicate tracery of gold and silver threads, mounted with shell frames and rigid shell handles.

BLACK AND WHITE FOR EVENING WEAR

Trailing Draperies With Smart Contrasts Are to Be Observed

Black velvet evening wraps trimmed with lavish white fox or ermine collars and deep cuffs fashioned on straight coat lines are popular. Vionnet wraps with snug hip-lines and long pointed floating drapes have obtained the approval of leaders in the world's style centres.

Consistent with the theme of black and white are shown many evening gowns of black chiffon or white satin, an occasional gold embroidered net or point d'esprit. Long trailing draperies proved an invariable rule, most frequently interpreting the longer line at the back. Brilliant red or jade green satin slippers brought the only touch of color to these formal costumes.

To clean soiled upholstered furniture or rugs. Scrub them thoroughly with a clean, dry scrubbing brush and common table salt.

Attractive Designs Mark Influence of Paris

FIRST TIPS ON spring fashions

THE wise woman of fashion goes about investing in her Spring wardrobe much in the manner of the wise investor in the stock market. She, like the person who plays the stocks, realizes that she must consider her purchases most carefully—for there are just as many highways and byways in the fashion market as there are in the stock market. There are just as many reasons, too, for sudden changes in the mode, but these can be foreseen if one has an idea what to look for and how much to consider the rumors and tendencies that are afloat.

How often have you seen a new style launched and seen it quickly bought up by eagar speculators? How often have you seen this particular style sent soaring to the heights of popular favor? Some women buy their clothes conservatively and wisely; but even these do not always find their investments gilt edged

That is why we have taken the liberty this season of appointing ourselves your fashion brokers. For you we have scoured the fashion markets, judging the mode from this angle and consulting with stylists who are in on the ground floor on fashion's tendencies for Spring. We have secured some very important information for you, which should be especially helpful when you start investing in your Spring wardrobe. So we suggest that you read this resume of what is destined to be good for Spring and make your selections according to your good judgment.

NEW IDEAS IN COATS

Let us begin with the coats. The straightline coat, with or without fur, is the important coat for Spring. This will be good news to women who tend towards stoutness, as the straight coat has a slenderizing effect that every woman loves no matter what her proportions. There are those, of course, who like the feeling of flares and fullness, and for these fastidious women the designers of Paris have introduced the flared silhouettes in coats along modified Princess lines. In spite of the fact that every woman is not interested in costumes with the Princess feeling, we cannot deny that it has quite an important place in the mode for Spring, for we saw it in all the shops as we took our fashion jaunt through them the other day in order to be able to give you first hand information as to what is new and authentic for Spring.

SCARFS AGAIN IMPORTANT

It is our guess that regardless of the fact that scarfs played a very important role in the realm of fashion for Spring last year, they will be very important for Spring this year, for there is something delightfully youthful and flattering about the flare of a scarf about the throat and women seem loath to disregard this fashion feature simply because a year has elapsed since it was introduced so successfully.

Spring would not be Spring for some women unless it included in their wardrobe at least one coat that was enhanced by a cape. Perhaps that is the reason that in the stores we saw such new and amazing ways of treating the cape. We saw capes that extended to the finger tips and capes that only came to the elbows and capes that were slipped down the back and capes that appeared only off one arm, leaving the other one out in the cold.

FURLESS COATS ARE SMART

Do you remember how hard the furless coat fought for favor last Spring and Summer? This year it seems bound to be accepted by the wise woman of fashion. We have a feeling that women are tired of fur on their Winter coats and would like this delightful change which the furless coat undoubtedly affords.

Nevertheless fur trimmed coats are much in evidence in the Spring collections in the shops. It is expected that fur-trimmed coats will be selected by a majority of women, but at that there is always place for one furless coat in any woman's wardrobe.

ABOUT FABRICS AND COLORS

And now we would like to tell something about the fabrics and colors in the coats. In the family of woolens, kashas without a doubt take the place of first importance in the coat realm. The always practical and always smart tweeds hold second place, with twills and suede fabrics following closely. It seems to us that the stores are expecting a big silk coat business this Spring, if a number of coats they are showing this present moment is any criterion. Satin is the leading material in the silk coats. Silk crepes come second, and then there is bengaline and moire. Some of these coats are developed in simple tailored fashion so dear to the heart of many women. Others introduce flares and godets, inserted plaits and many other interesting new ways towards producing the flare silhouette which is so exceptionally smart in a silk coat, and so desirable for Easter wear and the formal functions of Spring that follow.

There is no getting around the supremacy the tans and blacks hold in the coat realm, for both are practical and both are flattering. Black, of course, is especially important because of kasha and because of the coats that are made of silk. Tan is excellent for coats that women select with little frocks to match, thus making their own ensembles and because it goes so well with Spring colors and shades. Next in line come the blues in all their glorious shades. And then, of course, we saw many stunning grey coats and some luscious greens and brilliant reds that took our eye.

FLAT FURS IN FAVOR

Flat furs are apparently more strongly in favor than long haired furs in the case of fur-trimmed coats, and among the short haired furs that Paris has evidently approved for Spring, the shops in town sponsor caracul, ermine, dyed squirrel, galyac and dyed lapin. The neck treatments on the new coats attract interest for their ingenuity. A good many of them are one-sided affairs and are often on only one side of the coat. One coat we noticed was a black broadcloth, and velvet was used to trim this coat in the manner of fur, and somehow we felt that it gave it even a more elaborate effect than fur and would be the sort of coat that would be selected by those chic women who are so stunning in black. You will be pleased with the variety of neck finishes this season. These are carried out with fabric of the coat or another harmonizing fabric.

Unlined coats received such a grand reception at all the southern resorts this Winter that without a doubt they will be one of the most important for Spring wear both in town and country. These little coats are three-quarter length as a rule and are very smart of corduroy in the gay high shades to be worn with frocks of matching pastel crepes. We noticed quite a number of three-quarter length wool crepe coats also. These flaunted separate scarfs.

FROCKS FEATURE COLOR

It is difficult for us to tell you about the new frocks they are showing for Spring without immediately stressing the importance of color in the mode. No longer do we see the veiled greyed-over shades that have been so popular for several seasons past. The new colors are clear and bright and are designed to bring out all the gaiety and charm of this youngest season of the year.

Blue continues upon its merry way and will be much worn for Spring daytime and evening occasions. Some of the new bright dark blues that are being introduced for Spring are Jeanne D'Arc, which is the delightful street or travel shade. Then there is Sailor Blue and Riviera and Moat-Blu, and all gorgeous medium dark blue shades.

Then those slate blues that were launched so successfully by Patou for southern wear during the past Winter season are being introduced in stunning frocks for Spring. There is Curfew and Meridian and Matins. We saw one stunning frock in an afternoon shade called Lavande, another Patou color made especially becoming by its mauve cast, while Phyllis is a light but lively shade in a new evening color.

Beige is a very important shade in frocks for Spring also, especially when it is combined with brown. There is a new beige shade called Moon-Gold. It is a lovely warm shade and particularly smart when combined with brown.

The woman who likes red will have little difficulty in satisfying her desires for her dress wardrobe for Spring. We saw several smart frocks that were entirely of red, others of red combined with black and white and navy and white with touches of red for the third color, following the three-color arrangement made fashionable by Chanel.

Frocks of yellow appear in all the important new fabrics and yellow appears again combined with green chartreuse tones. This is another color that lends itself beautifully to combinations. We noticed it was used often with black, white, navy and slate grey.

PRINTED SILKS ARE GAY

Printed silks have become classic of the mode, and never have they been more beautiful or gay than they are this Spring. The frocks that we saw for formal wear had small allover effects and combine all the new colors—the greens, mauves, yellows and blues on dark or light backgrounds. Printed silks in three colors continue to be very smart and are particularly effective in such combinations as black, white and red; navy, white and red; or in navy, beige and red, in patterns which feature crosshatch effect.

A lot of interest is being manifested in the use of necktie silks for one or two-piece frocks for travel, street and sports wear. These silks use the same small geometric designs that one finds on the rich cravat silks that are imported from London. They are exquisitely soft and supple in weave and, of course, are to be had in all the leading fashion shades. We saw one very stunning model in brown and yellow and orange combinations and another in lovely shades of blue. Enough about color.

Some very attractive models have clever touches of embroidery and one we noted had a frock of beige georgette and the little jacquette was beige lace.

FLAT CREPES FOR FROCKS

Flat crepes are the leading frock fabrics and yet we have an idea that these will be outdistanced in the race for popular favor by the old reliable georgette. This is the material that has not received the fashion importance that is its due for several seasons past, but is being splendidly revived for Spring. There are chiffons, satins and the ever popular printed silks. For the first crisp cool days of Spring there are frocks of sheer woolens, wool crepes, georgettes, voiles, and open work basket weaves being most generally used. Featherweight weaves are also very good and these are disputing for a place in the mode.

A WORD ABOUT ENSEMBLES

The ensembles are back this Spring and it seems as if every frock is taken unto itself with jacket or coat of some description or other. Coats vary in length from the hip to the hemline with the two extremes struggling for supremacy. Every woman with the youthful boyish figure will wear a short jacket outfit, presumably in a print, a plain crepe or combination of the two. It makes little difference, for all are fashionable and all are smart.

The prints are so unusually attractive and can be worked up so successfully in these ensemble costumes that there is little doubt of their fashion acceptance. Nevertheless the designers have made some very interesting costumes combining two plain colors in the manner of the new mode and sometimes three. Then others develop ensembles of two or more materials.

RAGLAN AND KIMONO SLEEVES MAY PROVE DIFFICULT TO WEAR

Raglan and kimono sleeves exaggerate round shoulder lines, making them appear even more ungraceful than their actual contours. Even persons with normal shoulders may appear stooped and round-shouldered when wearing garments cut with these sleeves. This is particularly true of stout women, who have a roll of flesh at the back of the neck and between the shoulder-blades. Women who have even a slight tendency to stooped or rounded shoulders, who carry their head too far forward, should avoid both kimono and raglan sleeve and shoulder lines.

Peasant blouses with gathered and smocked necklines are usually particularly disastrous to the round-shouldered figure, tending, as they do, to make any figure appear stooped. Sometimes for this reason, however, they may give the appearance of the costume, not the figures, being at fault.

Round circular capes add to the round lines of the shoulders, producing a bunchy, awkward figure. Short, round capelets, those which are flared and corcular over the shoulders, are much more unbecoming than longer ones, although all circular capes give much of the effect of kimono sleeves. They should, therefore, be avoided by all women possessing stooped shoulders.

"Chic" Secret Elusive"

Countless women doubtless have been baffled by that intangible something called chic. One may try ever so hard and yet never attain that end. The right clothes, the correct lines, the becoming colors go far, but not all the way. Some indefinable factor is missing. The secret may lie in a woman's manner.

True smartness may be attributed in great degree to the carriage of the head and the body, an alert erectness and to an air of certain savoir faire. The really sweet-faced woman, the gentle, approachable type and the fair one suffering even the least wee bit from an inferiority complex never are impressively smart. Poise and a high self-valuation are first aids to indisputable chic. If you would increase the number of stunning women by one, it were well to cultivate these two qualities.

Cozy Coats

Soft in color and texture and just the right warmth for sports in mild weather are the Angora tweed sports coats show in lovely pastel tints. This material really is a tweed with a fuzzy Angora finish.

ROWS OF FINE STITCHING USED

Rows of fine stitching will apparently carry on as a decorative note for early Spring in the coat mode, if one is to judge from models of definitely Springlike tendencies now being displayed in coutourier collections.

Marcel Rochas shows a sports coat in beige that derives its style features entirely by the use of stitched borders — down the sleeves, on the pockets and belt, and around the collar.

Louiseboulanger gives a stitched border effect to a diagonally-striped woolen model by placing the stripe in straight lines around the edges and up the split sides to the hipline. On this model she uses a plain, standing johnny collar with silk marocain scarf ends attached inside and extending almost to the hemline.

It is interesting to note that Renee also uses a small standing johnny collar in a model of rep trimmed in astrakhan. This coat, which is also split at the sides to the hipline somewhat like the Louiseboulanger model, places insets of bias pleats in the cut sections.

Narrow incrusted bands placed in various panel treatments also lend diversity to decorative methods.

Soft woolen mixtures woven in subdued self-color checks and stripes make many attractive numbers. Tweed mixtures in small patterns continue to be outstanding, while wool rep and wool crepe are seen, but not nearly as extensively as the first two named cloths.

The straight-line silhouette continues to dominate, the narrowness being broken occasionally by close-lying pleats at the sides, or by a large inverted pleat in back.

In ensemble themes, the coat is often several inches shorter than the skirt, particularly when the two garments are of the same material, but in individual models the full-length design is maintained.

NARROW BELTS DEFINE HIPLINES

A belt seldom, if ever, escapes the eye. Its possibilities certainly have not been overlooked by couturiers, for narrow belts define the hipline in many new frocks.

Color contrast is the important note in a new belt of brown leather lined with red leather and snap fastened through a double gold ring.

With so much red in the mode, a red leather belt from Hermes is one to note. It is fashioned one inch in width and wears a clever buckle of the feather.

Handbags of embroidered and brocaded silk and rayon fabrics, mounted on shell frames, are featured in the showings of new accessories.

China

The choice of China for tea or dinner sets is important in that it can make or mar your table.

It is, perhaps, the one thing more than anything else in your home which everyone notices—and you yourself must live with it.

Let it harmonize with your color schemes and it will never fail to give you that feeling of satisfaction that comes from possessing something beautiful.

We will be glad to show you our stock of new and original designs in English china tableware.

Pretty Effects Shown in Spring Millinery

JUST the other day we made a very thorough tour of the fashion haunts of the town. We looked at all the new clothes the designers have originated for women and somehow we felt that in no branch of fashion is there such scope for variety as in hats. In a measure, we had the feeling that the hat can be the most important feature of a costume. Haven't you often seen a perfectly stunning woman spoil the effect of her whole appearance by wearing the wrong hat? Or perhaps wearing the right hat in the wrong way?

Thus it is that the hat is so important. It is the frama for your face and tends to bring out your individuality more than eny other article of apparel you wear. If your eyes, for one reason or another, need framing, select a hat with a tiny brim. We talked with several millinery stylists and they were of the opinion that many women exaggerate the importance of the brim.

The natural line is a beautiful one, for it outlines the shape of the head, thus bringing out every beautiful line. Perhaps the millinery designers got their inspiration from the national headdress of tha Orientals—for the little turbans we mean, that are to continue so important for Spring.

We had such a grand and glorious time going ebout the millinery shops of the town, gazing upon the brand new models they are showing for Spring, that we dislike to take this thrill away from you by giving you all the inside information beforehand And yet, we think that you would be interested and so, let's go on . . .

A hat that is worn high on tha brow is the really newest important development in Spring millinery. Of course it is a very extreme fashion after wearing so many hats at least down to the eyebrow, but it is very smart and decidedly new and is particularly becoming to the great majority of women, although at first they do find it a little difficult to become familar with because it is such a decided change from the old style of millinery that was worn down on the forehead. This new type is to be hed in both brimless and brimmed models. In the latter types the brim is placed at an angle high on the forehead The millinery silhouette of long on the sides and lengthened in back is another important feature, for it is to be seen in all the shops. No doubt the up in front and down in back skirt has had a direct influence on this style.

Spring is the season of straws and this season they are expected to be overwhelmingly popular, even more so then the Spring of 1928. Felts are destined to hold second place in the mode end these are the soft, supple felts that come from France. The most important straws noted in the shops are Ballibuntl, Baku, Sisol, Perle Visca, Crocheted Visca, Neora Braid (Paris Meme), Cellophane, Yedda, Swiss Hair and Milan. Without a doubt Ballibuntl is to be the most popular straw, with Baku given second place Sisol is next in line, and then Visca and Paris Meme.

For those who desire something novel in the way of Spring hats there are felt and straw combinations. We saw many creations with felt lined brims and many felt bands encrusted into crowns in new and novel ways. There is a brand new straw that is being introduced this season, called Japanese Bangkok. As a rule it form the entire hat, but in a few cases it is combined with felt. Another famous milliner in Paris who has e reputation for hand embroidered hats evidently has influenced the mode to no small extent toward embroidered hats. She sent some important material to this country and the manufacturers here have copied these with great success. They are satin, grosgrain, georgette and, in the straw line, petaline.

The thing thet interested us most in the hats for Spring is the individuality in the making of the hat. Without a doubt there is more workmanship than ever before in the millinery models for Spring. The hats have been so plain for so long that it is evident that smart femininity is looking for adornment in her chapeaux That is why, perhaps, more youthful hats candidly require elaborate treatment in manipulation and trimming is applied in a very clever and subtle way, while for the matron there are types a bit more sophisticated, both in their trimming and in their silhouettes There is a youthful hat thet Rabou originated, developed in a pale pink ballibuntl with very wide side brims with absolutely no back brim at all and the front brim is crushed back on the crown and is held securely in place by a flat black satin ribbon bow of many ends. The brim is piped in satin

We saw an adorable white ballibuntl in a small shape with the front brim rolled tightly back to the crown base, giving the effect of no brim across the front and held in place by a little tie of the ballibuntl at each side front And we saw another adorable tailored shape in black ballibuntl. It had a front brim that was slightly rolled and the brim was wider and drooped on the sides with no back brim. We saw several hats with the ruffled back brims. One was a black felt with a shirred crown base at the back to make the ruffle brim effect.

At no season of the year are tha millinery shades as lovely and as flattering as those of the Springtime. This year beige is to be a very important shade and all the various shades of blue and lovely greens will be worn. Red and yellow are also important millinery shades for Spring and, of course, black will always be with us. The idea of using three colors in one hat, which originated in Paris during the recent openings, is to be seen in some of the most important new hats in the shops. A little tricolored skull cap that we saw combined brown, beige and chartreuse felt in a daring unusual manner.

It is interesting to know that the straws this Spring are manipulated much in the manner of felt fabric. The longer side and the longer back brim are both important.

Alphonsine has given us a medium large fashion of taffeta in light blue and the dark shades of blue as well as black. We saw one stunning hat that was inspired by Reboux of black baku with the turned-up front brim that was faced with pink taffeta closely shirred. Then there were pink and black grosgrain ribbons placed around the hat and tied high at the front

Every woman cherishes the ambition of owning a Paris hat, but this is very difficult, for as we all know a Parisienne has a hat made on her head by her own pet milliner She must have her hat fitted, adapted, and trimmed before a mirror and before her discerning eyes. She studies it from every angle, adding this and changing that. Nothing is fittings just as important as the fitleft to chance. She considers her hat tings for her most elaborate gown.

Scarf rings are being given more attention by smart shops The rings are made of shell or composition and usually match some color in the scarf Some of them are elaborately carved

All-Jewel Toilette To Help Costume

Jewelry en suite is a well-established fashion, but the woman who prides herself on being really up to the minute has an all-jewel toilette, says a London writer. Sapphires, emeralds or some other colorful stones are chosen as the basis of a dress scheme in subtle shades that blend exactly with the natural tint of the gem. They are really one-color toilettes.

A sapphire blue gown, a fan of a similar appealing shade, shoes, and finally bracelets, necklace and rings of the real gems, was how one guest was arrayed for a recent Mayfair party. Another and younger woman only just out of the flapper stage wore a topaz toilette. With a frock of yellow-gold ring velvet went shoes, feather fan and cloak of an identical shade A topaz necklace, topaz brooch as fastening for a single shoulder strap, and half a dozen bracelets would have been sufficiently striking without the topaz buckles that sparkled on her shoes. But one had to admit that her twinkling feet drew many admiring glances when she danced, which the modern English girl does divinely.

A distinct contrast to the one-color toilette is the black and white combination favored by many young matrons With these magic ensembles only pearls or diamonds are worn, with an occasional touch of onyx to relieve the dazzling brightness of bracelets set with gems en masse. An original necklace worn with an entirely black and white evening toilette consisted of crystal triangles strung on a platinum chain so that the apex pointed alternately upwards and downwards Two of these triangles placed together formed a one-inch crystal square.

Rug Pads Replace Deep Piled Carpet

We would all like to strew our floors with thick-piled rugh in which the footsteps would make no sound, depth of pile and resilience of step proclaiming the luxuriance of the expensive rugs of the Orient, or those marvelous reproductions of our own manufacturers. But few of us are able to expand our pocketbooks to the extent of supplying our homes with a number of such coverings, much as we would care to.

We need not, however, despair. The beauties of the expensive-patterned rugs are now reproduced in the cheaper floor coverings, and if we find the design we want at the price we can pay, we may, by the addition of a rug pad, place on our floor a rug which will have the feel of deep pile These rug pads should be purchased so as to allow about two inches of rug over edges of pad Not only does the pad make the rug soundless, but it has been proven in domestic institutes that the wearing quality of a medium-priced rug will be increased 100 per cent.

COLOR COMBINATION

MILLINERS USE FLORAL IDEAS

Leading Paris Millinery Firms Display Spring Models With Flowers and Foliage

HAS SECURED PLEASING MOTIF

Leading Paris milliners, among them LeMonnier, Georgette, Antoinette and Germaine Page, are showing new Spring models trimmed with flowers and foliage.

Among the new LeMonnier models are a pansy hat, a hat trimmed with three leather narcissus and a hat trimmed at the back with carnation petals coming on the line of the neck.

Georgette shows a charming hat with a front of blossoms; also one trimmed with tiny pads of goose feathers.

Reboux recently launched a new black felt hat, brimless in front and with the new long back, trimmed with a garland of white gardenias placed at the base of the crown.

These hats utilize the flower motif with discretion and give a charming example of the possibility of combining simplicity and distinction with the new feminity.

There are new ways of wearing flowers as well as new types of flowers. This is particularly apparent in flower decorations on evening gowns, where there is a tendency to utilise flowers towards the back of the decolletage.

Drecoll, for instance, on a fashionable backless gown of sapphire velvet, uses flowers of velvet to outline the right side.

Boue Soeurs on a tiered taffeta robe de style pose a band of natural type roses on the right shoulder extending towards the back of the gown. A velvet streamer depends from this corsage and a corsage of similar flowers is also worn at the low waistline of the gown.

On a princess gown of moss green taffeta with circular skirt overlaid with flat flounces of moss tulle, Agnes places a large conventionalized spray of flowers. A necklet of flowers tied at the back repeats the flower motif on the skirt.

Tulle flowers have also been noticed around the hips in evening gowns.

UPHOLSTERY CHANGEABLE

The well-dressed woman who wishes to be ultra-smart when she goes motoring can now have the upholstery on her car changed at will to match or harmonize with the color scheme of her costume. New detachable rayon upholsteries were recently seen in New York They appear in a wide variety of colors and patterns, which were designed by such well-known decorative artists as Donald Deskey, Ilonka Karasz and Lucille Buchanan.

Sportswear Demonstrates Love of Outdoors

THE glorious days of Spring are at hand Days crammed full of new and interesting things to do—days of dazzling sunlight and budding trees—long hikes in the country, golf, riding, motoring and tennis. These are the days when the whole world seems alive and these are the days when every woman is thinking of new clothes to wear.

And all of us women can thank the lucky stars of fashion that sportswear has become so universally adopted Because even though we cannot all aspire to being the perfect sports "type," we know in our heart of hearts that we adore sports clothes and we know, too, that the designers have created another type of sports clothes, called spectator apparel, which is most becoming to everyone.

SHORT-COATED SUITS

Because they are so tremendously important this Spring we will begin with the finger-tip sports suit. It is very closely related to the cardigan suit, that was worn so much last Spring But there is a newness to these little jacket suits—a sort of boyish nonchalance, for this year, it is smart to wear a little tie in brilliant hue peeping out from under a collar that looks for all the world like the sort worn by little boys. The jackets to these smart little suits are short and feature the bolero effect and have rather flared, boxed lines

It makes no difference what material you would like in one of the jacket suits, for this year fashion shows no preference and even the humble gingham has come out of the kitchen and established for itself a very enviable place in the realm of fashion. Gingham got its start during the Winter season at Southern resorts and if the dictators of the mode have their way about it, it will go on its merry way all Spring and into the Summer

PLAID GINGHAMS ARE NEW

The ginghams that are used with the most success are plaided or checked and come in a wide range of colors. The frocks are usually sleeveless and the jackets that are worn over them are of linen in a monotone that emphasizes the basic color of the patterned cotton.

The knitted ensembles took our eye. They are such sturdy little affairs and we can see that the woman who likes things practical will choose several of these for her Spring wardrobe. Blue and white is a particularly smart combination for Spring in knitted suits. Sulphur color appears in a wool knitted jumper costume with stunning black accents. This little outfit is completed by a novel scarf fastened at the back of one shoulder.

TO INTEREST THE GOLFER

The woman who plays golf will be especially interested in these knitted jacket suits, for they are perfect to wear on the green during the first crisp days of Spring. Then if the day be too warm, the jacket may be discarded and the frock is still as appropriate and chic.

Some of the dresses to these jacket suits are in monotones, while others introduce contrast either in the top of the frock or in claver inset bandings on the collars, cuffs, sleeves and hips One of the most charming of slate blue wool crepe depended solely upon rows of self cording at the neck and sleeves of the jacket for smartness This same cording appeared again at the neck and sleeves of the dress and there was a wide suede belt at the normal waistline.

One of the newest features of these important little suits for Spring is the tuck-in blouse and skirt. One cunning one we saw on our fashion jaunt through the stores had a seamed jumper of yellow angora, a narrow navy suede belt and the skirt of wool crepe was seamed after the manner of the jumper. The jacket had a narrow tuxedo collar.

And now, let us tell you something about the sports frocks the stores are showing for Spring In the first place, we wish to state that the color is very important in the new sports frocks. All the pastel shades are to be seen and all the brilliant high shades that are so typical of the new season. Of all the colors, yellow stands out as the most favored of fashion. So if you would be in the swim, choose at least one yellow costume for your Spring wardrobe

One stonning sports frock—a copy of a recent import—had a bright colored skirt and a white velvet blouse. Another one had a red skirt and the jumper was embroidered in two scenes, one representing tennis, the other depicting a horseback rider on the gallop.

However, there is no more practical frock for general sports wear than the knitted one. The manufacturers realized this and this Spring are offering us any number o' new ideas in this medium.

One striking model we noticed as we went fashion hunting through the shops the other day was after a recent import. It was black and white and the two colors were arranged in block effect. And there was a matching scarf at the neck

BLACK AND WHITE COMBINES

Black and white is always an important sports combination at any time of the year, but for Spring it is to be especially smart. Black combined with yellow is another nuance of the mode and it seems that yellow is Spring's favored color.

Frocks for tennis are exceedingly smart this Spring. They are so simple and yet so utterly becoming, with the fashionable sun tan complexions that are so much in vogue at the present writing The woman who plays a lot of tennis likes the ease and freedom of the sleeveless frocks of white wide-ribbed pique. These are smartest when they are made double breasted and trimmed with huge pearl buttons. Other tennis frocks are of washable shantung and, as a rule, they are most simply tailored, although we saw several clever ones that introduced fullness by the use of circular pleated godets, which, by the way, are a new note in both frock and coat fashions other than those of the sports variety.

Long coated ensembles are decidedly the thing to wear for spectator sports. The stores are showing a most interesting collection of ensembles of sheer woolens, with both the dress and the coat in the same fabric, while others are composed of a tweed or similar woolen material worn over a flat crepe frock in the same color as the coat Some of the most important fabrics for the ensembles of the new Spring season are wool crepe, wool georgette and wool chiffon, as well as novelty woolens in basket weave and coarse loose weaves.

RAVELED EDGES AS TRIMMING

Practically the only trimming on many of the coats of these ensembles are the raveled edges that appear on scarfs, or to outline collarless necks and the fringe is again used on the sleeves, jumper and skirt hem Several of these outfits we saw in the sports departments topped a wool dress, with a figured two-tone coat or vice versa.

TWEED ALWAYS GOOD

You can not go wrong if you select your Spring ensemble from any number of important tweed affairs. They are so comfortable and so thoroughly appropriate for town and country wear Then, too, they are especially attractive this year with coats of soft shades. These coats use a selvage or narrow border design for trimming and this is used again to outline collar, cuffs, pockets and belts. We think you would be wise to select tweed ensembles that have one of the one or two-piece silk crepe frocks as their accompaniment rather than a tweed frock, for comfort when you must be within doors and the coat is removed. These little frocks were noticed often without sleeves, which is quite an important fashion feature for daytime frocks this Spring.

Color plays a very important role in the ensemble vogue for Spring. Especially is this true in the realm of sports. Bright colors with the slightest dusty tinge were very apparent. Such tones as soft greens, reds, rose, yellow, blue in all its glorious shades and some violets and oranges. Of course, Spring would not be Spring without the beige or grey outfit, but the stylists predict that these will be outdistanced in the race for fashion's favor by the brighter tones.

HATS MATCH COSTUMES

The sports hats almost invariably match the outfit and we noticed a decided surplus of small felts with irregular brims. Brimless shapes are not so important in the sports scheme of things as are those with some sort of brim

Slippers, too, match the costume The majority of those the shops are showing for Spring sports wear are of dyed reptile skin, although we must confess we did see some dyed suede and kid.

Self Scarf Collars Used on Sports Coats

Sometimes the scarf is an actual scarf, but in many instances it is varied and simply suggests the scarf. Very often this effect is attained through bows at the back or side shoulder which terminate in long streamers. One collar of short-haired fur falls loosely over the shoulder and extends into narrow streamers which loop over in front. Short-haired furs are used in most cases, the instances of long-haired furs being on the sports coats.

INTERESTING CAPES

Capes acquire interesting effects in over-the-shoulder and back arrangements. These capes favor the divided back, either flowing loosely or stitched to the coat Even where the cape is undivided, it curves upward in the back, and so gives the varied line which is said to be necessary in capes for smaller women.

FUR TRIMMINGS

Emphasis is placed on short-haired furs for dressy styles—squirrel, fitch, broadtail and monkey. There is an instance of the combination of two tones of broadtail, brown and tan, in a large notched collar Caracul and Russian kit fox are said to be most popular on the sports coats.

RODIER FABRICS

Self scarf collars appear very often on the sports coats, developed in some cases of brightly colored borders Rodier fabrics, novelty woven woolens and tweeds effectively endorse contrasting color in jacquard, modernistic and bordered effects.

COLOR FEATURE IS UNUSUAL

Gorgeous and Gay Fabrics Respond to Influence of Revival of Nature in Springtime

TUCK-IN BLOUSES ARE ATTRACTIVE

When you set about your hunt for Spring fabrics for your new Spring wardrobe, we hope you enjoy it as much as we did our recent jaunt through the stores.

In the first place, we could not help but marvel at the new ways and means that fashion uses colors in the glorious new silks, that look for all the world like a lovely Summer garden in full bloom. Gorgeous and gay, they are . . . and in such lovely and unexpected color combinations.

FABRICS ARE GLORIOUS

If we are any guessers, you will enjoy selecting these fabrics almost as much as we enjoy passing the good word along to you. However, words cannot do them justice They must be seen in all their glory to fully appreciate them.

But it might not be amiss to tell you just the sort of things that the mode has deemed her favorites.

For instance, according to all the latest information from Paris, adorable little frocks with hip-length jackets are much in favor. These are smartest when they are developed from any of the smart silk prints, either in chiffon, georgette, roshanara, flat crepe satin or crepe de Chine. The majority of the stores about town are fully prepared to meet the demand that is already being felt in all the silk and yard goods sections.

TUCK-IN BLOUSES APPEAR

Ensembles for Spring, as well as tailored suits, are favoring little tuck-in blouses, much in the manner of those worn by the male of the species. These are stunning when they are very tailored of silk faille, crepe de Chine and satin in flesh, pale green, beige, light blue or white.

Then there are the ensembles to please the woman who loves color in her Spring wardrobe There are brilliant printed silks in glorious reds, greens, yellows, blues and smart combinations of these colors with black. Stylists tell us that yellows are very important for Spring There are some lovely materials to be had in this striking color or in beautiful color combinations . . . yellow predominating

COLORS ON MONOTONES

White prints on monotone pastel ground strike another interesting note in the fabrics for Spring. The very first to reach our shores from France showed designs of tolle de Jouy inspiration, while others, more recent and equally smart, feature various designs like large branches of leaves, or smaller effects.

The soft and fluttery chiffons that are synonymous with Spring differ this year in that they are being shown in large flower designs done in a fascinating modern technique, with a subtle shaded effect. These are simply the last word in frocks for semi-formal and afternoon occasions. In many of the smartest new imports, little printed chiffon frocks, with hip-length lace jackets, are attracting no end of interest. They are easily made, too, since they are very simply fashioned, unlined and collarless

COTTON AGAIN IMPORTANT

Since cotton played such an important part in the wardrobe of every fashionable woman who went South this Winter, we are all inclined to believe that it will be unusually important for Spring

NEW NECKLACE UNIQUE

A red and black necklace, which may be either modernistic or prehistoric in inspiration, consists of a series of small pill-shaped beads with a graduated line of longer, tooth-shaped pendants of the same black and red composition across the front.

NECKLACES MATCH FROCKS

Invariably, in displays of the new, brilliantly colored frocks for wear under dark coats, choker necklaces of amusing design in the same brilliant color are shown. These necklaces are of composition and occasionally make use of crystal rondelles by way of collar contrast.

Fashionable Scarfs of Fabric and Fur

REFINEMENT in collar treatments is most evident in the really smart suits, ensembles, coats and dresses for Spring So prominent is the scarf, whether of fur or fabric, that the garment seems to be merely the setting for this neck caprice

Furs naturally are of first importance in the early change from Winter to Easterlike apparel And it is the manner in which fur is used that proclaims the new season

Novelties are so much easier to see than to describe that we illustrate several methods of finishing the necklines of coats with fur as for example the generous width of black galyac on a coat of beige cloth This extends quite to the shoulder on one side but tapers into a scarf at the other, and may be worn crossed at the throat, as you see it here, or tucked in along the lapels of the coat thus creating a whimsical, irregularly shaped fur collar

Beige—a long, long familiar color expressing the Spring—is given a style stimulant this season by the use of dark fur for contrast, which, by the way, offers the woman wedded to black rather than beige hats an opportunity to wear stunning black accessories.

A cape divided into three parts is not only effective on a beige coat—pictured in back view—but the collar in this case is blue fox, again dark against light

At the other extreme fashion more than countenance black cloth with white fur, essentially an elegant and feminine combination in any person. White fox encircles the collar line of a black coat shown in one of the accompanying sketches, drawn unevenly about the neck with the short end finished by a huge black bow, a result distinctly novel and chic

Uneven lengths in scarfs have an air of grace and also of nonchalance, whether in fur or fabric The distinctive feature of an ensemble shown, consisting of dark coat and light dress, is the scarf, attached to the dress at one end and falling in a long sweep below the coat hem at the other.

Plaids usually have proved to be a puzzle when the garment arrived at the point of completion where the neck line must be considered The scarf helps out here very nicely, as you can see by the little plaid ensemble pictured.

For a while at least—and no one knows how long the vogue will last—the scarf is as necessary to the costume as the shoes or the hat It is no longer merely a separate unit, but very often is attached or sewn to the suit or dress, forming a veritable yoke as in the ensemble of a plain color with striking yoke scarf of printed dotted silk.

Season Brings Furniture and Garden Overhaul

Ancient or MODERN ART in your SPRING FURNISHINGS

By MARJORIE HOWE DIXON

Will anyone wish to contradict us when we say—and in our humble opinion we believe it to be true—that modern art has reached Main Street? Does this mean its deterioration? Heaven forbid! For Main Street was ever most conservative, you know. And only the better type of design in modern art can hope to please these there. Perhaps motors have done much for Main Street—it may be that new radical ideas are assimilated more rapidly—that modern art has not had so great a prejudice to overcome.

Main Street, we feel, in its way has done something for modern art. Wild, freakish ideas it instinctively rejects, for all it wishes to be as up-to-date as its urban neighbors. So the jazz element has been curbed and pieces of sincere line that do not offend the canons of good taste can be sold to residents of Main Street. Then when one of the eminent curators of the Metropolitan Museum says that modern art is a healthy sign of a new impetus in artistic endeavor—well, that rather settles it, we think.

REDECORATING BEDROOM

Besides motors, there is another influence that has its part in the introduction of new pieces to Main Street. Young people go away to school. When they return, it is with an intense desire to make over the world. This is a bit difficult for Main Street. Fond mothers have found that some of the intensity may be worn off by permitting the young person to redecorate his or her bedroom. Now that unpainted pieces are so reasonably priced, this is not so expensive as it might seem. And among the unpainted pieces are many of simple modern lines.

To the young woman who is considering doing over her room, the following description of a lovely boudoir along modern lines may be of interest. To be sure some of the pieces will be found out of reach in price. Here the ingenuity can be exercised, either to work the thing out with materials at hand, or cleverly substitute some other piece.

Two pieces of great charm are made of plate glass mirrors. One of these is the vanity case, of three sheets of glass. These sheets are held together with a steel frame with lovely scrolls to support a shelf for one's toilet articles. Shaded lamps on glass stems reflect prettily in the mirrors.

The other piece is a vitrine of three sheets of glass with a silver steel frame. Shelves are of glass and hold crystal ornaments. A substitute for this could be made of silver-painted wood with open shelves.

The bed for this room is painted purple with a cream fur velvet spread. Cream, purple, gold brocade, silver paper shades—yellow tinted walls complete this most unusual room.

BUILT ON MODERN LINES

A vanity case on modern lines would engage the fancy of any young woman. Its top was a triangle pointed toward one, with the point removed. The centre top could be lifted, revealing a mirror on its back and a compartment below. Either side, where drawers usually are, were cupboards. An open space in the centre allowed room for one's knees. A seat with a cushion top, on a single pedestal belonged to it.

A living-room and library combination could be worked out very effectively in modern art. Bookshelves and desks, end tables and davenports with shelves attached are made with inlaid woods, of excellent lines and workmanship. A centre section of one bookcase contains a drop-leaf desk with drawers below, and above—while either wing has an assortment of odd size open shelves, cupboards and small drawers. With appropriate books and objets d'art this would make a very dignified ornamentation for one wall of a room.

COMPLETING THE IDEA

Lamps and vases, and drapes of subtle textures, will be found available to complete one's idea of harmonious arrangement.

The use of unusual woods is a feature of the modern treatment of furniture. A rosewood table we saw had a black glass top, ivory trim and knobs. A chair to go with the table had its seat, back and arms covered with lizard skin. Amaranthe is the name of another of the new woods used, and is of a deep purple tone. Black lacquer and burl walnut are features of some pieces. A very handsome commode had an inlay of mother-of-pearl. Ivory, kingswood, sycamore and burled ash. The design was of a large branch of an orange tree with full size fruit, spread in a swinging curve over the drawer fronts.

CONTRASTING WALNUT TONES

A very smart looking radio cabinet combines ashen wood veneer with walnut to form a pattern of triangles in a natural finish. Contrasting tones of walnut are put together, usually in geometric design. In addition to new ideas in woods, there seems to be shown in every piece the most exquisite workmanship and careful finish.

However much one's fancy may enjoy playing with the modern idea for Spring furnishing, there is still much to be said for the ancient designs in the various periods, and their place in our scheme of things.

If one enjoys collecting antiques—say of the Colonial period, the arrangement of a single room. Its furnishings, lighting fixtures, cupboards, fireplace equipment and so on may offer a fascinating occupation for many happy days.

CONSTRUCTION OF FIREPLACE

The architect's work may give the first broad sweep of outline. He may have arranged to get the ceiling beams from some old Colonial house and also he may have obtained boards from the same source. The fireplace he will carefully build to resemble the old types with their massive beams and quaint cupboards. Panelling for the walls of the room, latches and hinges, tiny window panes, will all be found in keeping. A set of book shelves may cover one wall with a wide mantle above—an excellent place to display one's collection of old bottles or pewter.

Ladder back chairs, Windsor chairs, drop-leaf tables, sturdy coffee tables, footstools—a couch like a miniature four poster, with a woven coverlid or a hand-pieced counterpane, what fun to collect these things! The lighting fixtures present one of this pleasant difficulties of this type of room, that is, this part is more of a problem, but plenty of fun to solve. Pewter reflectors for candle light stimulated, of course, offer the best solution and are made in the form of sconces.

ONE TYPE IS NORMANDY

While one group is searching out the furnishings which best express an airy sophistication, another group is reaching out for certain homely values to be found in those natural productions of man—farm houses. Normandy will give you one type, old English farm houses another. In some parts of the country you may prefer a Spanish farm house—but not if you are faced with Northern or Eastern climates.

If you wish to make combinations, say the early American and French, you may properly call the effect "provincial." An example comes to mind.

PROVINCIAL CHARACTER

A finely carved French walnut Normandy dresser was the chief decoration in one dining-room. A collection of pewter and pottery graced its shelves, which were lined with Toile de Jouy. The table to go with this piece was an early American butterfly type of walnut. It was most interestingly set with pewter plates, candlesticks and beakers, on Italian linen doilies. Fine chairs of walnut, old prints and wrought iron flower holders were used to carry out the provincial character of this delightfully homey room.

Wallpaper is coming into its own again. Scenic wallpapers are much in vogue for dining-rooms. Copies of old designs are excellent in color. At first one is struck by the rigorous effect of these old designs. Then as one recovers from his first impression, he finds the paper plays back on the wall very nicely and gives an unusual effect of spaciousness in a quite small room.

WALLPAPER FOR HALL

A light graceful tree pattern makes an excellent paper for the hall. On a white ground, with white enamel woodwork, one narrow hall was quite transformed. A very few pieces of furniture were sufficient. A pair of torcheres, a mirror, a divan—these on a simulated stone floor of linoleum procured a delightful corridor.

Panels of flowers and birds—"Chinoiserie," they are called, make excellent backgrounds for boudoirs. In fact, open-spaced designs seem to predominate. As was said of one dining-room—"If the conversation should prove to be dull, at least the wallpaper can be gay."

IMPORTED INTERIORS

Here a very fine type of wall treatment should be mentioned—panelling. For those who can afford it, entire interiors are imported. Light pine panelling of seasoned wood is one of the pleasantest kinds because it does not absorb light as do the darker finishes. Linen fold panelling was used for one room from floor to ceiling. It was rich in its effect and demanded a very severe and correct use of furniture.

In a Spanish house, where exposed beams were a feature of the living-room, one noticed a curious painted design as their special treatment. This was in a Spanish farm house. Its general plan was the striking feature of it, an idea which would appeal very much to those who dwell in the warmer sections of the country.

HERE'S A ROMANTIC SCENE

Its loggia was open to the sea and terrace. The terrace was surrounded by a low wall and furnished with reed furniture, many gay pots of plants and a bright large umbrella over a table. At one end was a living-room, at the other end the dining-room. An open staircase ascended to the bedrooms, all of which opened on a balcony. Wouldn't that be romantic?

To be sure, there was a staircase outside, too. One's practical turn of mind must be assured as to that. Then, to let go of the practical side, one can dream quite a little on the romantic side if it were quite warm and a perfectly delightful sunrise one could steal out from one's room very quietly and down to the ocean for an early swim, without ever disturbing any of the others.

THE BIG IDEA IS THE HOME

Whether farm house or mansion, whether by the sea or on a city street, the home idea is our prevailing idea. Part of it is expressed in Godfrey Elton's lines:

Pull the curtains, bring the light,
Dark is drawing into night.
Friend, the lamp lit hours begin.

When Linen Closet Requires to Be Fully Restocked

Every housekeeping budget should allow for the replenishing of the linen closet, or at least the privilege of adding the extra piece of choice embroidery when the opportunity arises. The shops, realizing that the months immediately following the new year are those when the homemaker has most time within doors are upon us the necessity of examining our linen cupboards, and sure us to effort by the wonderful sales they bring forth at this time. To purchase to the best possible advantage one should take a complete inventory at this time, replace all worn articles and add to the stock of those which do not allow for convenient laundering at present. Sheets, pillow cases, personal towels, tablecloths, serviettes, luncheon sets and tea towels are the absolute essentials, and should never be allowed to be reduced so as to cause embarrassment in an emergency. One should decide before beginning to shop just what is required in each line, also whether they are to be bought as finished articles or by the yard and finished at home.

By careful planning one will be surprised how much of a surplus will be left for us in adding to those pieces which are loved for their beauty and add so much to the taste of the home.

HAT BRIMS BEGIN TO WIDEN

More and more as the Spring approaches there is a tendency toward hats with a brim—brims that show the greatest irregularity, for it even happens sometimes that while long on one side they may be completely suppressed on the other. Such is a black Panama with long brim end round on the left, then on the right suppressed for the trimming.

Men's Wear Suggestions for Spring Appeal

Trailing the ... MENS Style Reporter

WHILE no radical changes are forecast in Spring and Summer clothes for Mr. Man, there are some slight modifications from those of last Fall and a year ago. These changes, however, are sufficient enough to make the suits and topcoats of six or twelve months ago appear to belong to a different era.

Probably the most significant alteration in style will affect the younger man. While the three-button—two-to-button New Haven jacket will find its following as of other days, there is a decided tendency toward the English models.

These are the two-button peak lapel coats, with high rise, full seated, full cut trousers, which taper slightly from the knee down to the cuff. With such suits the Colonial or Tattersall vests will be most prominent.

SHOW TWO-BUTTON STYLES

While the three-button models hold the stage with the collegian or young business men as the actors, there also will be a generous showing of two-button styles, either with peak or notch lapels. Some of these models will show slightly form-fitting hips and waists for the purpose of showing the athletic figure to best advantage. Rope shoulders will have quite a play, while the regular shoulders also will have their coterie of followers.

As for the older man the two-button model of recent years will have the greatest call, although there will be a sprinkling of three-button styles for the mature man who refuses to grow old.

MORE SUBDUED COLORS

While some of the colors of the last two seasons have been extremely light there has been a tendency to subdue most of them, due to the fact that the very light shades were impracticable from a man's viewpoint—and the cost in cleaning bills ran abnormally high.

As for fabrics there continues to be a big variety of them. That makes the range of selection so extensive and comprehensive that the average man is certain to find what he wants at the price he likes to pay.

In brief some of the more important fabrics will be Oxford English flannels, heavy pin stripes; silver grey Scotch Shetland and herringbone for sport wear. Then, too, there will be brown, shadow striped worsteds, with gold silk decorations; unfinished worsteds in medium and dark shades with indistinct striping.

SMALL PATTERNS FAVORED

In suits of English styles there will be shown small patterned hard finished worsteds, cheviots, tweeds of plain diagonal and herringbone weaves, also sharkskins in light greys and rich bluish browns.

Once more the regulation single-breasted, button-through notch topcoat will be in popular favor, judging by the advance models and sketches submitted by the leading manufacturers in various sections of the country.

While the young men, particularly the university fellows, will wear the longer models of this coat, ranging from forty-six to fifty inches in length, there is a tendency among the older men demanding a shorter coat than a year ago.

In some communities there will be worn double-breasted topcoats, but this style probably will not be a popular one due to the fact that most men want to break away from the double-breasted mode found in most overcoats.

Among other styles are the Raglans and set-in shoulders, which are in accord to the ideas as expressed by the younger set. For formal wear the black Chesterfield topcoat with the velvet collar will be in vogue during the early Spring months.

As for fabrics Harris tweeds in original colors, with brown to the fore in the box types will hold the lead. In the South these same fabrics are favored in Raglans, shown in brown and white checks, hard spun and hard woven.

SHOW CHEVIOTS AND FLEECES

Other fabrics will be cheviots and fleeces with prominent greys, bluish greys and various shades of brown.

Featured in the higher-priced topcoats will be camel hair fabrics in single as well as double-breasted models in box and raglan styles. In the double-breasted modes some are half belted and others full belted.

TAPERED CROWN WILL PREVAIL

Narrower Brims Will Be Seen on Men's Hats This Season — Light Colored Tweed Caps

TREND AGAIN TOWARD BROWN

Man must change their headwear this Spring—if they wish to be in the height of fashion.

The most radical change will be the tendency toward narrower brims, ranging in size from 1⅞ to 2⅛ inches.

Briefly summarized the styles will be as follows:

(1). In snap brims the tapered crown and narrow brim will prevail.

(3) Bound edge Homburgs.

(4). The ever-recurring crusher which will be worn by the younger fellow.

(5). The Derby with little deviation from a year ago.

CAPS IN SMALLER SHAPES

Then, too, there will be the felt wool crusher, with close-fitting crown in pearl, grey, tan and black and the small shaped caps, shown largely in light-colored tweeds.

From the above you can take your pick of headwear for Spring, but whatever you do go to that store which specialises on fitting and color selection, for the ensemble may be correct in every respect, but the wrong hat certainly will spoil the picture of sartorial correctness.

If the hat makers are correct in their predictions the trend will be largely toward brown, with medium and light shades prevailing. There also will be the deeper tones, but these will be shown in lesser quantities. That means that there will be fewer light greys and more of the darker tones.

SNAP BRIMS STILL FAVORED

The snap brim promises to be as big a seller as ever, at least with the young man. Most of these styles will be shown with the raw edge, although there will be a generous showing of the welt-edge hat with the brim up all round and a single crease in the centre.

The man who desires to look his best at all times will turn to the Homburg. This is a staid, conservative type, yet puts a man on his dignity at all times. The Derby which has been doomed from season to season still remains with us. Now and then there is a revival of this style, and it is possible that the college man will help keep this mode alive.

FAVOR SOFTER BRAIDS

As for straws, there is a growing tendency toward the softer braids, particularly in Milans, Panamas and leghorns. The Milan will be shown in natural tones as well as pastel shades of tan, brown, green, grey, blue and even orchid.

These will be offered in telescope models to be worn with the brim down all around, dipped or turned up. The makers, however, tell us that the proper way to wear such hats is with the brim turned down.

In line with the narrow brim felt hats one maker reports unusual success in the sale of Panama hats treated similarly, with centre crease, black band and narrow snap rim. The optimo shape, with marked tendencies toward smaller crowns and narrower brims, however, will form the bulk of Panama hat business.

NATURAL SHADES

In leghorns the natural shade will prevail, showing new effects in the weaving. This change is expected to stimulate the sale of such headwear.

In the sennits there will be the modern style of sailors. As for shapes and sizes of crowns and brims, there will be very little deviation from a year ago. Instead of gaudy stripes, such as have been seen in recent years there is a marked adherence to the conservative stripes and contrasting colors. About thirty per cent of the hats will show black bands.

THE ENSEMBLE IDEA

The copious use of color in men's furnishings for Spring lends added impetus to the ensemble idea that increases in popularity year by year. Indeed, some merchants now sell ensemble combinations—sets of shirt, hose and handkerchief and tie in the same hue, or containing a similar design motif. Further, the added use of such shades as lavender increases in distinctiveness the effect of the ensemble.

COTTON GAINS FAVOR

This Season Finds Revival of Gingham, Calico and Cotton Gabardine

Had some mighty seeress predicted two, perhaps three years ago that by 1929 couturiers would bring about a fashionable consciousness to the merits of cotton fabrics, many a sophisticated woman would have exclaimed merrily that cottons belonged only to the Alice-sit-by-the-fires. Cotton for a long time has been sitting by the fire and washing the dishes to boot. Now it is promenading in the smartest parade of Spring and resort styles.

Perchance we of the prewar flapper period always have harbored a sneaking regard for its youthifying qualities. For crisp, color-strewn cotton vests the most mature lady with the halo of enfreshened youth.

Southern beaches already are the setting for an interesting display of cottons. Northern countrysides and playgrounds this Summer are destined to provide a background for even more—trim little outfits in gingham, pique, calico and cotton gabardine.

The Summer girl of 1929 may well consider the chic of being clothed in a gingham gown of the sleeveless order and with a jacket or coat designed to accompany it.

Saucily pert is a brightly plaited gingham dress with its colors of green and black on a white ground. Unconcerned with sleeves, this belted dress breaks into a rippled hemline by means of front godets cut on the circular. The longer-than-usual jacket, scantily collared and of plain colored linen, is worn with such a frock.

Red and white line check gingham fashions a suit with a white handkerchief linen blouse which may be worn over the skirt or tucked in. A band detail trims the skirt and the jacket collared by the indispensable scarf.

A trifle more pretentious and exclusive in design is a third ensemble combining a sleeveless dress of yellow silk pique and a reversible coat of linen embroidered on one side and plain on the other.

Reversible, and therefore doubly practical, is the quilted cotton coat already bearing out the popularity predictions of stylists.

YOUTHFUL DRESSES RETAIN BOUFFANT

Essentially youthful is the mode, consisting of frocks with fitted or semi-fitted bodice of taffeta or tulle, with uneven hemline. Velvet flowers in trailing sprays extending upward from one hip to the corsage, and downward on one side of the skirt were approved in gowns of this genre. Flower clusters posed at one hip and also at the decolletage at one side of the back were other ways of placing this trimming. Matching or contrasting velvet ribbon bows were sponsored, attached at one side of the skirt, and often the tulle skirts were developed in sombre effects.

TIPS ON SPORTS WEAR

Plain, solid colors will predominate in sweaters, the crew neck, round neck and V-neck models ranking in popularity in the order named. In golf hose, likewise, pastel shades will be dominant with the Argyle-plaid hose also featured.

Patterns in knickers will be quiet and simple, these garments will be presented in tweeds and Shetlands. Sports jackets will be fashioned of tweed, leather, corduroy, sheepskin and chamois. Those of the latter are the latest thing with three-button front and belted back. Outing trousers will be of grey and white flannels, some with thin stripes. Riding breeches will be made of stout whipcord.

We all know the sense of pleasure one experiences when on opening a linen cupboard the fragrance of lavender or other garden flowers emanates from the snowy folds within. Sachets should be made in such a way that the powder can be changed frequently so as not to leave a musty odor, which invariably comes when the fragrance has departed. As a number of flowers do not adapt themselves to the drying process, there are many odors it is impossible to buy in sachel form. However, there is always plenty of choice for the linen cupboard. For the personal drawer it becomes a more difficult task, especially if one prefers that one's satchet should be the same odor as one's personal toilet perfumes, but with the harmony of fragrance it will be found possible to match a sachet in tone, if not in actual odor. Beautiful novelty sachets are being made by perfumeries, and the stores have a wide selection from which to choose.

HABERDASHERY TO SHOW COLOR

Sports Knickers Will Be Presented in Quieter Colors, With Pastel Shade or Argyle-Plaid Hose

ENSEMBLE COLOR SCHEME GROWS

The perennial return of Spring is the annual signal for Mr. Man to infuse a touch of color into his furnishings.

This year is no exception, hues and patterns taking on a somewhat more festive tone without extending to the flamboyant effects of other years. Leading manufacturers and retailers concur in the opinion that the present season is to show, paradoxically, a mood of subdued cheerfulness.

FAVOR COLORED SHIRTS

Although white shirts in oxfords and broadcloths are still in popular demand, the trend is definitely in favor of colored shirts. Pastel shades of blue and tan are most widely prevalent, being closely rivalled by striped affects. The fabrics are plain madras, broadcloth and end-on-end, largely with a number of others by no means omitted.

Pinned and tab collar models are favored by men who take their fashion hints from London. The tab shirt is featured in blue with a three-inch collar.

WHAT NECKWEAR OFFERS

Stripes are the thing in ties. Cluster stripes and "Grecian" or figured stripes will supplant some of the small figures prevailing last Winter. All-over warp effects are in considerable vogue likewise; any pattern savoring of the loud or blatant is discountenanced by the present vogue.

UNDERWEAR AND PAJAMAS

Shirts and shorts find increasing favor as underwear, the latter frequently presented in multicolored stripes. Pajamas are offered in the slip-on and jacket styles. The Russian side button pajama is expected to find its advocates, also. An exception to the current conservatism in tone is shown in the pajamas for the younger fellows, where brilliant colors and dazzling designs predominate.

In gloves, pigskins promise to hold their ascendancy with Cape Skin, buckskin, mocha, calfskin and goatskin also running strongly . . . bright colors in suspenders are manifest, with bold patterns considerably in demand among younger men . . . Odd jackets of Harris tweed, single breasted, in the three-button effect with the buttons set close together, and with small notch lapels will be worn for informal use. . . . Silk mufflers in self colors and in small, neat unobtrusive checks, stripes and squares will be worn with light overcoats. . . Men's hose preserves the status quo as regards style.

Three different sun-tan colors in gloves and hose are displayed in the city shops, so that milady can match these articles of dress to her skin if she likes. A new shade is a copper-tinted glove so near to an actual sunburn color that it is difficult to see where the glove leaves off and the flesh begins.

Flowers Add Much to Beauty of Eastertide

Floral Business Opens Under Excellent Omens For Prosperous Season

Florists' Telegraph Delivery Plan Has Introduced System Which Spells Co-operation Among Trade Throughout World—Easter Will Bring Heavy Demand for Lilies

Customer Can Learn Price of Madonna Lilies in Finland by Consulting List

OPTIMISM runs high among the florists of Victoria this year, and bumper trade is expected throughout the Summer. Business, they say, has been good since January, and the increased prosperity of the city, combined with the ever-growing tourist trade, indicates a prosperous time for the sellers of flowers during the coming season.

The altogether amazingly efficient system of the Florists' Telegraphic Delivery, the head office and clearing house of which is situated in Chicago, is largely responsible for the increase of business. A careful study of the lines upon which the "F.T.D." is run reveals a remarkable business co-operation among the florists of the world. Unlike the majority of retail merchants, the florist deals in extremely delicate and very perishable merchandise. The forming of associations and co-operative groups had presented problems to him which seemed insurmountable many years after his brother retailers had banded together.

The old system of competition, however, with its attendant corollary of taking business away from the other man at any price had long been voted an exploded theory, and the florist realized more and more keenly the necessity for intelligent co-operation. The solution to his problem was found with the inauguration of the F.T.D.

VICTORIA TO VIENNA

Immediately florists from all over the world joined the association with such enthusiasm that it is now possible, making due allowance for the discrepancies of time, to make up one's mind, while having dinner in Victoria, that a dancer in Vienna shall receive a boquet of flowers the same night, and to digest one's dinner in the comfortable certainty that the flowers have been delivered.

The F.T.D., as a matter of fact, is a form of very exclusive club, in which the members take pride in playing the game, and stand on their honor not to let down a single one of their distant customers—customers who are personally unknown to them and who, in all probability, will never deal with them again—even though they have to deliver the flowers at a loss.

Let us suppose, for instance, that a wire comes from London to a florist in Victoria desiring that a bouquet of rare and altogether unprocurable orchids shall be delivered to a certain address in the city within the space of one hour from the receipt of the wire. Two pounds (roughly $10), are sent to cover the expenses. The florist is immediately faced with a number of problems. If he returns the money, at the same time regretting that he was unable to procure the orchids, it is more than likely that he will receive an infuriated communication from England to the effect that he should have sent the nearest approach to the flowers in question.

READY TO STAND LOSS

If, on the other hand, he sends ten dollars worth of his best roses, he at once lays himself open to the charge of the misuse of his trust. Upon having this hypothetical problem laid before them during interviews with The Colonist last week, the leading florists of Victoria were unanimous that they would do their best to fill the order as nearly as possible correctly, and, should the customer be dissatisfied, would stand the loss themselves.

The official publication of the organization is the F.T.D. News, and this gives a monthly report of the prices in the different districts. It is therefore possible to go to a florist in Victoria and to learn the current price of Madonna lilies in Finland. The journal also publishes the name of every florist within the circle of the organization, and it is remarkable to note that there are over 35,000 members in Canada and the United States alone.

DEMAND FOR EASTER LILIES

Large orders for Easter lilies have been placed with practically every florist in town by the various churches in and around Victoria, and the demand for these flowers is greater than ever this year.

The question of changing tastes is a serious one to the florist. Women's fashions can be controlled to a certain extent and fluctuations of taste can be met in a comparatively short time. Not so in the case of flowers, where the probable favorites of next year have to be reckoned in this year's crop in order to meet the demand for seed.

Most of the florists in the city are of the opinion that the pastel shades of sweet peas, which embrace mauves, shell pinks, salmons and pale blues, will find the same popularity this year as they enjoyed last Summer.

The scented rose is expected to return to popularity and a number of the older favorites are being grown in anticipation of this. For a number of years the old-fashioned rose with its sweet scent has been supplanted in favor by such extremely beautiful, but scentless, specimens as the "Daily Mail" or "Madame Heriot." It is also expected that "Madame Butterfly" will supplant "Ophelia" in popularity this year.

Daffodils are now becoming plentiful, as those grown outside are tiful, as those grown outside are are three weeks later than usual, owing to the severe weather of last month, but are of fine, strong quality this year, and last well in water.

The florists are unanimous in their opinion that the severe weather which came at the end of this Winter has been a definite advantage to the horticulturist. Snow, it is pointed out, makes an excellent fertilizer, and the hard frosts of February have undoubtedly killed many of the pests.

BLUSH ROSE NEWEST SHADE

In the realm of intimate apparel, the newest color note is blush rose, a rose in a deep tone with a slight blush shading to it. This is used not only for undergarments and foundations, but in negligees as well. It was especially lovely in a picturesque affair of transparent velvet banded with gold lace.

CARE IS REQUIRED IN MAKING LAWN

One of the first jobs to be carried out after a new house is built is that of making the lawn. The soil must be put in fair condition, as grass requires food just the same as flowers. Make the surface level. To do this, it is well to rake over as evenly as possible two or three times, giving rains and perhaps a freeze or two a chance to settle the soil in between rakings. Remove all broken bricks, stones, sticks and similar material just as soon as you can get on the soil in the Spring without getting your shoes muddy. It is best to sow the seed in the evening or on a dull day when there is no wind. One pound of seed is required for every two hundred square feet, and where the place is shaded special seed should be used. Roll in thoroughly, or if no roller is available use a pounder. The grass should be cut with a sharp mower as soon as it is a few inches high. Barnyard manure and nitrate of soda make good lawn fertilizers, the latter applied several times throughout the season at the rate of one ounce to the square yard, either broadcast during a shower or dissolved in a gallon of water and sprinkled.

Season for Gardening Comes in Vogue Again

Sun Porches and Rooms Overlooking Garden Should Be Overhauled Before Planting Is Commenced for Summer

The kiss of the sun for pardon,
The song of the birds for mirth—
One is nearer God's heart in a garden
Than anywhere else on earth.
—Dorothy Frances Gurney.

The earliest Spring gardening starts quite properly with the imagination. It receives a lively stimulus from the arrival of the new seed catalogues in January.

One can garden so successfully with a catalogue. Having pored over the new and lovelier things promised so blithely therein, and having moved almost everything in the garden to a different place—having made out an order for seeds that the still small voice of reason tells you will have to be severly pruned before mailing, you then turn a critical eye on the house.

PLANS FOR EARLY SPRING

There are a number of things to do before the weather will be warm enough to do anything at all out of doors. Spring brings so much all at once—house cleaning, gardening, Summer preparations, that it behooves one to plan ahead, so as to get as much done as possible in March, or earlier.

Sun porch arrangements can be completed. Indoor plants can be trimmed or repotted. Ivy plants lend themselves to many interesting decorative effects. A niche may be lined with this trailing vine. A terra cotta box with cupids over its side would make a good centrepiece. Colored flower pots either side would form a good base to the scheme. Enough simple trellis work would need to be built to care for the ivy and support it. Below a tile-top table seems to belong.

MIRROR IN WHITE IVORY

A pair of terra cotta cupids on a console made a lovely picture on a wall in one sun room. A mirror was framed in ivory white just back of the figures. With the wall papered in marble effect, and a flat trellis covering either side, ivy was used to trail greenery up and back of the cunning figures. Vases were ranged along the console shelf, giving an opportunity for more color.

Vases are coming to have a definite significance to the flower lover. The only satisfactory plan is to have a goodly assortment—large, small, tall thin ones, fat squatty ones—various bowls, and at least one large open mouthed vase—perhaps with handles—for the large field flowers.

PIECES IN DOMESTIC POTTERY

A collection of vases may include a handsome black piece of domestic pottery with stout handles, several pieces of Italian pottery with gayly colored designs—some modern art bowls from Austria or Germany, a few glass bud vases in colors, a fairly tall vase of blue glass for roses and some small low bowls for pansies and nasturtiums. Such a collection would be the work of years, doubtless. Collecting might form a pleasant background to one's gardening activities.

Before the Spring weather sets in and simply compels one to spend every available moment in the garden, is the time to consider the porch and sun room furniture. Does it need new paint, or new coverings? Or shall this be the year to discard the old and buy new? Shall you make your choice stick reed or stick willow?

The reed and willow pieces have had to wear simple lines of necessity and so have lent themselves admirably to modern art effects. But to be truly "Modernistic" they must be sombre in color, in steel greys—tones of lemon yellow, or frigid and cold pinks. This demand is too much to ask of willow or reed furniture.

Although simple in line, it just must riot in color. Large patterned fabrics in splashy colors in linens and cretonnes continue to be favorites for covering. Great comfort of cushioning is a feature. Book shelves, tables, and magazine stands have become necessities and are increasingly well designed.

CHAISE LOUNGE ON WHEELS

An amusing piece that may be added to any collection is a light chaise lounge that runs on wheels and may be picked up and run about from place to place, as one needs it. It is well upholstered and most comfortable.

Later on one will think of garden pieces. By this time the important question, shall we have a pool or not, has been settled. If yours is a new garden and have an appropriate open space you may want one of the lovely tiled pools that California and Florida use so successfully. The pool is octagonal and stands about three tiles high above the ground. Lovely patterns and colors can be brought into the tiles. A fountain in the centre with or without a figure is often used. Flower pots of bright colors stand on the edge of the pool.

CROCUS AT SIDNEY FARM

SOIL SURVEYS IN CANADA MADE BY DEPARTMENT

In view of the widespread interest that is being taken in the procuring of settlers for the farm lands of Canada and in the establishing of agriculture on a more scientific basis, Mr W. A. Johnston, of the Geological Survey, presents some interesting facts about soil surveys. He states that soil surveys have been carried on to some extent during the past few years by the Provincial Governments in the Prairie Provinces, that land classification work has been done by the Department of the Interior, and that the mapping of soils, which is primarily a geological problem, has been conducted by the Geological Survey.

A soil survey of any area shows the character and location of the several types of soil in the area and thus provides information regarding soil conditions that is of value not only to the farmer but to the scientific agriculturist outside the area who is called upon to give advice regarding questions of soil improvement or who is attempting to solve problems regarding the most effective uses of certain kinds of soil. The fundamental principle of a soil survey is that each type of soil is best adapted to certain kinds of crops and requires the same kinds of farm practices and methods of soil improvement. It is held by scientific agriculturists that the art of agriculture, the oldest and most fundamental of the sciences, is the least developed, and it is well recognized that there are at least a few distinct types of soil in each of the physiographic provinces that require different methods of cropping and farm practice. A soil survey, in many cases, reveals important problems of soil improvement and farm practice that need attention. The perennial question of how long exclusive grain growing can be carried on in the Prairie Provinces is partly a question of the character of the soil, for some soils can be cropped continuously much longer than can other soils.

Again, the question of soil drifting, which has become a serious problem in many parts of the Prairie Provinces, is partly a question of the character of the soil, for some soils drift badly whereas others do not.

CHINODOXA AT SIDNEY

While attending the British Empire Forest Conference, held in Australia and New Zealand last Summer, Dr J. M. Swaine, the associate Dominion entomologist, took the opportunity to present a paper on forest entomology and its development in Canada. This paper gives a graphic view of the forest insect problems and the means that are being taken to solve them. In looking to the future of forest protection, Dr Swaine pointed out that an attempt must be made to provide for permanent control of insect conditions through systems of forest management that will render the forest immune from insect attacks.

ST. PATRICK'S MARKED ON PROGRAMME

Oriental Music Prevails During Sunday Afternoon —Popular Music in Evening Entertainment

Marked by characteristic Oriental themes, the spectacular opening march from Moszkowski's most pretentious opera, "Boabdil," will introduce the Sunday Afternoon Concert in the broadcast through N.B.C. system stations from 2 to 3.30 o'clock this afternoon. Max Dolin will yield the conductor's baton as the National Concert Orchestra plays this pompous selection.

The soloist on this programme will be Aurora Crevero, 'cellist. Miss Crevero, a member of the Arton Trio, will present the difficult "Hungarian Rhapsody," composed by Popper, a distinguished Bohemian 'cellist. His works are among the most popular in 'cello literature.

Gospel hymns and songs will be heard three times during the ninety-minute broadcast. A quartette consisting of Barbara Blanchard and Ehiel Wakefield, sopranos, and Eva Gruninger Atkinson and Margaret O'Dea, contraltos, will sing this church music.

Charles G. Dawes, former Vice-President of the United States, will be represented by his famous "Melody in A," an orchestral number. Among other selections to be offered by the orchestra are Tchaikowsky's "Romance in F Minor," a short composition of great nobility, and the Andante Movement from Schubert's Fourth Symphony.

Glowing musical colors paint the semi-barbaric splendor of a scene in the Caucasus as the Whitall Anglo-Persians play "In the Village," from Ippolitow - Ivanov's "Caucasian Sketches" in the nation-wide broadcast from 3.30 to 4 o'clock this afternoon. This excerpt from the Russian composer's noted orchestral suite opens the programme.

Three famous songs of the Shamrock Isle will be played in honor of St. Patrick's Day. "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms," one of the oldest Irish folk tunes, immortalized by the words written to the melody by Sir Thomas More, "Come Back to Erin," and "Killarney" are in the group.

Studebaker Champions will be on the air again tonight between 7.15 and 7.45 o'clock, Pacific standard time, playing from Chicago.

Jean Goldkette, director, promises a group of popular numbers, several of which will be played in salon arrangements. A new song, "Rose of Mandalay," and "Venetian Nights," are two selections with which a vocal chorus will be heard. The Studebaker piano twins will be featured in "Who Wouldn't Be Jealous of You?"

With songs of Erin the "Erma Jetick Melodies," quartette and ensemble, will pay their musical tribute to St. Patrick in the broadcast from 7.45 to 8 o'clock tonight. "Mother Machree," one of the best known of all Irish ballads, will be the contribution of the tenor soloist. He will be accompanied by the ensemble.

The mixed vocal quartette will observe St. Patrick's Day by singing four numbers, two of which will be "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and "The Low-Backed Car."

EUROPE FACES DIFFICULT TASK

Twenty Nations Are to Be Heard at Conference in Prague Next Month

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Radio officials and engineers who will meet at Prague, Czechoslovakia, in April to assign wave lengths to European broadcasting stations face an even more difficult task than that of allocation to the United States, experts here declare.

The demands for channels of more than twenty nations, the propinquity of countries speaking different languages and the short distances between many of the large cities in Europe present a problem that calls for the highest engineering and diplomatic ingenuity, says Commander T. A. M. Craven, technical adviser to the Federal Radio Commission.

While the number of stations and listeners is less than in the United States, interest in broadcasting is growing rapidly. Europe has almost five times as many potential listeners as this country. Owing to the lack of unified control of broadcasting, the allocation problem is such as would obtain in this country if radio were under separate supervision by the States, Commander Craven says.

Europe has about 245 broadcasting stations, as compared with more than 600 in the United States. Nearly all are Government owned or operated under close governmental supervision. Operating expenses are defrayed by revenue from the tax paid by owners of receiving sets, and there are few commercially sponsored programmes.

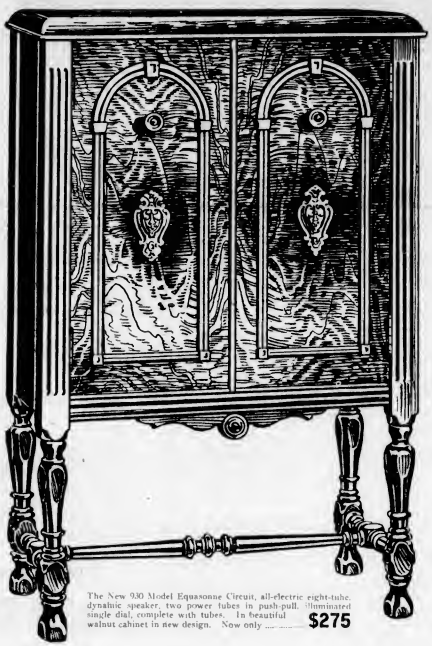

The majority of European stations range from 300 to 1,000 watts and only nine have power to 10,000 watts or more. HAJ, Moscow, with 35-kw. watts, is the most powerful. There are a 50,000-watt station at Motala, Sweden, a 25,000-watt transmitter at Hoofwijk, Holland, and 20,000 watts at Paris.

In addition to the 500 to 1,500 kilocycle band, which is also used by broadcasting stations in this country, the European stations use the longer wave from 160 to 224 kilocycles.

Considerable attention is being given to synchronization, particularly in England, where several stations operate simultaneously by this method on the same wave length.

BROADCASTING MAKES STRIDES

Broadcasting in Australia is making great strides, according to reports reaching here from American officials in Sydney, where it is believed that the isolation and large open spaces of the country, together with intensive engineering work over the last five years, are responsible for success in radio expansion. Successful tests during the last year of Australian broadcasting programmes sent to American and European stations and also reviewed and rebroadcast in Sydney, N.S.W., have recently culminated in a test of radio transmission to Java and Schenectady, N.Y. It is no longer a novelty for people in Australia to receive parts of the programmes from London stations, while broadcasting programmes also have been relayed by Sydney stations from the Netherlands, Russia, Java, Japan, New Zealand and the United States.

The Commonwealth Government owns a controlling interest in the Amalgamated Wireless of Australia, which first began development of wireless in the Dominion in 1918. An important service has been built up on a new scheme of centralizing the various activities of the company by having three groups, a transmitting centre, a receiving centre and a control office. By this arrangement it is possible for most of the wireless stations of New South Wales to be placed at these offices and controlled from one control point. This company is not only a feeder for the "beam" services with England, but has established and maintained on different wave lengths services with coastal radio services for Australian coast towns, inland radio service with New Guinea and Fiji, service with New Caledonia, marine wireless service, New South Wales transmission, short wave transmission with ships off Australian coast, Class A broadcasting stations in Sydney; world-wide telephony and telegraphy transmissions, and short wave broadcasting.

FURNISHING MODES VARY

Influences Have as Much Effect on Homes as Fashions in Women's Wear Affect Appearance

COLOR IS FAR MORE IN DEMAND

All of us are subservient to style changes. The hat, dress or automobile of only a few years ago is hopelessly out of date today. Each passing year witnesses still further changes and the carrying out of new style trends. These style trends have not been without their influence on the home and its surroundings. Architecturally the modern home differs materially in appearance from that of twenty or thirty years ago. Similarly, sweeping changes have taken place within the home. Gone is the old-fashioned parlor with its drab pieces in black horsehair. Gone is the crude, cumbersome furniture of only a few years ago, its place being taken by attractively designed pieces which give a maximum of comfort and serviceability and at the same time provide that touch of beauty which is so sought after. The thoroughly modern home is a bright, cheerful place that adds to the pleasure of living, and extends an irresistible invitation to friends and loved ones.

REFLECT STYLE OF DECADE

Strange as it may seem, many who would not think of wearing clothes or driving a car which does not reflect the latest style trend are living in home surroundings which reflect the style of a decade or two ago. Perhaps through too close association they have become so accustomed to the furnishings and decorations of their home that they do not realize just how antiquated their home really is. While the automobile is changed every year or two, just to be in style, it would hardly do to suggest that the home be redecorated and refurnished at similar intervals. However, by adopting a definite replacement policy, involving an outlay of perhaps a hundred dollars or so a year, it is practical to purchase new pieces at frequent intervals and thus keep one's home furnished in style.

COLOR WAVES MAGIC WAND

One of the most startling changes which has taken place in recent years has to do with the use of color. The colors of the out of doors, with all their charm and appeal, are now being reflected in the home. This is not being accomplished so much through the use of highly colored furniture, though enamelled furniture, brightly colored luxury pieces and colored ornamentation is quite popular, as it is by the increased use of color in furniture coverings, rugs, draperies, and wall decorations. Instinctively, we prefer the bright, attractive rooms, so let color wave its magic wand over your home, transforming it into a cheerful, colorful, inviting place.

The Jacket or a Semblance Thereof

SHORT coats have so influenced designers creating Spring styles that if an informal daytime dress escapes to be launched forth on its own merits, usually it is in two pieces of jumper and skirt, it is belted, or suggests in some small measure the jacket-jumper. And with the aid of a gay little scarf of some kind or other, naturally it has a more complete and finished air.

The jacket frock, much in evidence among early showings for later wear such as sports clothes, smart attire for shopping and for business and the various pursuits of the day, offers so many types that at least some special one will be just the kind every woman has been seeking.

For Springtime comfort many tweed suits are insured against too much warmth by having a silk blouse, and a sleeveless one at that. This particular model is one of those convenient types wherein the yoke part is joined to the sleeveless top section of silk crepe trimmed in the wool.

Two silk suits with an appeal to the young woman are sketched at the right of the group—that on the left done in black silk crepe and worn with a white blouse trimmed in red, as is the scarf. Again the tricolor and a very effective use of it. Oh, this suit may be had in brown and yellow, or blue with white, touched up by red.

More pretentious in its design and quality of silk and tailoring perhaps, is the printed jacket costume of three pieces. This has a wrap-around skirt, and a straight jacket, both given a flare by means of rather wide self-pleating finishing the hemlines.

The overblouse of plain silk in a light tone has a crushed girdle and a draped tie collar.

Jacket costumes will not reach the zenith of their popularity until heavy topcoats can be discarded. But frocks having the air of suits are convenient for wear now beneath winter-weight coats.

A graceful dress evolved from an attractive diagonal print in blue tan, green or navy is shown emphasizing pleating which forms the ruffles on the blouse, and large self bows.

Smart for sports is the second dress in brown, cocoa, blue, black navy or beige flat crepe, developed in two pieces with trimming and scarf in a very colorful print.

Auxiliary Fashions of the Evening

IN the externals of formal dress there are many requisite accessories to chic. Wraps, bags, shoes, hosiery, gloves and jewelry loom with such power to make or break the ensemble complete, that no lady can afford to choose in a haphazard manner in any store. One does not fail in love with a bag or jewelry and wear it "just because." It simply must belong or the result is nothing.

The construction of the formal costume entire up to the nth degree of perfection, demands no little study, observation and weighing of the pros and cons of one accessory relationship with others.

There is considerable leeway offered in this feminine indoor sport of assembling smart apparel for wear after dark. First let us note the possibilities in fabrics for gowns and their variety in texture and color.

Plain colored flat crepe is fashionable; printed chiffon in a large pattern is interesting; solid colored chiffon and open mesh net and lace, all three other modish materials with which to express one's individuality.

Wraps will tend toward the shorter as the season emerges into real Spring. Transparent velvet already is arriving in numerous versions, the jacket of sequins or lace remains a favorite, while the newest expression of the cape is a short one of chiffon tied about the throat.

Distinct and more beautiful become the slippers designed for the evening. Crepe de Chine models with tiny straps, trimmed in a bit of silver or gold and dyed to match the costume are exceedingly fetching and quite the smartest of the moment. With these, sunburned tone hosiery is considered smart.

Sheer hose in melon shade blending nicely with slippers in dyeing the color harmonious to the frock. The satin pump with a plain or colored rhinestone buckle is charming with sheer hose in flesh tone.

Long evening gloves of white glace kid are worn again for formal dress, and their revival this season is brisk, and they firmly entrenched by Autumn. Not only are white gloves considered chic, but the pastel tints are seen, and are certainly an echo of the vogue for pastels in frocks.

Shoe and bag ensembles are attractive when in crepe de Chine or satin, and these may be in envelope style of in pouch shape. The oval envelope of embroidery or antique brocade rich in popularity with the small pouch made of tiny pearls.

Length of the New Skirt

ALTHOUGH fashion has been indulgent on the subject of how short or how long one may wear one's daytime skirts, there is a tendency toward exposing less of the knee than formerly. This does not infer a dropping of several inches, for it is amazing how great a change is possible with just half an inch added to the hem.

There is no fixed rule by which one can be guided, it being a matter of individual preference. In straight line frocks it is much smarter to see that the skirt length drops to a point below the knee sufficiently to cover such discrepancies of nature as bulges or unattractive bony structure. The length should reach a point to cover all unbeautiful lines as far as possible and should also be in accordance with the height. Straight narrow skirts when amply long standing very often are much too abbreviated when the wearer is sitting.

Beads for Trimming

Lovely evening gowns of diaphanous materials owe their beauty and sensibilities to delicate tracéries of beads scattered in an all-over design simulating an unusual print or they are grouped to emphasize the decolletage and hipline. Gowns of this genre cling to the princess line with voluminous and many-layered skirts when the fabric is chiffon or tulle.

NUMEROUS HATS IN LINE

Inasmuch as real dyed-in-the-wool perfection in dress today is represented by a hat selected to accompany but one dress, and one only, most of us will no doubt have to decide in favor of fewer dresses or abandon ourselves to an indulgence in the purchase of more hats. It is a nice idea, but women have a sly way of cleverly getting around such corners by so carefully choosing definite color schemes that one hat—one impeccably smart hat—does the work of two or more.

Here are a few of the best similes collected by Mr. P. J. Wirlach:

As disconnected as the dictionary.

As certain as applause at a professional matinee.

As useless as a crossword puzzle that has been solved.

As worthless as a campaign poster the day after election.

Pleasure is like a sprained ankle—you have it all to yourself; but happiness is like the measles, you cannot have it without giving it to someone else.

As suspicious as a corkscrew in a Prohibition home.

Friend—"So this is the only room you could find? Right beside the railroad track. It can't be pleasant, trains smoke so."

Jones—"a light sleeper!—"It isn't their smoking I mind so much, it's their chooing."

Kerchief Designs Are Bold

So small a square of linen as the handkerchief must be very bold in its colored design if it is to play a part of actual accent in the costume entire.

Snowy white centres are deeply edged by irregular patterns in a number of colors, the hues vivid and in modernistic outline. Some borders are so deep as to leave but a tiny centre of white, this being the Spring version of the colored handkerchief to replace that of a solid color.

Hemlines Widen

American garment manufacturers, in reverting to the picot edge and the rolled hem to finish many frocks, have expended true generosity. She who found just the right dress in the right color used to have to submit to its uncompromising length with guilty, as there was no adjustable hemline. Hems are necessary in this land of tall ladies and short, of plump ones whose girth takes up the length, or of thin ones whose deficiency in curves permits a dress length to sag. Hems it is, this season, which one can adjust as one finds it advisable in regulating the length of one's frock.

The local elections were taking place in the town and the Blue-place was torn in two over the respective merits of the rival candidates.

One of the agents of Mr Sand, the local grocer, who was one of the canvassing for Mr Simmons, had so far forgotten himself as to persuade a man called Smith to vote twice for his party. The man promised to do so and was told he would receive five pounds for his trouble when the poll had taken place.

But to his surprise, on the evening of the polling day, a Civic Guard called at his house and arrested him. His stupid face looked more stupid than ever when he inquired what crime was laid at his door.

"You are charged with having voted twice," announced the Guard.

"Charged, am I?" stuttered the prisoner. "Thats strange! I expected to be paid for that!"

Little Pure Color

Decorative schemes must be worked out by means of various color harmonies in order to be successful. Of these the three most often used are dominant harmony, analogous harmony and complementary harmony.

In dominant harmony different tones of the same color are used, as in rooms done in browns and tans. Great caution should be observed in the selection of the colors in a harmony of this kind. Colors of the same group have a habit of fighting with each other. Like numbers of a human family, they do not always agree. Take greens, for instance. It is hard to put several tones of green together without a dispute arising among them.

The next color harmony to be considered is analogous harmony. This consists of two or more consecutive colors of the spectrum, such as blue and green, or pink and mauve. These colors are closely related on what might be termed one side of the family. Green, being composed of blue and yellow, is half-brother to blue. Mauve being composed of red and blue, is half-brother to pink; pink—being merely diluted red, and mauve diluted violet.

Then the third of these harmonies is complementary harmony. This is obtained by combining a color with that which is farthest away from it in the spectrum, and is known as the "complement." Orange is composed of red and yellow, but no blue, so has blue for its complement. Red has for its complement a mixture of blue and yellow, namely, green; yellow has violet.

EVENING BAG ATTRACTIVE

A most attractive new evening bag is a small pouch that effectively combines pearls with beadwork embroidery. The pearls are worked over the embroidery in such a manner that the embroidery stands out in modern designs. These bags are lined with silk and fitted with mirror and coin purse.

Gay Accessories for KITCHEN and Bathroom

By MARJORIE HOWE DIXON

THERE seems to be a most spirited race on between the bathroom and kitchen. First the bath features appear in delicate tints, then the kitchen sink retaliates with color, and the kitchen range as well. Brighter, more dashing patterns, appear in the shower curtains for the bath. Very well, says the kitchen, all the pots and pans will wear colored enamel and all be different, too.

The bath with its lovely walls inlaid with tiles is a thing of beauty. The kitchen grows more charming every day. For a while the sanitary side of these rooms seems stressed—only white, or at most blue and white, would do. Somewhere along the way the discovery has been made that pale peach porcelain is as sanitary as white. What a difference to us all!

COLOR SCHEME IN BATHROOM

Whether the bath be as small as it very well can be, and yet contain the usual fixtures, or as spacious as an art gallery, it now considers a definite color scheme to start with. After all, some of the ads for bathrooms do make you think of art galleries. One can imagine titles for them—"Authentic tiled niche from an old Moorish castle," or "Boudoir of Madame Pompadour in her late twenties." In one of these regal apartments, the only thing that makes you feel sure that it really has plumbing—so well are all hard facts concealed—is the appearance of a drain pipe under a wash bowl.

Perhaps it was the wash bowl that decided the color scheme. Imagine a wash stand of black and gold marble, with brass water faucets, period legs of brass, a framed mirror set in the wall above, with an open shelf at its base for lovely crystal bottles. Tall slim cabinets are recessed and shut their contents from view with decorated panels.

In this most unusual bath, flowered water-proof fabric is used for shower curtains and at the windows. To their golden light, add a black and gold marble floor, a pair of lacquered commodes, a tall wide wall mirror and a tiled bath recess—and Cleopatra herself would sigh with envy.

What do you think the Moors of Granada would think of a tiled bath recess using their characteristic blue and green tiles for its decoration? We are not prepared to state whether they would regard it as elevation, or desecration. One of these niches, not content with artistic tiling for background, must needs carry on with wash bowl, tub and so on of pale green porcelain.

OTHER BATHROOM FIXINGS

To "the man of the street" living in every day apartment or bungalow, where white still predominates in the fixtures of the bath, these gay color schemes may seem out of reach. Much color may be very attractively used, however. A set of bath bottles in peach or green may be purchased. One of the new bath cabinets has a graceful mirror for its door. As it swings open, the neat shelves are revealed.

Then there are shower curtains of bright rubberized fabric. Lavender on green, with ruffles of green, makes one gay set. Oilcloth or glazed chintz can be used for drapes or for the roller shades. Some people admit that they like to read in the tub, and would prefer to have their books bound in oilcloth. Perhaps a library shelf might be added.

MATCHING IN WASH COLORS

Then, of course, there can be ever so much color in the face and bath towels. These and the wash cloths can be carefully matched in color or they can harmonize, or they can just play they are a rainbow.

It is our private opinion that colorful kitchens began it. Several years ago, bright gingham curtains were used, and gradually the sad dark brown dingy kitchens of the 80's and 90's have been replaced with light clean-looking tones—that is, since we have recovered from the cold blue and white that was the last word in sanitation at one time.

COLOR IN OIL CLOTHS

Besides color in pots and pans, in the oilcloth lining our shelves, besides tinted porcelain sinks and pastel stoves, there are even new colors in the metals to add to the joy of work in the kitchen. Chromium is perhaps the chiefest of these. In one of the new waterless cookers, chromium is used for the stand that holds the top pans. Chromium appears in the shining faucets at the sink. It is further used in flatware, in percolators, waffle irons, and so on. These latter are electric fixtures. This metal is supposed to have the merit of retaining its lustre under continuous use.

Many are already using a fine aluminum and copper alloy in their flatware that has the smooth lovely texture of gold. It now is made in service plates, beakers, candlesticks, compotes and so on.

INVENTIONS FOR WIVES

Among the various inventions to assist the housewife are two deserving special mention. One of these is a commodious sink that "does almost everything," and the other is a motor combination, "that does all the other things."

The sink has a dish washer on one side and a clothes washer on the other. However, there will still be a few duties for the housewife. She will have to place the dishes in the washer and take them out and put them away. But there, why should one poke fun at the statement that it "does almost everything?" The clothes washer is a small one and is intended for the smaller, lighter, and finer things. In the centre portion is a deep sink with a special holder for catching debris from vegetables, etc., that may be lifted out and cleaned. Underneath the sink are two containers that swing out. One is for brushes and cleaning fluids. The other is a garbage container to keep the unsightly drainer out of sight.

NEED FOR INCINERATOR

The disposal of garbage has ever been a problem. The mention of it above reminds us that there is a very good incinerator that may be installed in the basement. It is gas-fired and is planned to do away with odors and unsanitary disposal arrangements.

The other kitchen help that "does everything else" is an electric fixture that enables one to use a motor for many hand operations. This piece of equipment can be used for turning the ice cream freezer, for slicing vegetables, for grinding meat, or to grind coffee. There is no question about the motor-driven appliance saving much of the housewife's time and energy.

And what shall she do with the energy thus saved? You ask her. She will need it all in the present busy world, and will need time off for rest as well.

LINENS TAKE PROPER PLACE

Use in Home Decorative Scheme Should Be Developed to Secure Ensemble of Coverings

VASES OF IRISES ATTAIN RESULTS

Toronto women were favored recently when the Irish and Scottish Linen Damask Guild sent a representative to the city, who through the courtesy of the Robert Simpson Company, Limited, was able to address three gatherings in the large salon, which also allowed ample room for the display of tables prepared by Miss Audrey Denness Cooper, the lecturer, says The Toronto Globe.

Miss Cooper touched on the uses of linens in the various rooms of the home, telling about new printed drapery linens for living-room hangings, cushion covers, runners, etc. The suitability of linen for such purposes was stressed. The suppleness of the softly woven fabric, the gleam of light on its satiny surface and the fact that it can be laundered with other household linens is placing it in the forefront of decorating materials. Attention was also directed toward the varied hues of the wide-width linens suitable for such things as bedspreads, chaise lounge throws, etc., also the popularity of pastel-colored linens for towelling in bathroom and kitchen.

LINEN TABLE COVERINGS

The audience was conducted past the display of tables where correct linens formed the background for different arrangements of silver, china and table decorations. The loosely woven gay striped cloth for breakfast, the hand-tinted hemstitched cloths to deck the luncheon table, the plain white superb double - damask with hand-rolled hem, which Miss Cooper stated was the only correct cloth for formal dinner.

A charming luncheon table was set with Dresden china on a hand-tinted cloth with floral pattern. A centre of tea roses completed the color scheme, and we were informed that no candles should be placed on a luncheon table, as the combination of candle and daylight was harsh and unpleasant. Exclamations of delight burst from the audience at sight of a most sophisticated "after-the-theatre" table, built around a color scheme of black and white. The buffet arrangement included coffee and tea services of dull silver in the modern mode at either end. The ebony handles of the pots glowed in harmony with the dancing figure poised on an oblong base of pewter, which formed the decorating motif. The china was decorated with broad black bands, and two black tapers added to the metropolitan touch.

TABLE SET FOR ONE

A lonely looking table, with place for only one person, was yet attractive enough to entice all comers—natural linen cloth, amber goblets footed in brown, a bronze lion standing guard, and peasant pottery service gave one a bit of a thrill, and the distinct feeling that they were intruding on private property.

The bride's table was all in white—just to prove that white is always beautiful and correct. Cut glass candlesticks and goblets added an air of richness, and the detail of appointments was alone responsible for its beauty.

One charming Springtime table stressed a new seating arrangement, as artistic as it appears to be practicable. Three places are set on each side and the decorations placed at either end. On this particular table were huge amber vases of iris, a flower unsuitable for the centre of the table on account of the height, but giving a most artistic effect without any interference in this new arrangement.

CANDDELABRA AND POTTERY

Another new placing of table decoration was shown in a table set for three persons. The decorating motif was placed in the centre of the unused side (fourth side), and in the table shown was a five-armed candelabra. The new note of using figures, candelabra, odd pieces of pottery, etc., for decoration in place of flowers or fruit is sure to prove popular for some occasions.

Miss Cooper proved to the satisfaction of all present that for an artistic table one needs only dainty linens, care in placing of silver and a little ingenuity as to decoration

Day and Night Flares of Fashion

STRAIGHT and slender does the Springtime suit or dress make one seem. The outline of the figure is preserved in its slimness to a point well below the hips, where the flaring line, pleat or fullness is contrived in the skirt.

Naturally this is exaggerated in evening gowns, just as it has been for many weeks to present silhouette distinctly different, more picturesque and graceful than that of day wear. Such fullness, although present in ensembles and dresses for the daytime, is often but slightly noticeable. The two suits pictured seem almost scant in cut, but the same frontal flares appear in the skirts.

Before digressing from the subject of suits, there are a few style points in the two shown here that are worthy of calling to your attention. One is that beige fur not only makes the coat collar in the suit of beige tweed, but the belt as well, and rather a wide one at that.

The second point is the frilliness to which blouse designers have resorted in the pursuit of feminism in dress—clearly exemplified in the blouse of white batiste which is the piece de resistance of the dot printed coat and skirt of pique.

Ruffles, pleatings and flat effects in frilly collars that are worn outside the coat, are definitely characteristic of Spring in the year 1929. If you like them you may wear them with smartness to your heart's content. If you do not care for them—these furbelows are not the only tokens of style.

Cottons you need no longer question, for this season they are assuredly smart for sports, for afternoon and are seen in evening assemblages of fair women. A few fashionable metropolitan women have appeared in evening gowns of dainty and exquisitely fine cotton. One reads occasionally of their being advocated for formal occasions by the fashion wise in other lands.

This vogue, however, is but a flash in the pan, perhaps a momentary fancy, although it is easily conceived that fine batiste, organdie and the like may be unusually popular for Summer nights.

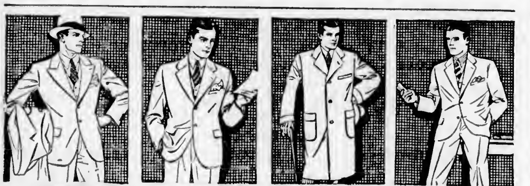

There are many fabrics competing for place in the Spring formal mode. Illustrating the charm of the last named fabric is the evening frock pictured, its skirt flaring with abandon from a snug fitting hip. It is representative also of the types of designs seen in numerous prints for formal wear, large and bold, though sometimes quite subdued in color.

A prismatic array of color was noted at a recent showing of Spring apparel, the primary colors presented as unrelated harmonizing tones and consisting of a blue with a purple cast, a soft green, a rose tone and an orange shade, the last predicted as one of the smartest colors for Spring.

NEW FOOTWEAR AWAITS BUYER

Appealing Shades of Brown Will Be Used With Tendency to Escape Extreme Tints

WING TIPS ARE WIDELY FAVORED

Generally speaking Spring in men's footwear will mean a season of brown and of custom lasts.

This information was revealed in the manufacturers' display held at the national shoe convention in Chicago during the late Winter.

In the reviewing of stocks of maker after maker it was revealed that row after row of brown footwear will mean a decided change in the color scheme of the past season when black was the dominant color.

Further information showed that while footwear for the street was conservatively styled and tenned, sport shoes take on a greater breadth of treatment, making the divison between the two classes decidedly marked.

APPEAL SHADES OF BROWN

The shades of brown to be seen this Spring apparently will have greater appeal to the average man than heretofore. In the past season the shades ranged to a light orange or even a lemon, while years back when the cordovan leather was in vogue the tone was close to a dark mahogany.

As a compromise-measure an in-between shade of the two extremes mentioned above will be offered. For that reason more and more men will take a liking to browns, for the new tones are easier cleaned and remain spotless for a greater length of time.

CUSTOM LAST FAVORED

While the custom last will dominate in most footwear there will be variations of this mode to some extent. These modifications will show a slightly blunted toe in most instances, due largely upon the British influence. In other words some of the jazzy models of other years will be among the absentees.

Wing tips in both black and tan are being favored extensively. Where straight caps are shown there will be a generous supply of punching. This again is a marked appreciation of the English style of footwear.

TRIMMED SOLES SHOWN

Another notable feature will be the trimmed soles on lightweight shoes, giving the foot a long and narrow appearance.

In sport shoes there will be shown unusual conceptions, combining suede and calfskin in odd color effects. The suede is in various shades of grey or tan, and the leather trimming are in matched tones.

Some well known makers are coming forth with a white buck shoe or galosh which closes with a single strap or buckle, and it has a black rubber sole. In other sport shoes the variety is extensive enough to satisfy every possible preference.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

The shoe style committee reports that the Oxford for informal wear will be with or without tips. Medium and narrow will be the lasts and the leathers will be patent or black calf. The heels will be of leather.

The lightweight Oxford or pump in patent leather will continue in vogue for formal wear. These will show plain toes with either medium or narrow lasts.

SCARFS MATCH HATS

Paris and New York are both in favor of the hat-and-scarf-to-match idea. With such houses at Reboux, Descat and Patou sponsoring them, the high road of fashion will be theirs. A recent import from Patou is of lipstick felt for the hat, banded by a fold of bouclette ribbon, with the narrow scarf of matching crepe bordered with the same bouclette.

The newest hats feature various types of off-the-face effects. One particularly attractive hat seen among the imports this week is of black Paris Meme, with a black satin cuff turned up off the face and pulled out in a pleat on both sides.

Types of Blouse Chic

WERE the gypsy of fashion to read your teacup, it is almost certain she would say you were to meet a blouse in your Spring ensemble. We will go further and remark that undoubtedly you will meet two—one of which will be of your own volition to effect a lightning change from tailored to dressy or vice versa.

The blouse may be attached to the skirt of the ensemble or suit you select and it may be separate and a free agent. However convenient is the former, the separate blouse idea offers many possibilities for making one suit do various duties during the day.

Perhaps you choose a suit in some shade of brown or tan—a printed crepe blouse in brown and tan is a little more colorful than a plain hue. A slenderizing style for the printed type is pictured, all edges bound in the darker tone with frilliness expressed in the loose ends of the neckline, the girdle and sleeve trimming.

Dull flat crepe in a delicate violet shade suggests many a smart contrast by way of a suit color. In the classically simple blouse shown in solid color a two-tone binding outlines the neck, the diagonal line, small pocket and cuff suggestions. Violet is but one choice, this model being shown in other colors as well.

Fine handkerchief linen in lovely pastels, such as yellow, green and blue is chic for the tuck-in tellored type. The plastron section, simulated monogram in black and roll collar in the model illustrated are details considered very modish.

CORRECT HOSIERY REFLECTS TASTE

Tone and Weave Selection Contributes to Success in Securing Distinction

So much depends upon the stockings! They can make a simple costume distinctive, likewise they may make a gorgeous gown ridiculous. They can be flattering to the wearer—or they can be suggestively libelous. Correctly chosen they become things of beauty, bringing joy to the wearer—and to the beholder. Happy indeed is the woman who has learned the gentle art of selecting her hosiery with discretion.

MUST TONE IN

Time was when there was an excuse for stockings that failed in that part of their mission which means the harmonizing of the costume, and bringing the dainty shoe into alignment with the gown. Not so this Spring! Art has been called in consultation and has placed, at Milady's disposal, hosiery more lovely in texture, more perfect in proportions, and more varied in color than ever before. Hosiery to match the gown and to carry out the color ensemble is essential. Stockings simply must "tone in."

SEMI-SERVICE

Ravishing solors in the chiffon, semi-service and service weight grades are shown in all the up-to-date Victoria shops. Shoe merchants (and who are in a better position to know?) tell us that the semi-service weight has the popular fancy, and for most occasions is ultra-smart.

TOUT ENSEMBLE

Some hose of fancy weaves and some with contrasting or blending color designs are displayed, and some have clorks in deeper color, but, generally speaking—the plainer the stocking the more elegant it is considered. Ladies of refinement, who study the "tout ensemble" demand plain weaves for both service and effect.

CORRECT COLOR

Grey-beige, honey-beige, jade-white, oyster and the rose beiges, with gunmetal and rifle-grey for wearing with black, are the most favored colors. Blue-greys and brown shades that range from a dark coffee to a faintly toasted meringue, are shown. These will be worn with the tweed suits and the printed silks of Rajah grounds. Tourterelle-beige — a "skin - tan" shade—is much in vogue in Paris for wearing with frocks of yellowish and golden tones, and with the black dinner gown. Victoria merchants who cater to the select trade, have anticipated the demands of Spring, 1929, and in our own shops may Milady select, as confidently and correctly as in Paris, the hose her costume demands.

Use of Lace

Lace has a more important role in the passing show of 1928, for it is being used extensively by the best houses for frocks for afternoon and evening, for the wraps that accompany them, and even for hats. Black lace and dotted net are smart, but the laces of the delicate tints in which white is now dipped are exceedingly lovely. An unusually handsome ensemble for afternoon is made in ecru lace with a three-quarter length coat to be worn with the one-piece gown of the same lace, which veils a garment of peach-colored taffeta. Afternoon gowns of rose and blue lace are made with uneven hems, long sleeves and open necks of either regular or irregular lines, and with no touch of trimming other than a jeweled ornament or flower.

An interesting air has been added to lace frocks this season through the subtle use of very fine hair cloth, which is a part stiffening to flounces, ruffles, tiers and side drapes. Hats also show new need for lace. Cream lace crown and insets make a sharply effective contrast on hats of black felt and fine straw, and tiny nose veils of net and lace soften the severe toques.

PLAIN MATERIALS ARE POPULAR

Simplicity Shown in Designs Utilized for Afternoon Frocks

Decided skill is required to fashion a stunning frock which leans largely on its own fabric for trimming interest. This has been done for some time, but that very fact is sufficient to almost rob the method of whatever originality might exist. Yet couturiers somehow contrive to be ever original in their ideas.

Plain materials, as our enduring crepe de Chine, georgette and crepe marocain self-trimmed, are the media most used in developing afternoon dresses, attention being directed to various lovely shades of green, porcelain tones of blue and several bright red. Black is as usual a popular choice.

Grasshopper green, repeatedly mentioned in word from Paris, is the shade in crepe marocain chosen by Germaine Lecomte for the afternoon frock displaying ingenious use of fagoting which sweeps down and around the blouse, about the U neckline and defines the hips, the points forming the centres from which very full circular insets are attached to the skirt. The cleverness of these fagoted lines is the suggestion of graceful movement common to the willowy figure.

In scarf collar dresses the newest couturier interest is created by that having one end of a scarf attached to the blouse from waistline to the V neck, and the other end flowing loose and whither it will. In a model of green wool from Bernard the scarf serves as the decorative theme, its ends encrusted with several rows of conventional designing executed in two shades of green leather.

One end of the scarf in this dress is attached at the waistline, where it is accented by a buckle of gold metal, which fastenes the leather belt, worked in two shades of green leather to match the dress trimming.

Several print frocks for Summer created by Worth also make the most of this scarf idea. Using a softer material, he extends a gathered band diagonally across the blouse front from waistline to neck, at which point it becomes a scarf and flows out into a long end, which may be draped in various ways to please the mood of the wearer.

Regardless of their continued popularity of the Winter, prints still hold the couturier interest. The combination of contrasting prints—contrasted in color rather than design—is seen to some extent. This idea is well done by Mirande in a flat crepe ensemble of three-quarter length coat and pleated skirt in a cream dot pattern on a navy blue ground, while white dots on pale green form the blouse and trimming.

Contrasting prints and plain colors as well are shown in the realm of scarfs, as in a long scarf collar, one-half of which has white dots on a navy background, and the other half has light and dark blue dots on a white silk. Jeanne Lanvin's now celebrated tie is a black scarf collar, bordered with red satin along one half, the other edged with white, creating thus an attractive melange of color when it is tied in a shoulder bow.

Queens of Fashion As Well as in State

ROYAL INFLUENCE ON MODES

Europe's royal women govern Europe's feminine styles. They are queens of fashion as well as queens of state.

This fact is most evident in Britain where Queen Mary's taste in dress is clearly defined and closely followed by English matrons. Her Majesty has realized the value of soft pastel shades to set off her hair, blue eyes and wonderful skin, and it is practically only on occasions of mourning that she is seen wearing black. This royal ban on sombre hues is reflected among elderly British women, who, before the present reign, would invariably have worn black.

One notably modern mode for which Queen Mary is responsible is that in which evening gowns are designed to suit some particular set of jewels.

FRANKLY FEMININE

The Duchess of York, wife of the second son of the British Sovereigns has a very distinct type of dress. It is she who is responsible for the present vogue of the "robe de style." Her tastes are frankly feminine.

The combined influence of these three royal women has resulted in the increased feminity of the new fashions in England and given the death blow to some styles which were mere copies of the masculine mode.

On the Continent, it is the Queen of Spain and the Queen of Rou- of Spain and the Queen of Ru- fashion.

Queen Marie has a special fondness for the "ensemble" type of dress and also for clothes which depend for their effect on some detail of handicraft.

The Queen of Norway always dresses with marked taste and rather in the French manner.

Rugs and Curtains Create Atmosphere

Floor coverings, how much they mean in beauty and comfort! They, with the hangings, create the atmosphere of a room of the home; no item is more important. With so many experts in the carpet departments of our stores it would seem hardly possible to make an error in selecting the rugs for a home, but so often errors are made. Rugs must blend in, so if you are getting a rug to fill a hole, get, not necessarily the latest style, but the thing that will best suit your room and your home—this is the way to buy rugs.

When new rugs may be placed from "cellar to attic" then buy the latest. First of all cover the floor with taupe English broadloom, and on this place "scatter-rugs," that is the ideal way. Oriental rugs are the season's favorite, but they are expensive. Of the domestic rugs, the Wiltons and Axminsters lead, and apart from the glamor of the imported there is nothing more lovely than the Canadian-made rug of Oriental design. Maroon, taupe and blue grounds are favored in the season's most expensive floor coverings, and the designs, in keeping with the tendency of the age, are decidedly modernistic.

Light draperies are the mode this Spring. Velour is giving place to sunfast silks, and gloss curtains are also designed to allow his majesty the sun to peep in.

Over-curtains are in plain shot effects, also in striped and floral designs and the color ensemble of the room is rigidly adhered to in the drapes.

Sheer gauze or net is the most chic thing in gloss curtains, and in window shades beige is taking the place of the green and cream shades that for years kept the sun from penetrating into the house.

RIBBONS POPULAR

Soft Tones Favored Compared With Styles of Earlier Days

Apron strings and ribbon sashes—what havor these have wrought with the hearts of men down the ages! Colorful smocks have come out of the artists' studios into the kitchen to oust the apron strings, so Fashion had to recall that feminine foible, the sash. Ribbons, wide and lustrous, in beautiful tints and in plain and ombre effects, are being used to adorn both frocks and hats.

GIRDLES OF SOFT RIBBON

The girdle, which appeared on a number of the advance styles for Summer, is being shown in these beautiful ribbons, sash width. These are softer in tone than last year's styles, being mostly in pastel shades and subtle color combinations. Ombre taffeta, satin and moire ribbons are especially good for girdles and sashes, as well as for odd vests in gowns of plain colors. One among the many attractive new patterns is tinted softly in rainbow colors, with a stripe of satin on a background of moire. Narrower ribbons are shown at the neck and wrists of some of the crepe and light wool frocks, and ribbons of all widths in satin, grosgrain and moire are seen in the newest millinery models.

HATS BOW-BEDECKED

Big soft, "loopy" bows of satin ribbon are the sole trimming on some of the smartest of the new wide-brimmed hats for late Spring and Summer wear. On the coarse, natural-colored straws, which are important this year, the satin bows are exceedingly interesting, both because of the sharp note of contrast and because it is many a moon since this soft kind of ribbon has been exploited by the milliner. In tight cap and modern version of the toque, ribbon is used again with telling effect. Sometimes ribbon is combined with taffete or faille, the two materials being twisted together after the modern manner in shiny and dull pattern. Ribbon is also combined with soft straws and straw jersey in smart turbans, which are draped closely about the head, but cut up to show a bit of the forehead.

GRANDFATHER CLOCK REDUCED

To Meet Requirements of Apartment Dwellers—Alarm Clocks' New Decoration

Even the "grandfather" clock has been given new interpretations, and scaled down to meet the needs of the small city apartment. And the alarm clock has not escaped untouched, either and has now been ensconced in so decorative a costume that it need no longer be kept out of view during the day, but can take its place confidently alongside of other mantel accessories without fear of marring the decorative scheme. For those with a thrifty nature, who find their old alarm good enough as a timekeeper, but should like to improve its appearance a covering has been devised which may be slipped over the clock with only the face showing. These coverings come in antiqued green and pink with smart designs, and are specially adapted to bedrooms.
